Frish Once Offered to Finance Own Sale

Giants' Fans Finally Get Steamed Up

THE baseball was now saying Frankie Frish accepted the appointment as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals "to make sure of getting out of St. Louis." It is known he tried to get himself traded or sold for two years. The catch is that any Cardinal manager has his head in the noose. Win constantly or he's snuffed out. It is said when the Giants offered $30,000 for Frish last summer to succeed John McGraw, before Bill Terry was named Giant pilot, that St. Louis demanded $50,000 and that Frankie offered to pay $20,000 of his own money to swing the deal. It was no dice.

ACCORDING to information received from the east, Bill Terry will be a candidate for the potted cell if his Giants stumble, strike a slump and lose the lead. They say Bill was red now even in a close game and in the event of a defeat in the Giant dugout and clubhouse are bad spots to be in when Terry goes delirious. And so young too. The old managerial punchdrunk. It stings nearly all pilots sooner or later.

What are the St. Paul Saints doing away up there in second place? They were in the cellar this time last year. The addition of outfielders Racecliffe and Hill and the fine batting year being enjoyed by Jeffries brought the climb.

Wonder how long Bill McKee's contract has to run? His Braves "bowed" a 10-to-2 lead Friday and lost, 13 to 12.

ALL square at the 2,772 hole! No, that's not a typographical error. It's a fact. Art Lund and Norbert Jacques of Detroit played two thousand seven hundred and seventy-two holes and finished even. They started a friendly "tournament" in 1923, staging a fifteen-game program that year which ended all even. Fifteen games were played each year for four years, and after emerging from that season all square, a five-year plan was launched. This, too, turned out all even. Lund and Jacques have played four eighteen-hole matches this year, each winning two. Wonder what kind of snuff they inhale?

From July 15 to July 20, during which he played in three full games and parts of two others, Frank Higgins didn't have a chance at third base for the Philadelphia Athletics. Maybe he didn't see 'em going by.

JOHN GANGLER, who now races horses and is well known in turf circles, will be remembered by Indianapolis bowlers. When John was a ten-pip artist he was known as Count Gangler and was red hot, and several times beat Jimmy Smith, world's champion. Gangler bowled without the orthodox grip, holding the ball in the palm of his hand.

Jack Quinn, in major league and minor league ball for years and years, went up to Detroit after the Cincy Reds released him recently and caught on with a prominent sandlot team. His first appearance there drew 8,000. It is said Old Jack pitched ball in the army around Tampa during Spanish-American war days.

MANY New York fans have gone dippy over their pennant-bound Giants. Johnny Vergez, third sacker, accidentally was "beamed" by pitcher Owen Carroll of the Dodgers the other day, and at least 1,000 Giants followers gathered outside the Polo grounds after the game to learn how badly the hot corner star was hurt. Vergez finally appeared, wearing a smile, and the crowd gave him a wild ovation.

Hornsby Enthusiastic as He Takes Charge of Brownies

By George Kirksey

United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, July 29.—It was ham and egg time when Rogers Hornsby walked into the main dining room of the Del Prado hotel Friday and made his first contact with the players of the St. Louis Browns.

He will manage for the rest of this season and the next two. Around the tables, where they sat in twos and threes, Hornsby, swaggering his old-time burlesque confidence, called to greet each player with a smile, a ball player's handshake, and a "Hello, buddy, how're ya?"

Hornsby radiated the enthusiasm of a rookie making his first appearance in the big show, and nothing at all like a man who has spent eighteen years in the National League, managed three clubs—the Cardinals, Braves and Cubs—and barely found a minor job as a utility player with the Cardinals last winter after being fired as Cubs' manager.

The players welcomed Hornsby enthusiastically. Hornsby's first move after greeting the players was to call a closed meeting of the team, at which he let them know he was "boss" and that he expected every player to give his best for him.

Hornsby's managerial motto of "you have to deliver or I'll have to get some one else" will hold good with the Browns. Hornsby will not tolerate a player who won't hustle and strive to win at all times.

There won't be any immediate changes in the last-place Browns. "I'll just get acquainted with the players for a few days," said Hornsby. "I may not make any changes in the batting order or lineup for next year, and there'll be no radical changes now."

One of the few members of the Browns whom Hornsby knows is Allan Sothorn, coach and acting manager since Bill Killefer's dismissal in Washington recently. Sothorn, who played under Hornsby when Rajah managed the Cardinals in 1926, will be retained as coach. Another coach will be added next season, Hornsby said.

Hornsby plans to be a playing-manager, but will only use himself as pinch hitter and utility fielder, he said.

Hornsby pointed out that he will not only have to get acquainted with the Browns, whom he has seen in only five games this year, but the entire American League as well.

"I'll get to see every club in action twice during the rest of the season," he said, "and I expect to study the opposing players carefully as well as my own."

British in Cup Lead

Perry Upsets Cochet and Austin Beats Merlin; Doubles Today.

