

STATE EAGLES DRAW HONORS AT CONVENTION

Indiana Aeries Represented in Numerous Fields of Activity.

Liberal shares of honors was accorded Indiana members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles during the national convention which closed at Cleveland, O., last week.

J. Pierce Cummings, twice president of Indianapolis aerie, was re-elected a national trustee. He was re-elected secretary of the trustees board, and also chosen again as insurance department secretary. Representative Louis Ludlow, local aerie member, was one of the speakers on the program.

Among women's drill teams, first place was won by the team of Kokomo aerie, and Anderson auxiliary was fifth, while the men's team of Peru aerie won third place in competition among male teams.

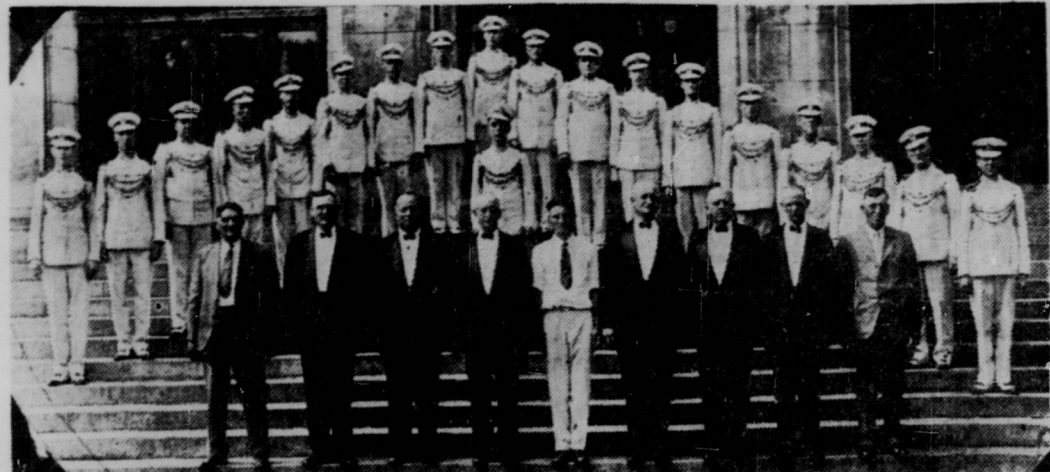

Grover V. Camden was the delegate of Indianapolis aerie, while the Indiana state aerie was represented by Raymond J. Journey of Portland, past state president.

Pension Pens Displayed

Other city Eagles attending were Otto Pe Deluse, past national president of the order and chairman of the state old-age pension commission; Jacob L. Smith, local aerie treasurer, and John J. Pfarr, inside guard.

Among judges of the men's drill team competition was Charles F. Stewart of Kokomo, state president.

Of particular interest at the convention was a display of pens used by Governors of twenty-three states in signing old-age pension bills sponsored by the Eagles. Among the pens was one used by Governor Paul V. McNutt in affixing his signature to Indiana's pension bill passed by the 1933 legislature.

HAVANA RIOTS ARE SEEN IN NEWS REEL

Air Party and Plane Crash
Are Other Features.

Dramatic and exciting scenes in Havana, as troops take possession of the streets, dispersing rioters and carrying out President Machado's orders by establishing martial law in the capital, are to be seen in the current issue of The Indianapolis Times Universal News Reel.

Charging through the streets while rioters run frantically to escape, the soldiers are seen in one of the many clashes that have marked the present revolution.

Other important events include exclusive pictures of a unique air party staged in a giant airplane high over New York City by Amelia Earhart, noted aviatrix, in honor of Captain and Mrs. Molison, intrepid British trans-atlantic fliers, and exclusive views of the odd accident that damaged Captain Charles T. P. Um's airplane at Portmarnock, Ireland, he was preparing for his take-off to New York on world flight.

City theaters showing The Times-Universal film are the Zaring, Howard, Alamo, Garfield, Roosevelt, Rivoli, Tacoma, and Indiana theater (for colored), 410 Indiana avenue.

