

—Let's Go Fishing— GREAT HAUL IS REPORTED BY BASS ANGLERS

63 Are Landed by Group at Lake Freeman; Total
Weight, 75 Pounds.

BY LEFTY LEE.

Here we have a group who certainly took the fish at Lake Freeman, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week. This party, consisting of Oren, George and Howard Mangus, Odis Reed and Paul White, fished at the bridge entrance of Patterson's camp, and took 63 one silver bass and eleven black bass. The largest fish weighed 2 1/2 pounds, and the weight of the total catch was 75 pounds.

Lee Winders recently mounted a 4 1/2-pound small mouth bass, taken by a local angler, from Lake Tippecanoe, and while he was preparing the fish, discovered a nine-foot tapeworm. Winders preserved the evidence, and fish and worm now are on display at the store at 803 East Sixty-third street.

A card from Warden Stoner, Greencastle, tells of a 3 pound 10 ounce small mouth bass caught by Lawrence Crump, in Big Walnut creek, near State Road 36.

Vern Reed, the channel cat champ, has promised to show us how it is done, and we are reminding him that he would better set the date shortly, or the fish will be hibernating.

With the approach of fall, conservation officials are stressing their warnings against fire. Anglers should be sure to put out their camp fires before leaving, and also make sure that match, cigar, and cigarette are dead before they toss them away. A sure system is to toss the butt into the stream, a habit safe and easy to form.

Wonder if the jinx that has followed Edmund Rosenberg all summer still is on his trail. Rosenberg took his shutout at the hands of Emil De Luse so gracefully that we are hoping they try it again with closer results.

The fifteen-pound nine-ounce brown trout that John R. Fish recently caught on his trip to Canadian waters has been mounted and now is on display at the Em-Roe store. This fish certainly is a beauty, and worth seeing.

This column has a picture of two Jamestown boys with a string of fifty crapple taken from the Big Four lake, near Fillmore. The cool nights should make this dandy food fish start hitting now, and, with small minnows for bait, limit catches are sure to be common.

John Skages of 51 South Fourth avenue, Beech Grove, did not have the fancy tackle that some of the boys use, but proved that he retained his boyhood skill with a branch of a tree for a pole, when he landed a 19 1/2-pound Mississippi flathead cat in this manner at the red mill in Big Sugar creek. The fish measured 32 1/2 inches, and the bait used was a four-inch sunfish.

'INSIDE SELLERS' ARE AFFECTED BY NRA RULING

All Solely on Commission Exempted From Hours Wage Provisions.

Emergency meetings of the state and district boards of the NRA will be held Thursday, Francis Wells, Indiana recovery director, announced following receipt today of a ruling from Washington effecting "inside salesmen."

The ruling signed by Leighton H. Peebles, national liaison officer of the NRA and captioned "important policy board ruling," is:

"Inside salesmen, working solely on commission, are exempted from the maximum hours and minimum wages provisions of the President's re-employment agreement, if they were being paid solely in commission prior to June 16.

Puzzled by Ruling

Wells said that he was puzzled by the new ruling. He declared that all city retail stores were living up to the letter and spirit of the NRA agreement with corresponding hours and wages. He was unable to state how many employees in the city, classified as "inside salesmen," would be affected by the ruling.

In an effort to clarify the matter, Wells said he would talk with Washington today. He will report to the meetings of the state and district boards called for Thursday.

In another ruling from the national liaison officer, local recovery officers were informed that "no gratuities may, in any case, be applied to an employer to make up a part of the employees' wage."

Praised by Johnson

Indianapolis, leading other large cities of the nation by more than a week in NRA surveys, was praised by General Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, in Washington Tuesday.

"Indianapolis," said Johnson, "has weathered the depression in fine spirit and now is prepared to go forward with a bound."

"Grand results are being obtained in Indianapolis, Detroit and Cincinnati. I am cheered and heartened by the reports from these cities. Actual employment has increased. That is what we are after. Business is on the upgrade. Every day shows new gains. Am I pleased? I'll say I am."

'Quit Looking Back'

Charles W. Chase, "general" of the local recovery forces in Washington to attend the conference with General Johnson of the NRA heads of fourteen large cities, told the national recovery administrator that he bore an optimistic report.

"In Indianapolis," said Chase, "we have quit speaking of the depression. We have quit looking back. Men who through no fault of their own had become dependents, are getting back to work. I think it now is only a matter of months until business will be going big. We already have made gains and see further gains ahead."

Gains All Along Line

With the intensive city drive to codify unemployed, pledge consumers and check wage boosts and added employees in local industries, now in the second week, Indianapolis

FILM STAR TO WED

Hollywood doesn't feel so cheerful about her departure, but Benita Hume, English actress, was in high spirits when, as shown here, she sailed from New York. That's because she was on her way to England to wed Jack Dunfee, English sportsman.

His NRA officers report encouraging gains along all lines.

NRA survey totals disclose that 3,759 Indianapolis firms and industries have added 5,247 new employees and $100,784.93 to weekly pay rolls since the inception of the NRA program.

Consumer cards, pledging to patronize only NRA dealers, have been signed and filed for 44,529 households and other consumers. At consumer homes, NRA workers found 11,569 unemployed men and 4,332 women out of work.

PHOTOGRAPHERS ELECT

Maurice Hirschburg, Crawfordville, Named State President.

Members of the Indiana Photographers' Association elected Maurice Hirschburg, Crawfordville, president, at a meeting Tuesday night at the Columbia Club.

Other officers elected included: Alvin Caldwell, Indianapolis, vice-president; Ernest Morris, Indianapolis, secretary; and Charles Porter, Indianapolis, corresponding secretary. Joseph E. Cravener, Indianapolis, was re-elected treasurer.

EIGHT YOUTHS TO FACE TRIAL IN DEATH CASE

Slaying of Pair at Hymera Followed Mortgage Foreclosure Suit.

By United Press

A SULLIVAN, Ind., Aug. 30.—The farm mortgage foreclosure suit slaying, in which Andy and Oral Reedy, father and son, were beaten and shot fatally, will claim the attention of Sullivan circuit court for the third time, when eight youths go on trial on murder charges during the September term, which opens Monday.

The Reedys were attacked at their Hymera home Feb. 28, after the father had filed a foreclosure suit against the farm of Oral Turner. A grand jury investigation resulted in the indictment of six Hymera men. Turner was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. Four of the others were granted a change of venue to Vigo county.

Further investigation by the grand jury after introduction of a purported confession by Frank Vanderpool, one of the original defendants, results in indictment of the eight youths, whose trial will start Oct. 5.

They are Elston Allen, Jewell and Kenneth Quick Haskell Brown, Leo Morris, Edward Williams, Forest Welton and Ross Peterson, all of Hymera.
