City Jockey Makes Good on Big Tracks

Jimmie Dobson Is Success First Year

INDIANAPOLIS has an abundance of horse lovers and horse players, but few members of the local sport gentry know there is a jockey out of this city making good on the big running tracks. He is Jimmie Dobson, 19, of 3600 Madison avenue. His weight is 92 pounds and he is a former Times carrier. Young Dobson is riding under a three-year contract with E. H. McMahon, owner of Evergreen stock farm, near Bloomington, Ill.

Jimmy was an exercise boy for two years, and this is his first year in the saddle at turf meetings. He has been riding at Thistledown, in Ohio, and today went up to the new race meeting at Detroit. He is the son of C. M. Dobson of the Madison avenue address.

In his first ten starts as a jockey, Dobson won five firsts, two seconds, one third and finished fourth twice. On Wednesday of this week at Thistledown, Dobson brought home Margia Lou a winner in the first race; finished fifth on Lady Bats in the second event; eighth on Chanty in the third; first on Peace Dove in the fifth; sixth on Eddie Lehman in the sixth, and fourth on Jimmy Finn in the seventh. George Dobson, 15, brother of Jimmie, also has been won over to the race sport and is picking up the necessary pointers serving as exercise boy. Owner McMahon of the Evergreen farm has an option on the "kid" and believes the lad will follow right along and make good the same as Jimmie.

On Friday at Thistledown, "Indianapolis Jimmie" Dobson was up on four mounts and turned in two winners, finished second once and was "out" on his other effort of the afternoon.

CITY and state abound with baseball "experts" who know their statistics, according to the heap of selections sent to The Times by fans endeavoring to match Babe Ruth's all-big league team for 1933. Midnight of Aug. 31 was the last opportunity for fans to "challenge" Ruth and attempt to name his all-star club before he was ready with it himself. Hoosier diamond followers answered with a hearty response The Times' invitation to match the Babe's lineup. No word was received from him today and it is thought now the Bambino will delay naming his roster until some time next week. The guess is that Babe is puzzled over a few of the positions. Several more Times fan teams follow:

The rest of his team follows: Cronin, ss; Klein, rf; Berger, cf; Dykes, 3b; Fox, 1b; Al Simmons, lf; Dickey, c; Crowder and Grove, p. "Ain't that sumpin?" asks Fisher, adding: "Here's for Mail Pouch." Mrs. C. H. Williams, 2514 West Fifteenth street, Speedway City, whose team is listed in the group above, writes: "I don't know just how close I can come to Mr. Ruth's team, this being my first attempt. Baseball has been my hobby since I was knee high and played on the vacant lot with the boys, and since I was knee high I am sorry to leave out Mr. Fox, but we can not pick two for first. To me it seems like Mr. Terry has what it takes to make a winner. My team just wouldn't be any good without him."

Sell this pun to one of the radio comedians. "Logan scored a two-hit shutout at Columbus Friday. He had the Red Birds eating out of his hand."

Bucs New Threat to Giants in Flag Drive

Pirates Tie Braves for Second Place With Seven-Game Winning Streak; Boston Trails N. Y. Seven Games After Bowing in Twin Bill.

BY JACK CUDDY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—George Gibson's Pirates are campaigning for a "crucial" series of their own with the New York Giants down at Pittsburgh next week.

The Sorsairs captured second place in the National League standing by a forced march of seven straight victories while experts and fans were concentrating on the so-called "crucial" series between the first-place Giants and the Boston Braves.

If the Pirates have struck the stride of which their roster indicates them capable, the National pennant race still holds interesting possibilities because of the Giants' loss of Johnny Vergez and the Braves' loss of Randy Moore.

Pittsburgh topped Boston by one percentage point today after beating St. Louis, 2 to 1, in eleven innings, Friday, while the Braves lost twice to the Giants. This left the Pirates and Braves virtually tied at seven games behind the Giants.

Pie Traynor headed the Pirate attack with a triple and two singles. His line single with Paul Waner on second in the eleventh provided the winning run that gave Larry French a mound victory over Bill Hallahan. French held the Cards to six hits while Hallahan allowed nine.

