BRONX GREETING FOR HUEY LONG

Profane Answer Is Shouted
by Kingfish to Query
About Black Eye.

By United Press
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 31.—Huey P. Long, Louisiana's battling kingfish, returned to the home grounds today and found his political enemies calling him a "national menace."

A large crowd waited at the railroad station, but Long left his train at a suburban station. Four bodyguards took him into immediate tow. Two throttled a newspaper photographer, a usual procedure.

"How about that black eye?" shouted a reporter.

"Go to hell!" shouted Huey, climbing into his automobile, which was trailed to a night club.

Business men pointed out disappointedly that Long had gone to Milwaukee to invite the Veterans of Foreign Wars to hold a convention here, but had become so upset by his black eye that he forgot all about it.

Long arrived without baggage.
