

KHORASSANS OPEN SESSIONS AT SOUTH BEND

Thousands From U. S. and Canada Mass for 5-Day
Meeting.

By Times Special
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 7.—Thousands of members of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan from throughout the United States and Canada converged upon this city Sunday and today to attend the annual imperial council session which opened here today for a five-day meeting.

A large delegation from Indianapolis, headed by Carl R. Mitchell, Robert E. Long, Charles M. McCollum, F. B. Neff and Guy Strickler, arrived this morning, and were accorded a welcome by William F. Quails, royal viceroy of the northern Indiana crescent of "Dokies."

One of the largest delegations to travel any great distance for the session was a group of 200 members from the eight temples of D. O. K. K. in Texas, who arrived early this morning by special train.

Reception at Night

Committees in charge of entertainment and business affairs for the session, following registration of all delegates and their families at the Oliver Hotel, and unit registration at the Chamber of Commerce building, launched their programs which will continue through Friday.

A sightseeing tour took up most of this afternoon. All members and their families were to attend an informal dance and reception tonight at Playground park gardens.

Public opening of the imperial palace will be held Tuesday at the Oliver. Mitchell will be temporary chairman. Invocation will be given by the Rev. Lawrence Ferguson and Governor Paul V. McNutt will welcome delegates to Indiana.

Present City's Keys

Keys to the city will then be presented to the guests by Mayor W. R. Hinkle of South Bend. Response to the address of welcome will be made by Fred E. Bruni, imperial prince. Benediction will be given by the Rev. Waldemar Goffney.

Greetings from the Governor and mayor will be followed by the official opening of the imperial palace executive session, at which time election of officers will be held. Luncheon will be served at noon.

Zouave contests will be held Tuesday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. A band concert and exhibition drill will be staged in the streets, in front of the courthouse.

Pasha to Be Speaker

Harry A. Schorber, imperial pasha, will address the delegates Wednesday morning. A drum corps contest, an informal banquet and illuminated parade will conclude the day.

The Pythian Home band of Lafayette will arrive in town at noon Wednesday and will present an afternoon concert. The children also will take part in the parade, which will be staged after dark.

The last two days of the session will be spent in attending banquets, band concerts and a ceremonial by a divan composed of members of the imperial palace at the Palais Royale.

Want Ads Accepted Until 10 P. M. Appear in All Editions Next Day!

After having completed an analysis of the various methods employed by leading newspapers in the country on their methods of handling want ads... The Indianapolis Times announces a new deadline arrangement for accepting Times Want Ads.

Effective Saturday, July 1st, all wants received as late as 10 P. M. will appear in ALL EDITIONS on the following day.

The past method of The Times has been to publish new ads in the Home Edition and carry the ads over into the following morning editions. Under the new arrangement, want ad advertisers will receive the benefit of the full impact of their message before readers on the same day.

Ads starting in the morning editions will reach suburban and out of town readers on the same day... adding the element of timeliness to the ads.

Death Notices, Lost and Found Ads and Help Ads will be accepted until 8 a. m. for publication in the first edition and again until 12:15 p. m. for publication in the Home Edition.
