Bureau of Complaints Will Be Ready Friday to Start Probe.

ters, according to Wells, merely is to insure employers and workers the right to bargain, collectively or singly, the manner being left to discretion of the individual.

At the same time, Wells announced that in the matter of hours for stores in the retail trade, the district board contemplated only that the maximum would not be less than the minimum number of hours prevailing before the NRA program went into effect.

Maximum to Be Asked

Nevertheless, establishment of maximum hours for retail stores will be asked of the NRA offices in Washington by the Indiana district board, Wells announced, following a meeting Monday in the Chamber of Commerce.

The request will be sent to Representative Louis Ludlow to convey to General Hugh S. Johnson, nation recovery administrator.

Indianapolis Retail Hardware Association abandoned a uniform hour schedule adopted some time ago, after a meeting at the Severin Monday.

Many Workers Added

Codification of reports from volunteer NRA workers, filed at headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce, show that 3,387 Indianapolis firms visited in the local campaign have added 4,848 workers and $93,124.27 to their weekly pay rolls since inauguration of the NRA.

While J. E. Fischer, "colonel" in charge of the survey, stated that a much larger number than the 33,893 consumers whose signed pledges are on file, actually had signed cards in the survey to date shows that only 35 per cent of the city has been subscribed. Fischer said that many workers have not brought their completed surveys to headquarters.

RIGHT-OF-WAY IS SET FOR U. S. AID ROADS

Indiana Cities and Towns Must Provide 36-Foot Space.

Indiana cities and towns petitioning the state highway commission for paving or resurfacing of federal aid highway routes through their limits must be prepared to provide a thirty-six-foot right-of-way, James D. Adams, commission chairman, said today.

The federal government has notified the commission that no funds will be allotted for routes through municipalities without a right-of-way of at least thirty-six feet.

The commission has set aside $4,800,000 of the $10,000,000 allotted by the government, for improving highway routes through cities with populations of 3,500 or more.

Projects approved by the government will be constructed without cost to the city or state.

Thief Drops Loot in Chase

School Board to Sit Tonight on Cut Budget

Proposed $5,755,583 Designates $780,000 Slash Under Last Year.

School commissioners tonight will consider the proposed $5,755,583 school budget for the 1933-34 school year, showing a reduction of $780,000 under last year's budget.

The budget, to be introduced formally at the meeting by A. B. Good, school business director, was prepared in tentative form last spring, but since has been cut $16,000.

The exact levy necessary to raise the budget is difficult to determine, Good said, because reduction of $60,000,000 in city property valuations.

Public hearing on the budget will be held Sept. 12, which time it formally will be adopted.

The school city will receive approximately $87,000 from the beer excise tax which will be paid on the basis of average attendance, $1.20 in November, and 50 cents in May.

Schools will get $115,000 from the intangibles tax, but will lose $105,000 from the common school fund, since the legislature passed the bill that cities and towns no longer may benefit from this fund. However, the school city will receive interest from the common school fund amounting to $124 per capita.

the minimum amount possible for each possible job.

If this is true, if you have reduced salaries to the lowest possible figure then the next step is to eliminate salaries. Eliminate enough of the least needed functions of government until you have balanced your expenses with your income."

Making a demand that the city debt be repudiated, Miles said: "You have said, in substance, to the 41,000 families in Indianapolis, who own their homes, that the city government is not interested so much in you as in maintaining the multitudinous functions of government and in paying nonresidents the interest on their bonds and in protecting wealthier people from paying taxes. You say you utterly ignore the $1.50 tax law your legislature passed.

Only two other suggestions were made at the hearing for cutting the budget.

Walter C. Rothermel, attorney, recommended abolition of the municipal airport and that the $17,000 contained in the budget for its maintenance be diverted into other channels.

Rothermel also advocated the $36,000 interest on the $1,000,000 indebtedness for the airport be defaulted.

Walter E. Hemphill, president of the Enterprise Civic League, urged abolition of the city drill tower for firemen at South and New Jersey streets.

"The drill tower is a needless expense and a burden on the 45 or 50-year-old men who are required to use it," Hemphill said.

Final hearing on the budget will be held Monday night and action must be taken at that time or it will become effective automatically.

'Roasted NRA' Menu for Irvington G. O. P. Gridiron

FILM STAR TO WED

Hollywood doesn't feel so cheerful about her departure, but Benita Hume, English actress, was in high spirits when, as shown here, she sailed from New York. That's because she was on her way to England to wed Jack Dunfee, English sportsman.

Two Lonely Democrats Hear Program Draw Fire of Republicans.

The annual watermelon feast of the Irvington Republican Club turned into a "gridiron" feast of the first rank as speakers alternately praised and condemned the NRA program Monday night.

Four hundred and ninety-eight Republicans and two lonely Democrats attended the meeting held in Carr's hall, 5436 East Washington street.

To say that the Democrats were embarrassed would be putting it mildly. Both begged reporters not to disclose their identities after they had heard the volatile speeches. But observers noted that they recovered rapidly when the "sausage" was served.

Dr. J. Raymond Schut of Manchester college, Republican nominee last year for Fifth district representative in congress, attacked the crop curtailment plan, calling it "ruthless destruction." The NRA, he said is taking away from industry its age-old right of initiative.

"I am not for the NRA as a way out of the depression," said Schut, "but I have no other remedy and, perhaps, I had better not voice opposition to the plan. I only wish we never had started it. But we have started it and we must put every influence we have behind it. It must not fail."

BUILDING CODE SIGNED

1,500 Workers Affected by Pact of Owners and Managers.

Members of the Indianapolis Association of Building Owners and Managers, representing thirty downtown office and loft building owners, unanimously signed the NRA agreement at a meeting in the Indianapolis Athletic Club Monday.

William F. Wagener, chairman of the local association's code committee, estimated holdings of the members represented an investment of $200,000. About 1,500 employees will be affected, in increased wages and employment, by adoption of the NRA program, Wagener declared.

Roscoe Turner Heads Group of Aerial Daredevils Sept. 5.

By Times Special

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 29.—A large group of the nation's most famous fliers will take part in dedication of the South Bend airport Sept. 5.

These famous daredevils of the air will be brought here following the international air races at Chicago by Vincent Bendix, manufacturer and financier, to open the new airport formally.

Among the most famous in the group will be Colonel Roscoe Turner, who won the Bendix trophy this summer when he set a new east-to-west-coast record of 11 hours 30 minutes, breaking the old record of Frank Hawks, who also is expected to attend.

Major James H. Doolittle, one of the most colorful figures in aviation, has promised to participate, together with Captain James H. Halzlip, and possibly his wife, Mrs. Mae Halzlip, who holds the women's speed record.

In addition to a number of other American aerial luminaries, the visiting fliers will include several famous foreigners, including Major Ernst Udet, German ace; Major Alexander A. De Severski, Russian ace, and Lieutenant Tito Falconi, noted Italian flier.