Pep Meeting for Lodge

King David lodge, No. 897, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Beech Grove, will hold a pep meeting Wednesday night at 8, George P. Bornwasser, grand secretary of the grand lodge of Indiana, I. O. O. F., will speak.

This was brought out forcibly recently in the following hand played in a tournament.

South, the dealer, started the contracting with one club. West overcalled with one spade, and North showed the strength of his hand with a bid of one no trump.

East should not bid diamonds—against a no trump contract he has a very fine suit to open. However, several East players made the mistake of showing the diamonds, and here is what happened.

After the bid of two diamonds, South would bid two hearts. West would pass, and now from North's hand it looks as though his partner held four hearts and six clubs. If South held two diamonds and a singleton spade, a slam contract could be defeated.

East's bid of two diamonds gave North a chance to make a very fine cue bid, so he overcalled the two heart bid with three diamonds—this

Contract Bridge

By W. E. McKENNEY
Secretary American Bridge League

SOME contract players appear to think that the smart thing to do is to bid any suit they hold in order to interfere with the bidding of the opponents. However, this generally results in an unfavorable manner.

When the opponents, by their bidding, show that they hold strong hands, it often pays to conceal your suit, especially if the rest of your hand is very weak. Otherwise, the bidding of this may be the only thing which will enable your opponent to arrive at the correct contract.

This was brought out forcibly recently in the following hand played in a tournament.

South, the dealer, started the contracting with one club. West overcalled with one spade, and North showed the strength of his hand with a bid of one no trump.

East should not bid diamonds—against a no trump contract he has a very fine suit to open. However, several East players made the mistake of showing the diamonds, and here is what happened.

After the bid of two diamonds, South would bid two hearts. West would pass, and now from North's hand it looks as though his partner held four hearts and six clubs. If South held two diamonds and a singleton spade, a slam contract could be defeated.

BEN-HUR HEAD INSPECTS FIELD FORCE IN CITY

Sounds Plea for Growth of Order in Talk at Initiation.

"Let's make the Indianapolis court the largest in the United States," was the appeal of John C. Snyder, Crawfordsville, national president of the Ben-Hur Life Association, in an address before members of Arris Court, No. 5, here Wednesday night.

Occasion of Snyder's visit was to inspect the new field force system recently inaugurated here, through which he expects to bring the local court of the order to the top.

The field force began work here several months ago, with only four representatives, working under direction of W. M. McGehee and Burt E. Kimmel, scribe of the local court.

First month of the system worked effectively, bringing in more than twenty-five new members, and now a larger force is being acquired.

Eight Are Initiated

Snyder's appeal was made at an initiatory meeting of the local group held in the hall, 322 East New York street. Eight candidates were initiated into the order. Fifteen more are ready to take the ritualistic work next month.

Enlarging of the local body also was discussed at a picnic held Sunday, July 30, at Garfield park, by P. O. Bowers, state manager of the order. He also delivered an address at the initiatory meeting.

The picnic, according to Kimmel, was the most successful ever held in the city, more than 250 members and their families attending.

400 Teams to Compete

Entertainment, including dancing, readings and exhibition drill by the Marion Council, Security Benefit Association drill team, will be featured at this week's meeting, Wednesday night, during the court's social hour following a business meeting, Kimmel announces.

The drill team of Arris court, which is making preparations for attending Fraternal day at the Century of Progress, Sept. 1, will hold a practice drill, prior to start of the games.

The team's visit to Chicago will last three days, leaving here Thursday afternoon, Aug. 21. That night an exhibition drill will be given before all Chicago courts of the order.

In the fraternal day event, the team will compete against more than 400 teams from throughout the United States and Canada, in a contest to be held in the Hall of Science.

Grotto Officers to Draft Program of Fall Events

Monarch Calls Session for Tonight at Order's
Home.

