the weight of fist or cane or the meager diet of bread and water in the "hole."

Smart's affidavit says, "I have seen both — and Dr. Gillespie give the men a purge, make them take it, and then laugh about it."

Given Cursory Test

When a new inmate of the farm steps up from the bus or auto that brought him to its portals, he undergoes cursory physical examination that depends for the most part on the bill of health sent to the farm with him and signed by the county doctor from where he was sentenced.

The inmate's throat is swabbed for germs of disease.

The examination is not pleasant. Any one familiar with epidemic scars knows the "gagging" feeling when having his throat swabbed.

Thomas Bland, Negro, of 619 North West street, was a "fresh fish" at the farm around March 11. Bland was sent there on the charge of stealing a sack of coal. The farm was no new place to him. He admits being there before.

Jaw Dislocated, He Says

On other "hitches" he served as houseman for E. L. Arment, assistant superintendent of the farm, and sometimes called "Captain" Arment by sworn statements of former inmates.

"The first day I went to the farm on this last sentence I gagged when they stuck something . . . down my throat," says Bland's sworn statement in telling of the throat examination.

"I made the doctor mad (he refers to the man in charge of the hospital's laboratory) when I gagged and he grabbed my jaw and knocked it out of place.

"Then," continues Bland's affidavit, "an old doctor (he probably refers to Doctor Gillespie, the farm's physician), put a couple of towels in my throat and put my jaw back in place. I had to go back to the hospital to have that done. My jaw was hurting me and I couldn't eat."

"I have seen as high as eight prisoners in chains. They were working in the quarry and the shale-pit. They were unruly prisoners," amplifies Bland's affidavit.

Charges Guard With Beating

"I have seen Guard . . . of the poultry line beat a man up with his fists. He knocked him down. I have seen Guard . . . of No. 10 labor gang knock a man down as he was coming out of the dining room. If they don't like you, they pull you out of line and hit you. You don't always have to do something to get hit," declares the former houseman of Arment, in his sworn statement.

Released from the farm on June 28, Bland reports an improvement in conditions at the farm, in his sworn statement.

"We started getting good food about a month ago when they put a fellow to work in there who used to work in . . . lunchroom in Indianapolis. . . . They have real coffee on Sunday morning, but on other mornings they don't have what's real coffee. I had eggs only once, on Easter Sunday," says Bland in his statement.

Given Better Treatment

As houseman for Arment during his sojourn at the state farm, Bland admits verbally to The Times that his treatment was better than that accorded the average prisoner.

Bland slept near Theodore Luesse, "red" agitator, on one stay in the farm and declares in his affidavit that Luesse talked Communism to him.

In the statement of Richard Gillette, Indianapolis, another former inmate of the farm, it is charged, under notary's seal, that other operations besides the one performed on Green have been done by the pseudo physician who acts as male nurse at the state farm.

Gillette's affidavit declares, "One doctor has charge of the hospital and has an assistant, a Mr. . . . This man . . . is not a physician, but on two occasions has done . . . operations. One . . . on Clarence Green of Muncie, Ind. the other an operation on the abdomen of a colored inmate. I don't recall his name. He does all the work of a physician for reason that the regular doctor doesn't stay at the farm all day . . ."

No X-Ray Equipment

The farm's hospital has no X-ray equipment for determining bone fractures or other internal injuries, statements to The Times assert.

One affidavit relates a special cell for certain types of prisoners in the hospital. It is called the "hospital jail."

Food in the hospital is of better grade and more nourishing than in the main mess hall.

It is the one place that all inmates would like to work in and the one place where the minds of the labor gangs are focused at roll call when a keeper curses and says, "Forget one — of a — in the hospital."

WORK BEGINS ON WORLD'S GREATEST BRIDGE

Following formal dedication ceremonies in which both President Roosevelt and ex-President Hoover participated, work has begun on the $75,000,000 San Francisco-Oakland bridge, greatest in the world, which eventually will give employment to 12,000 persons. The above diagram and aerial photo show the scene of the project, with San Francisco in the foreground, Yerba Buena island in the center and Oakland in the distance.

Hoover broke ground at Yerba Buena island with a golden spade, while Roosevelt pressed a telegraph key in Washington that set off dynamite blasts that started excavation at all three places.

ONE-CENT MILK PRICE HIKE IN EFFECT SUNDAY

Producers and Distributors to Operate Under New Federal Agreement.

Indianapolis area milk producers and distributors will begin Sunday to operate under a new federal code agreement, one of the first to be signed in the United States under the agricultural marketing act.

