

G. O. P. CHIEFS DECIDE TO HOLD UP VOTE DRIVE

Finally Conclude to Wait,
Quit Sniping Attack
on Roosevelt.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Despite the desire of Republican leaders to get an early start on plans for next year's congressional elections, they have concluded to wait until next winter to reorganize the national committee.

Many party leaders have advised, also, that the recently launched program of sniping at President Roosevelt be abandoned because of its unpopularity with the Republican rank and file. Attacks on the president by G. O. P. Chairman Everett Sanders, House Republican Leader Bertrand Snell, Senator David Reed of Pennsylvania and others are described as out of tune with the country's sentiment.

Meanwhile, many party leaders, while advocating the retirement of Sanders, are unable to agree upon his successor.

Watson Is in Race
Former Senator James E. Watson of Indiana would like to become chairman. So would former Senator Hiram Moses of New Hampshire, former Vice-President Charles Curtis, former Senator Walter Edge of New Jersey and Charles D. Hilles, of New York national committeeman. Another one mentioned is Frank D. Knox, Chicago publisher. Pending the formal election a quiet campaign is afoot for each.

The impression prevails in some Republican quarters that Sanders, having lost the Hoover campaign last fall, should voluntarily retire and many Republican spokesmen are hopeful that he will step out. Republican partisans are being compared to partisan baseball fans.

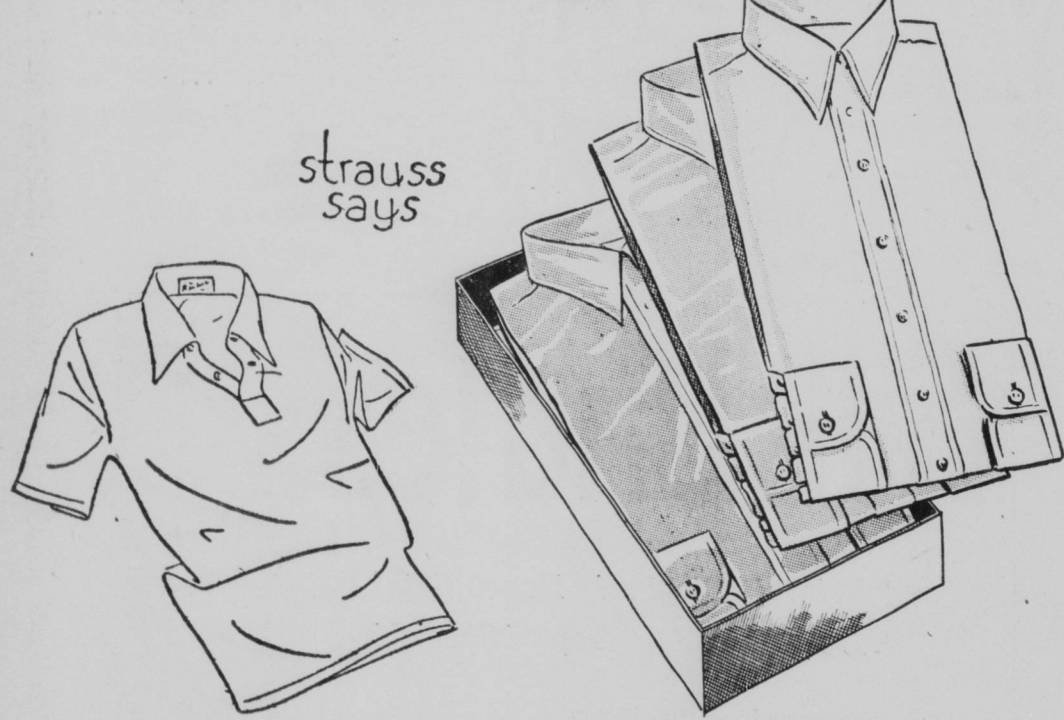

McNary Is Admired
When the team is winning the manager is a grand fellow, but when the team is losing they demand his scalp. Sanders, it is said, should bench himself, not only because his team lost, but because his subsequent policies are unpopular with the customers.

The attitude of senate Republican Leader Charles E. McNary (Oregon) is being contrasted to that of the fault-finding policy of the national committee. McNary not only refused to indulge in criticism, but he has refused to appoint a senate campaign committee.

Light on former President Hoover's future political course may be supplied when Senator Reed returns to Washington. Reed will be Mr. Hoover's guest at San Francisco and Palo Alto beginning July 27.

Found Unconscious on Porch
William Francis Steele, 34, of 518 East Morris street, was removed to city hospital early today suffering from lacerations of the face after he had been found lying unconscious on the front porch of his home by his mother, Mrs. William Steele. Mrs. Steele told police that her son had been taken ill.

JIM FERGUSON PLUM-HUNTING' AT WASHINGTON

Texas Anxious to Get Firm Grip on Patronage for His State.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Jim Ferguson, dressed in familiar mo-hair suit, lolled back in a comfortable chair at the swanky Mayflower hotel, pulled one foot up to rest on the other knee, fingered his shoe-strings and talked about prohibition, patronage and minor politics.

He wore the same sort of black string tie and low collar that Texas has seen for a generation. Across his broad expanse of spotted white shirt front spread a gold watch chain that would support an anchor.

