BLOOMINGTON, July 12.—Indiana Boy Scouts and Scout leaders will be guests of Indiana university for the seventh annual State Boy Scout Day Saturday, Sept. 30, the principal event for which will be the Miami vs. Indiana football game.

Application blanks for the $75 Boy Scout scholarship to Indiana university and literature giving complete details of the Scout Day program have been mailed to all Indiana Scout executives and Scoutmasters. A total of 5,623 Scouts registered for the 1932 Scout Day program at I. U.

The day's program will get underway at 7 a. m. with reception in the field house, which will be headquarters for the Scouts. All troops must register immediately upon arriving, according to Frank R. Elliott, I. U. director of publicity.

Scholarship To Be Given

Sightseeing tours of the campus will leave the field house every 15 minutes. At 10, awards committee will meet in the office of President William Lowe Bryan to select the winner of the Scout scholarship. Candidates will appear before the committee at this time.

From 8 to 11:30, there will be swimming in the men's pool of the gymnasium. At 11:30, there will be a special luncheon program in the field house. Sandwiches, ice cream, and drinks will be obtainable at the Boy Scout scholarship stand in the field house. The proceeds from which will go to the scholarship fund. The luncheon program is a new feature of Scout Day at the university. The stand is operated by the Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary Scout leaders fraternity.

Parade Through Campus

At 12:45, Scouts will assemble on the golf links with banners, bands, and drum corps for the big parade through the university campus, the downtown district of Bloomington and back to the west gate of the stadium. At 2, they will enter the stadium and pass in review around the field, and will sit in seats reserved for them on the north side. Awards will be made the troops having the most Scoutlike appearance.

While Scout Day is set officially only for one day, Saturday, Sept. 30, troops coming from a distance and other troops desiring to do so will be welcome Friday night for the circus in the field house to be given by White River council. Troops bringing bedding will be welcome to use the men's gymnasium and field house Friday night.