Milk prices are boosted 1 cent a quart, beginning Sunday, with the possibility of another 1-cent increase in the near future.

The price rise adds impetus to the increased cost of living in Indianapolis, which was reported Friday already is leading the field among more than fifty American cities.

Lieutenant-Governor M. Clifford Townsend worked out the code plans as Indiana's commissioner of agriculture. This is a new position, created by the 1933 legislature, with a salary of $6,000 a year.

Committees for distributors and producers signed the agreement at the Columbia Club Friday night.

Carl L. Hedges manager of the organized producers, protested that the price should have been boosted

2 cents instead of 1 cent a quart.

Independent grocers declared that a discount on large purchases favors the chain stores. All must sell at the standardized retail prices, however. They will seek to check such "favoritism" through an appeal to Washington, it was announced.

Effective Sunday prices are:
Standard Milk—Quart, 9 cents;
print, 6 cents.
Coffee Cream—Pint, 24 cents; half pint, 12 cents.
Creamed Buttermilk—Quart, 9 cents; pint, 6 cents.
Whipping Cream—Pint, 40 cents; half pint, 20 cents.

WITT, GROCER KILLER, GIVEN DEATH STAY

Execution Postponed Until Fall by High Court.

Charles Vernon Witt, slayer of Lafayette Jackson, city grocer head, who was to have been executed at the Indiana state prison next Friday, has been granted a stay of execution to Nov. 24.

The stay was signed by Chief Justice David A. Myers of the supreme court.

It was asked for by Ira Holmes, Witt's attorney, to press a petition for rehearing. The murder conviction of Witt was affirmed by the high court. A partner, Louis A. Hamilton, also received a death sentence.

The following is summarized from a letter of Mr. Julius M. Hack, President of the Old Vincennes Brewery, Inc.:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: The brewery property to be used by Old Vincennes Brewery, Inc. was formerly the Hack and Simon Brewery and was established in 1875. Mr. Julius M. Hack, President of the Company, has been identified with the management of the company for more than 40 years and is the son of one of the founders of the company. The brewery is one of the oldest, and before the advent of prohibition was one of the most successful breweries in the State of Indiana.

PLANT AND PROPERTY: The company's property is located in the City of Vincennes, on a site near the downtown section, consisting of one and one-half city blocks. When present buildings, containing refrigeration plant, brew house, stock house, storage house and ageing cellars, office, bottling house, engine house and garage are reconditioned, and the new equipment installed in accordance with the plans of the company, the property will be one of the most modernly equipped breweries in the United States. All rehabilitation work is being done under the supervision of Mr. George E. Wells, President of George E. Wells, Inc., of St. Louis, Missouri, who is an experienced brewery engineer. He was, for approximately eleven years prior to 1919, chief engineer of the Anheuser-Busch Brewery of St. Louis, Missouri. Land appraisal by Harry V. Somes, Theo. Franke, and John Weiler, as of May 31, 1933. Buildings and equipment appraisal by Geo. E. Wells, Inc., as of June 29, 1933.

TERRITORY: The Old Vincennes Brewery, Inc., holds License Number 13 in the State of Indiana. The present Indiana laws contain provisions to the effect that (based on present population) only twenty-one permits to manufacture beer can be issued in the State. The territory contiguous to Vincennes, the logical territory for this brewery, extends from Terre Haute on the north to Evansville on the south, and from Cincinnati on the east to within fifty miles of St. Louis on the west. There is no brewery within a radius of fifty miles of St. Louis on the west. There is no brewery within a radius of fifty miles north and south and approximately one hundred miles east and west.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS: Upon completion of improvements contemplated, the brewery will have an annual capacity of 100,000 barrels. Based on the estimate of an initial production of 100,000 barrels per year, and an estimated net profit of Two Dollars Fifty Cents ($2.50) per barrel, earnings should cover fixed dividend requirements on the Preference Stock more than six times, or earnings of approximately ninety-nine cents (99c) per share on both Preference and Common Stock.

PURPOSE OF THE ISSUE: To provide funds for rehabilitation of present buildings and for additional new equipment, working capital and other corporate purposes. Pending completion of present financing, funds will be deposited with THE TRUST COMPANY OF CHICAGO and used for the purposes indicated.

MANAGEMENT, PERSONNEL AND STOCK HOLDINGS: Mr. Julius M. Hack, President of the Corporation, has been connected with the present property, formerly known as "Hack and Simon Brewing Company," for over forty years and is thoroughly familiar with the brewery business, and is an outstanding brewery executive of proven ability. Owners of the Common Stock, upon completion of the present financing, with the number of shares which they will own,
