PENCE HOOKS
WHOPPERS AT LAKE WEBSTER

Other Good Catches Made by Fishermen in Sugar Creek.

Bob Pence again produced his limit on Lake Webster over the week-end, and as usual at this lake they were whoppers. Pence has been fishing this lake for a long time, and when he returns without the fish, all other anglers stay off of the lake, certain that it would be useless to try.

Oliver W. Zoeller, his wife, and Mrs. T. Smith of Indianapolis turned in a real catch in Sugar creek, between Cumberland and Greenfield, taking five large mouth bass that averaged better than two pounds. They also took a fine mess of redeye and sunfish, and a carp that passed the six-pound mark.

As early as 5 o'clock Sunday morning, E. W. Berger and L. G. Simmons of the Chevrolet Motor Car Company could be found casting on White river, north of Broad Ripple. The way we get it, the boys were slaying them, too.

The two Hildwein brothers from South East street will swear by Blue river from now on, as both returned with their limit Sunday. The bass were biting like sunfish for them, on live minnows, and they returned twenty to the stream, after the limit was caught.

Leo Becker, 3707 Hawthorne lane, caught a twenty-one-inch bass, weighing 4½ pounds, at the Arlington tourist camp, thirty-five miles southeast of the city, Sunday. Becker was using a Shannon spinner when he landed this big one.

The bass are biting slowly at Sylvan lake, but the anglers are having plenty of sport with bluegill, crappie and perch, these fish biting fast.

The Elkhardt river, one of the best in the northern part of the state, has failed the angler with the exception of a few spots. Flood conditions in the spring are being blamed for the poor sport.

Southern Indiana waters that are giving the fisherman a good time are Log, Big, Graham, Louis, Sand and Big Lodge creeks and the Muscatuck river. Good catches also are reported from Painter creek.

The universal license law is being observed, game wardens from all parts of the state reporting all anglers having the licenses in their possession. During July, La Porte county reported a sale of 1,139 licenses, and the sale so far this month also is heavy.

A non-resident license in Indiana can be obtained for $2.25. This license is good until Dec. 31, 1933. No short time license is issued in this state.

Roy Phillips, using a Tom Thumb bait on Racoon creek, took three bass weighing from one and one-half to two pounds. Phillips loves to work this stream, and who can blame him, as it is one of the best in this part of the state.

La Grange county chapter of the Izak Walton league has produced 15,000 blue gill fry in its pond this season, and placed them in lakes of that county.

A fish story from Warsaw tells of a huge trout landed by Barney Burt, coach at Manchester college, in a small creek near Atwood. After the catch was made Deputy Sheriff Joe Rovenstein confessed that he has been placing young trout in the streams near Atwood for twenty years.

Rovenstein claims that some of these trout now are so large that they readily can jump from bank to bank and the cattle are afraid to approach the water.

Rovenstein has been keeping this a deep secret, and now, with the discovery, can not enjoy his private spot, for as soon as he so much as looks at a fishing rod a flock of his cronies reach for their rods, and are ready to trail him.

One bridge on Road 59, near Clay City, Clay county, awarded to W. H. Rupert, Brazil, for $2,756.17.

JUDGE WARNS AGAINST USING SIDEWALK RADIOS

Seldom-Used Law Is Invoked in Arrest of Trio.

A seldom-used section of the municipal code governing public nuisances was invoked Tuesday in municipal court three when Judge Dewey E. Myers warned against the use of sidewalk radios with loud speakers as advertising.

Traffic Captain Louis Johnson and Traffic Lieutenant Eugene Shine arrested Harold Baker, 1242 South Meridian street, and Martin Mangidson, Beech Grove, employees of shoe shops at 257 East Washington and 109 South Illinois streets, respectively.

The officers said both men had disregarded orders to stop using the loud speakers about which pedestrians had complained. Myers told both men they would be re-arrested and fined, if the noise continues.

COMPLETE CITY PLANT

U. S. Funds Will Be Used to Finish Disposal Structure.

Members of the sanitary board Tuesday finally approved plans for expenditure of $395,000 in federal funds for completion of the disposal plant south of the city.

This step was the first of many to be taken by the board in an effort to obtain funds from the federal government under its public works plan. Notice of the approval will be advertised and a public hearing will be held Aug. 8.

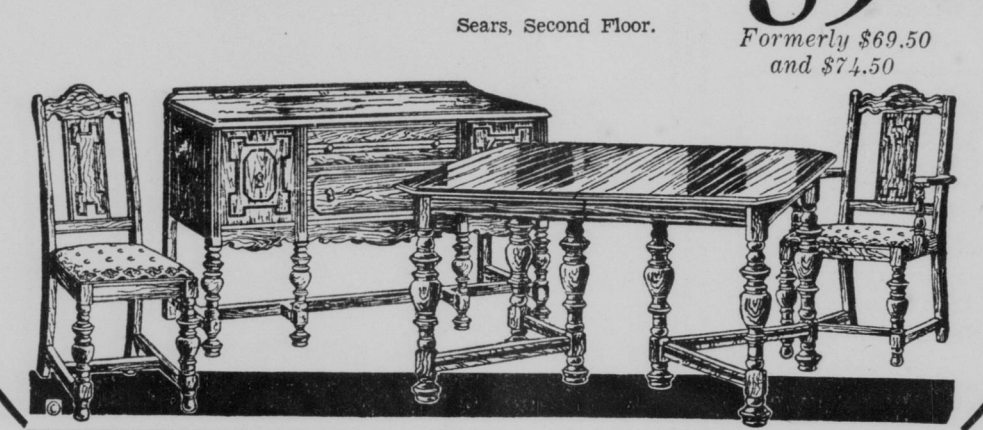

The plans, drawn by Charles H. Hurd, has laid dormant in the city engineer's file for years because money was not available. They were approved tentatively several years ago by the government.
