

LOOT VALUED AT $400 TAKEN BY BURGLARS

Two Suspects Are Under Arrest as Among Night Prowlers Here.

Police today reported that burglars had obtained loot valued at more than $400 in various parts of the city during the night. Two burglar suspects are under arrest and were to be questioned today by detectives.

Max Berkowitz, owner of a grocery at 501 Agnes street, was reported to be considering advertising for the burglar who robbed his store to bring back what he took and take the remainder.

Police found the front window of the grocery cut. Berkowitz, notified, came to the store and after a check-up reported the following taken: Two hams, a twenty-five-pound bacon, a case of eggs, six cartons of cigarettes, $5 worth of butter, two bushels of potatoes, a fifty-pound can of lard, and fifty pennies from the cash register.

Plumbing Fixtures Taken

Plumbing and electric fixtures valued at $150 were stolen from three vacant houses at 2305, 2307 and 2309 Indianapolis avenue, Harry B. Underwood, 707 State Life building, reported to police. The buildings are owned by the Railroaders' Building and Loan Association.

Clothing valued at more than $45 was stolen Wednesday from her home while she was absent, Mrs. Lawrence Gioscio, 135½ North Noble street, informed police. The house had been ransacked.

An electric drill, costing $30, was stolen from his garage Wednesday night, Charles Best, 1830 Lexington avenue, reported.

Garage Is Looted

Two baby buggies and children's furniture, with a total value of $23, were taken from the garage at her home. Mrs. Mabel Webber, 913 South Missouri street, informed police.

Kind deeds sometimes do not pay. Mr. and Mrs. John Riddle, Seventy-third street and State Road 31, have discovered. Tuesday night they allowed a hitch-hiker to stay overnight at their home.

He left before dawn, they reported, taking with him two suits, an overcoat, a pair of white flannel trousers, a raincoat, several pairs of new pajamas, several new shirts, and a 32-caliber revolver. Total value was more than $125. Riddle reported.

Suspect Is Nabbed

Called to Walnut street and Senate avenue on a report somebody was attempting to break into the Circle City Rubber Company, 630 North Senate avenue, police arrested Ed M. Bodine 43, Negro, 1810 Northwestern avenue, and Jasper Allen, 23, Negro, 834 Roanoke street, as burglar suspects.

A rear door at the A. B. Keppert Company, 62 North Senate avenue, was found broken open and the office completely ransacked. Both men denied they had been in the place, but were taken to police headquarters for questioning.

$2,500 IS PARED FROM COUNTY ELECTION FUND

Total of $78,925 sought by Council for 1934 Balloting.

Election expenses for Marion county in 1934 will be $2,500 less than in the 1932-1933 budget.

County commissioners, in compiling their new budget for the ensuing fiscal year, today had set the primary election cost at $43,000 and general election at $24,485.

The commissioners' total estimated expenditures to be placed before the county council for approval is $1,049,763.50. This figure includes the $104,000 for the registration of voters, the general and primary elections, and the cost of the old pension act in the county.

Electoral expenses have been estimated as high as $100,000 to $120,000. The cut to a $78,925 total for the primary and general balloting will aid in reducing the estimated 12-cent-tax rate increase about one cent per $100.

Reduced valuations, however, are expected to absorb any possible benefit the county may gain in the slight decrease in election cost.

TROOP 69 SCOUT IS AWARDED EAGLE RANK

James Simmons Is Given Title at Court of Honor.

James Simmons, Troop 69 Boy Scout, was awarded the Eagle Scout badge, denoting the highest rank in scouting, at the court of honor held Wednesday night in the Cropsey room of the library.

Among other special awards attained by scouts at the court of honor were the Life Scout badges given to Clark Russell, Troop 3; Malcolm McVie, Troop 18, and Thomas Wyman, Troop 36.

Those that attained the rank of Star Scout were Edwin Krug, Troop 45, and James Brown, Troop 55.

Thirty-four troops were represented at the court, and 129 merit awards were made.

AWARD CONTRACTS FOR WORK IN CITY SCHOOLS

Boiler Installation, Purchase of Printing Forms Ordered by Board.

Contracts for the installation of boiler tubes and for printing forms were awarded by the Indianapolis school board Wednesday.

M. E. Howard, on a bid of $299.75, was given the contract to install boiler heaters at School 51.

The Clegg Company will install forms at Arsenal Technical, Shortridge and Emerich Manual Training high schools. Their total bid for the three jobs amounted to $999.83.

The Brand Printing Company, with a total bid of $268.95, will install the forms at Broad Ripple and Crispus Attucks high schools.

AUTO ACCIDENTS CLAIM LIVES OF 2 CITY PERSONS

Mother of City Policeman Injured Fatally; Toll for Year Is 74.

Marion county's traffic death list since Jan. 1 had mounted to seventy-four today, the result of two deaths Wednesday from automobile accidents.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hawley, 71, of 975½ Stillwell street, mother of traffic patrolman C. C. Crouch, was killed Wednesday afternoon when the automobile in which she was a passenger skidded over a Southport overture and crashed into a fence.

Mrs. Hawley had accompanied Mrs. Barbara McKee, 71, of 2323 North Gale street, Wilbur Lindsey, 46, of Waymaville, and Charles F. Scholtz, Marion county infirmary head, to Brown county and they were returning when the tragedy occurred.

A midget automobile stopped suddenly at the Indiana Railway Company crossing in Southport, and Scholtz, who was driving, was forced to apply the brakes hurriedly. The car skidded on blacktop pavement, overturned, and careened into the fence.

Succumbs in Ambulance

Mrs. Hawley died in an ambulance en route to city hospital. Mrs. McKee, suffering from severe lacerations and bruises, was taken to the hospital. Lindsay and Scholtz suffered only minor injuries.

The car Scholtz was driving was Marion county car No. 14. The midget car left the scene, the driver failing to reveal his identity.

Mrs. Hawley was the widow of Frank T. Hawley. Her first husband, Addison M. Crouch, died many years ago. A resident of Indianapolis forty-five years, Mrs. Hawley was born in Acadia.

Burial at Crown Hill

She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, and the Third Christian church. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 at the Little & Sons funeral home. Burial will be at Crown Hill.

Seventy-third traffic death of the year came earlier Wednesday when Thomas McGruder, 55, Negro, 1258 West Twenty-sixth street, died at city hospital. He had been injured Tuesday when he walked into the side of an automobile in the 1800 block, North Capitol avenue.

PROTECTING Margot," by Alice Grant Rosman, is a pleasant little story about the unmitigated nuisance that one of these managing women can make of herself.

Margot, in this tale, is a middle-aged Englishwoman of means who lives by herself in a house in London. When she was young her husband had run away with another woman, and all her relatives—in particular an officious and often vicious sister-in-law—had rallied round at once to protect her from the cruel world.

As a result, the poor old girl could hardly call her soul her own. She could have had a good time if people had left her alone, but they wouldn't think of it. Margot needed to be looked after, and they were only too ready to do it—especially since they could sponge on her great wealth while they were doing it.

All of this comes to a head when Margot's cousin, a young man some twenty years her junior, returns to London from India, jobless and broke. He and Margot become allies, and between them, at last, they confound the other relatives and Margot wins her freedom.

And after reading this book, and reflecting on other English novels, your reviewer is moved to wonder if there is on earth any form of life quite as disagreeable as the upper-class Englishwoman of uncertain years. Certainly the ones that get into novels nowadays are enough to make one despair of the future of the empire.

This book is published by Minton, Balch and Co. for $2.