By Times Special

AUTEUIL, France, July 29.—England's Davis Cup forces virtually guaranteed the removal of the famed international tennis trophy across the channel by scoring a clean sweep of the first two singles matches Friday in the challenge round with France.

France was favored to capture the doubles event today, with Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon facing G. P. Hughes and either Fred Perry or H. G. N. Lee.

Bunny Austin trounced the youngster, Andre Merlin, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0, and Fred Perry, British ace, defeated the once-mighty Henri Cochet, 8-10, 6-4, 8-6, 3-6, 6-3, in Friday's singles.

Singles play will be resumed Sunday, with Austin facing Cochet. Perry probably will meet Merlin, although Jean Borotra may be drafted for singles in an attempt to keep the trophy for the sixth year in France.

Swim Beauty

More Than 22,000 Jam Stadium as Indians Wallop

Colonels: Chapman, Layne, Daglia Shine; Single

Tilt Tonight, Double-Header Sunday Carded.

BY EDDIE ASH

Times Sports Editor

Red Killefer's Indians were welcomed home in such a big way at Perry stadium Friday night that an attendance record was established for the huge structure and the builder of the stadium, Owner Norman A. Perry, found it a difficult matter to find a parking place and seat for himself. It was "appreciation night" at the Tribe park and the fans fairly swarmed over the place, overflowing the field and making around rules necessary. The gate count was announced as 22,153, which included several thousand women and lads and lassies admitted free.

The Indian pastimers swelled up to the bursting point when they took a look at the record throe and it was just too bad for the Louisville Colonels, the home team trouncing the Kentuckians, 9 to 2, with Pete Daglia uncorking a great game on the Tribe mound.

Big Pete blanked the visitors until the ninth and held them to five hits up to the final stanza. Indianapolis collected fifteen blows, including seven doubles and a home run. Pete Chapman sent the horse-hoed soaring out of the park in the eighth with Layne on base.

Four Hits for Herman
Layne made merry at the expense of his old mates by playing like a race horse runs. He slapped out two doubles and two singles, scored three runs, batted in one, stole one base and covered left field in brilliant fashion. Herman was released by Louisville a few weeks ago.

Phil Weinert, Colonel southpaw, was knocked out of the box in the fifth round and Claude Jonnard relieved and finished. Phil was touched for ten safeties during his stretch. His into the crowd on the field went for two bases and there was a long argument in the fifth when Chapman caught a drive by Wanninger at the edge of the over-flow in left field and backed into the crowd before his "brakes" held. At first the umpires called it a two-bagger, then changed their ruling and permitted the catch. Manager Bruno Betzel made a long oration of protest, but lost the decision to Red Killefer.

Twin Bill on Sabbath
Indians and Colonels will battle under the lights again tonight at 8:15, with regular prices prevailing. Forty cents was the rate to the grandstand Friday at the homecoming. It will be fifty cents for women tonight, seventy-five cents for men and forty cents in the bleachers. On Sunday afternoon the teams will clash in a double-header to end the series, first tilt at 2 p. m. The Indians will visit Louisville following the Sabbath games.

Pete Chapman's homer Friday cleared the left field wall. The Richmond youth also socked a double and single, scored two markers and batted in three. He was clipped on the hand by a pitched ball in the first and the bruise was painful, but shook it off, stayed in action and went on to fill a feature role.

All of the Indians got one or more base hits but Ernie Wingard had a tough time seeing them. Ernie gave his best, but on his other four trips to the plate struck out. The lanky Indian turned in a good fielding game around the first sack.

Many Fans Turn Back
Traffic on Indiana avenue and in the south Riverside district became heavy long before game time. The early fans headed for the stadium minutes ahead of the contest. Hundreds of fans milled around the entrance, learned of the record throng inside and turned back to the city. On the field the overflow extended from the dugouts, down the foul lines and back of the outfielders around the park.

Frank Sigafos received a merchandise gift of $5 from the Knot Hole Gang and he was extremely proud of it. The lads had planned to make the presentation several weeks ago when rain washed out the "Sigafos night game." "Sigie" said he certainly appreciated the gift, coming from the "little fellows."

3 JUDGES TO SCORE
STATE FISTIC EVENTS
A plan to use three judges for deciding boxing matches in Indiana, Monday night, at Terre Haute athletic commission, announced today.

Under the present system, two judges and the referee keep score cards. When judges disagree as to the outcome, the referee's vote decides the match. The three-judge plan will also be tried at Evansville and Indianapolis next week.

14 EVENTS ON PROGRAM
Fourteen events will form the program of the fourth city recreational department swimming meet to be held at Willard pool at 2 p. m. Sunday.

There will be seven events for boys and seven for girls. Rhodius' evenly balanced team has won the first three swimming meets held at city pools this season.

WINS TWO TROT RACES
SALEM, N. H., July 29.—Bertha C. Hanover's double victory featured Friday's program of Grand Circuit races at Rockingham park.

The filly, owned by the Hanover farms, Pennsylvania, easily was the best of the 2-year-olds she faced in each one-mile trot. Tom Berry was her driver in both performances. Muscletone finished second each time.