And he loved he hadn't come to Washington with a sack open to catch federal patronage plums. But Democratic patronage ought to be Democratic and the Ferguson administration is Democratic. Evidently, Jim Ferguson in the future wants to be consulted about Texas patronage.

But Texas Jim runs up against Washington Jim—Jim Farley, postmaster general and national Democratic chairman. And he bumps into Vice-President John Garner, Texas patronage czar.

Jim, whose impeachment as governor years ago put him back in Texas politics stronger than ever instead of eliminating him, helped defeat Farley's effort to have Mr. Garner appointed Texas Democratic national committeeman when Jed Adams, incumbent, was made a judge of the United States court of appeals. Now Adams is both judge and patronage referee.

Jim Ferguson wants this changed, and his own man, C. C. McDonald, made committeeman.

Adams and Mr. Garner are irritating him on another score. The former is known as a prohibitionist.

CITY MAY GET PUBLIC WORKS HEADQUARTERS

Van Nuys Asks That Drive

Directed Here.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Roosevelt and Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes today were asked by Senator Frederick Van Nuys to designate Indianapolis as the headquarters of the third federal public works region.

The region, mapped out by Secretary Ickes, federal public works administrator, includes Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio.

Indianapolis is nearer than any other metropolis to the geographical center of this region.

An advisory committee of three Hoosiers will be appointed to pass and Jim believes he is embarrassing the Rooseveltian repeal movement in Texas. Mr. Garner is fishing in Uvalde, and thus far hasn't taken any hand to see that his own state supports the Democratic platform upon which he was elected.

Jim's sort of assistant Governor down in Texas now. His wife, Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson is in the midst of her term as the state's chief executive.

Her husband is here as her representative, which recalls one of the slogans in the last Texas gubernatorial campaign. Then voters were urged to vote for Ma, and "get two governors for the price of one."

By United Press
LEBANON, Ind., July 14.—Robert Moore, 23, South Sioux City, Neb., died in Witham hospital here today from burns received when his pusher model airplane crashed late Thursday.

In addition to receiving burns on his head and arms, Moore inhaled fumes from the blazing gasoline.

Moore was on his way to Indianapolis to compete in the American Legion air show scheduled Saturday and Sunday. His plane was new, but was a replica of the one which Orville Wright first flew.

Moore said his motor began missing about ten miles from Lebanon. He landed safely, but the plane rolled into a weed-filled ditch, overturned and burst into flames. It was demolished.

Smash the Chains of Weakness and Ill Health! Weak Rundown People Gain New Power!

Feel Strength, Vigor of Blood and Nerves Sweep Back; Thin, Weak, Rundown Folks Quickly Gain Pounds of Fine, Solid Flesh, New Strength, Vigor—Gift of Winelike VIGOVITE Elixir
Doctor Advises New Elixir Which Gives You the 4 Vital Blood Minerals: Stimulates Nerves, Stomach and Bowels

IF YOU are over-thin, weak, pale, nervous, bilious and constipated; tortured by headaches, aches or distress in the stomach or back; torn by acid, gassy indigestion, bad breath, dizziness and sleeplessness—be warned in time! Doctors and food authorities warn that such troubles may often lead to wasting dangerous illness. They say that you are not getting the necessary vital minerals, without which your blood grows weak and thin, your nerves shaky, every vital organ may falter, your skin may become sallow, pimply and ugly, your cheeks hollow and your eyes dull.

Says Dr. Gamble M. O'Malley, New York stomach and nerve specialist: "All too many skinny, pale, half-sick rundown men and women today stand on the brink of high blood pressure, heart trouble, diabetes or some grave kidney disease simply because their blood is starved for the four vital blood minerals. They are actually growing old-looking before their time by a process I call 'mineral starvation.' In my practice I have found that new VIGOVITE Elixir is an ideal combination for such persons. It contains just the right balance of iron, copper, calcium and phosphorus that go to make strong blood, calm nerves and tireless muscles; and what I consider specially important, it speeds the vital stimulation to the stomach and bowels and stops acid indigestion and chronic constipation. Dozens of my patients respond with remarkable promptness to this splendid elixir, showing gratifying weight increases."

Perhaps for the first time a really effective source of these four vital blood minerals, and stomach and bowel activators, are combined in pleasant-tasting form, for VIGOVITE has a flavor much like a rare old wine. It's truly amazing, the feeling of swift, new strength, energy and happiness you feel. In the very first few days you seem to thrill to new strength surging through your body. Appetite takes on a keen edge, food digests better, instead of souring and causing those awful gas bloatings and bad breath; constipation, blinding headaches and biliousness should clear up; nerves grow calm and strong; sleep refreshes you and your complexion often becomes clear, rosy, attractive; eyes sparkle with health. You can work from dawn to dark without tiring.

Almost before you realize it, you are taking on pounds and pounds of sound, becoming flesh. You look, feel and act years younger. Every pleasure gives you greater joy.

Don't be embarrassed any longer by a skinny, weak body that invites disease, or that at best draws ridicule on the beach. Don't put up with an ugly pimply blotched or sallow skin and hollow cheeks. Get the four vital blood minerals which send new health surging through your blood and stop those constipation, poisons, headaches, sluggish liver and kidneys. VIGOVITE, the wine-like elixir, will help you or it won't cost you a penny.