Delbert O. Wilmeth, monarch of Sahara Grotto, has called a meeting of all Grotto officers and past monarchs tonight at 7:30 at the Grotto home, Thirteenth street and Park avenue, to formulate plans for entertainment this fall.

One feature of this year's entertainment will be an old-time Mardi Gras carnival and fish fry, to be held Sept. 1 on the lawn of the Grotto home, under auspices of the ladies' auxiliary and uniformed bodies of the Grotto.

Sahara Pirate band of sixty pieces will play the last of a series of eight weekly concerts that night, under direction of Brewer T. Clay. Many other musical selections will be presented by various organizations of the local Grotto.

A dance floor is being built on the lawn of the home. Several booths are being constructed. Arrangements for the affair are under chairmanship of Mrs. Ray Dilley, who has invited the public to attend.

Grotto also has announced a special golf tournament to start Sunday noon, when local Grotto golfers match clubs with players of Kerman Grotto of Terre Haute at Coffin course.

Kenneth Amic is in charge of making arrangements for the affair, and has announced that forty local golfers will take the field to defend the Sahara golf title against the Terre Haute group.

The entire membership of the Grotto has been invited to attend the match, and a large gallery is expected to trail the players around the course.

Sixth of the series of weekly band concerts will be held Friday night at 8 at the Grotto home lawn.

SCHOOL ALLOTMENT COMPILATION MADE

Share in Income Tax Being Computed by State.

Officials of the state department of finance were busy today figuring the allotment to schools for each local school unit from state income tax revenues.

Compilation is expected to be completed within the next three or four days, Governor Paul V. McNutt said.

He estimated that it will amount to about $200 a teacher, to be distributed Jan. 1, 1934. The state is pledged to a $600 annual teacher payment, but only can pay as revenues through the sales and income tax increase, McNutt explained.

Each township trustee and school official will be notified now of the proposed allotment, so that they can proceed with budget-making, he said.

The Governor pledged that every cent collected through the income and sales tax will be distributed for school use on Jan. 1. He urged prompt payment of the tax by every one on Oct. 1, the next quarterly collection time.

A BOOK A DAY

"THE LORD OF LIFE," by Neil Bell, is a slightly labored but ingenious tale of how human nature acts in the face of a world catastrophe.

An eccentric inventor finds a way to annihilate the atom. His experiment gets away from him and almost annihilates the earth as well.

It causes a sort of combination of earthquake, hurricane and volcanic eruption which destroys every one on the globe—with the exception of the occupants of a British submarine, which, being below the sea at the time, misse dthe full force of the upheaval.

These people land, realize what has happened, and set to work to build a new society. The catch is that there is just one woman in the crowd, and if the earth is to be re-peopled it is strictly up to her.

Being a conscientious lass, she accepts the nomination, and in the next decade or so she takes as husbands, successively, practically all of the male survivors.

These hapless children, in plenty—but they're all boys.

Finally the one male survivor who hasn't married this polyandrous lady steals the colony's motorboat and sails off on a voyage of discovery.

He finds another survivor—a girl who was up in the stratosphere in a balloon when the apocalyptic turned over—and he and she marry and have several daughters.

They thereupon go back to the colony, steal the boy children, and go blithely off to start the race anew, leaving the colonists to extinction.

It might fill in an idle summer afternoon for you.

Published by Little, Brown & Co., it sells for $2.

Once a year Chief Connolly takes a course of S.S.S.

BEING Assistant Chief of the Atlanta Police Department is no child's play. Chief C. P. Connolly vouches for that. He must keep his mind alert and his body physically fit.

Several years ago Chief Connolly's system got in a run-down condition. It was then that he decided to take S.S.S. In six weeks time he wrote: "My appetite and digestion are greatly improved, so much so that I can eat pork and the like without any discomfort, and to my surprise my skin and complexion has cleared and become almost like a child's. S.S.S. has so improved my circulation and the condition of my blood that it has made me feel like a young man again."

Now, once a year, Chief Connolly takes a course of S.S.S. Tonic to keep his red-blooded cells and hemo-globin up to normal.