Hubbell, Fritz Shine
Two of the Giants' "big four" pitchers, Carl Hubbell and Freddie Fitzsimmons, pitched and batted the club to a 3-10 win in the opener, and a 5-0 victory in the second game, to the disappointment of 59,000 Boston fans.

Hubbell registered his tenth shutout and the Giants their twenty-second of the season when he drove the Braves to four hits and drove in the winning run with a single in the tenth. Another run came in after that on Johnny Moore's long fly.

In the nightcap Freddie Fitzsimmons held the Braves to six hits in eight innings and drove in the winning tally with a double in the ninth. Another run came in on Hughie Critz' fly. Adolfo Luque relieved Fitzsimmons in the ninth, retiring the Braves in order.

Last place Cincinnati combined six hits and eight walks on Pat Malone and Lynn Nelson to beat the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 3. East side scored three runs in the first frame, mainly because of wild pitching. Frey relieved Benton on the Cincinnati mound in the first with none out and two runs in. He allowed but one run in the rest of the game, although the Cubs made a total of 10 hits.

Senators Bow to A's
Washington maintained its eight at a half game American League lead over the New York Yankees when both clubs lost. Jimmy Fox enjoyed a perfect day at bat as the Philadelphia Athletics trounced the Senators, 12 to 3. He accounted for six runs with his thirty-seventh homer, a triple and a single. Manager Joe Cronin of the Senators and Rog Cramer of the A's also hit homers.

Boston's Red Sox took their second straight game from the Yankees, 4 to 2, in twelve innings. Boston bunched three hits, a wild throw and a sacrifice for two runs in the twelfth. Oliver's single driving in Kline, and Cooke's triple scoring Oliver. Werber of the Sox made a homer in the eighth. Bob Kline, who replaced Lloyd Brown with the bases loaded in the eleventh, was credited with the victory.

Still Going Strong After 20 Years

AFTER twenty years, Rabbit Maranville, the "boy wonder" of the bumptious Braves, goes on and on, on winning ball games, assailing umpires, helping with his marvelous fighting spirit to help the Boston team in the thick of a battle for the National League pennant. The wiry little infielder, Braves' hero in the 1914 world series, has starred in every game against the leading Giants this week.

'World's Title' at Stake in Hicks, Van Wie Battle on Links Today

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Sept. 2.—The title "world's greatest woman golfer" today awaited the winner of the thirty-six-hole final between Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, and Helen Hicks, Winnetka, N. Y., in the thirty-seventh national women's golf championship.

It was champion against champion, pal against pal, in a climax they had visioned when the 113 entries teed off in the qualifying round six days ago.

Twenty-three-year-old Miss an Wed Friday eliminated Enid Wilson, English champion, 6 and 5, in one of the greatest victories ever scored in women's golf annals. Two years ago at Buffalo, Miss Hicks, 23-year-old husky New Yorker, beat Miss Wilson in the first round of the national championship.

Miss Van Wie is the American champion of last year, and Miss Hicks is the 1931 titleholder.

The two finalists have been chumming together all week. They planned to meet in the finals and have kidded each other about such a match.

Young Lefty Blanks Birds With Two Hits; Tribe Gets Thirteen.

By Times Special
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2.—Red Bird fans saw some brilliant pitching out of their stadium Friday afternoon and the exhibition of great mound work was not supplied by the league leaders. It was the performance of Lefty Bob Logan of the Indians that featured the contest. The youngster held the Birds to two hits and scored a shutout, 10 to 0.

High and Rothrock were the only home pastimes to get one safe off the Tribe hurler, who has displayed marked improvement during the program of the season. He fanned two and walked four, but the Birds that reached base were left there. Bud Teachout, Columbus lefthander, mowed down the Indians until the fifth, when they rallied and chased four runs across the plate.

Signafoos Poles Homer
Teachout was walloped for thirteen blows by the Indians. In the seventh they tallied three markers and repeated the three-run achievement in the ninth. Frank Signafoos poled a home run in the seventh and he also got two singles during the contest.

Pete Chapman pounded Teachout for two doubles and a single, scoring two runs and batting in two. Signafoos scored twice and batted in five runs, giving him a large day on the attack. The Tribe played errorless ball. Dudley Lee and Layne each got two hits and Johnny Cooney smacked out a triple.

Former Stars in Cincinnati Game

By Times Special
CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 2.—A few years ago their names would have sounded good in almost any major league baseball lineup—Honus Wagner, Sidny Roush, "Noodles" Hahn, Donnie Bush, Cy Barger, "Tacks" Outtamer, Jewell Eiss, George Gibson, "Buck" Herzog and Pat Duncan. The biggest entry list in years, fan officials are predicting another successful race meeting.

That they still love the game which made them famous is shown by the fact that they have "signed up" to play in an exhibition game here Sunday as part of the Cincinnati Reds' annual old-timers' reunion. About fifty former big league stars will participate. The old-timers' battle will follow the National League game between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

Gar Wood Choice Over Dodge, British Pilot in Trophy Race

By Times Special
ALGONAC, Mich., Sept. 2.—Defending the world's speedboat championship for the seventh consecutive time, silver-haired Gar Wood today pitted his powerful Miss America X against the unknown speed of a British challenger and a last-minute United States entrant in the first race of the Harmsworth trophy series on the St. Clair river.

Because of his past successes, Wood was favored to retain the trophy although some racing experts regarded red-headed Hubert Scott-Paine's smaller, stream-lined Miss Britain III a dangerous contender. Friday night, Horace E. Dodge, Detroit sportsman and racer, announced he would enter his Dolphin V, a Gold Cup boat equipped with a sweepstakes motor.

Two hundred thousand persons were expected to see the race. Today's race and the second at 3 p. m. Monday will be run off over a seven nautical mile course on the river. Victory in two races out of a possible three wins the series and the trophy. If a third heat is necessary it will be contested on Tuesday.

Wood's huge American boat was built to achieve tremendous power, disregarding the finer principles of racing hull structure. Weighing seven tons, it develops nearly 5,000 horse power. The beautifully stream-lined, but tiny Miss Britain, weighs only about a ton and a half, and develops 1,375 horse power from a single Napier engine.

Hill Climbers at Noblesville

Entries from Illinois, Indiana and Michigan have been received for the Midwest Motorcycle Club hill climb Sunday afternoon near Noblesville and officials expect excitement galore during the action. The hill is fast, but tough enough to satisfy the most hardened bronco buster.

Picnic ground surrounding the hill has been cleaned up. Club markers will be set out along state road 32 that leads west from Noblesville to the north turnout that leads to the contest hill near the Noblesville Boy Scout camp.

Indianapolis fans go north via road 31, or follow the more usual route up state road 13 to Noblesville and thence west to the marked north turn on 32. Three hill climb events are carded.

SHEIK PINS WILLIAMS IN WOP MAT TUSSELE

Winning the first fall in ten minutes with a Japanese telehold and the third round with a reverse headlock, Rhee Mar Allah turned in his second consecutive mat triumph at South Meridian arena Friday night, beating Scotty Williams. Williams won the second fall in five minutes with a crotch and a reverse headlock.

Bunny Clifford pinned Harold Davidson in the second and third falls to capture the semi-windup, and Eddie Slaughter tossed Jack Adams in seventeen minutes in the other event.

TWIGG JOINS FLANNERS

By Times Special
CLOVERDALE, Ind., Sept. 2.—Prominent Hoosier hurler will perform in the four-team tournament here Monday, featuring a big field day. Johnny Twigg, star southpaw, will pitch for Flanners-Buchanans, Indianapolis Municipal League champions, with Russ Paugh working for Cloverdale, Christopher for Stilesville and Lefty Tate for Spencer.

First game Monday is at 10 a. m., the second at 12 o'clock, and the winners meet at 3 p. m.
