

BRIBE ATTEMPT IS CHARGED AT DOG POUND QUIZ

Superintendent Conger Is Accused at Hearing by Safety Board.

Charges of attempted bribery were hurled at Dr. Elizabeth Conger, superintendent of the Indianapolis dog pound, today, by witnesses who appeared before the safety board, demanding removal of the pound from its present site on the Pendleton Pike.

In a petition signed by eighty-six residents of the neighborhood, Dr. Conger was charged specifically with causing a public nuisance and disturbing the peace.

Chief witnesses before the board declared that if the safety board refused to take action, the case would be taken to Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan and, if met by rebuff there, abatement action would be taken in the county courts.

Chief witnesses at the hearing were Mr. and Mrs. John M. Spangler of 2506 Lancaster street and John E. Stuckel, 2505 Phipps street. Mrs. Spangler made the charge of attempted bribery in her evidence.

Nuisance Is Charge
The witnesses charged that Dr. Conger has caused a nuisance to be created by the keeping of more than 450 dogs on the premises, and that the city code has been violated, in that dogs are to be kept at the pound five days and then killed, if not claimed. Instead, the witnesses charge, Dr. Conger has kept the dogs, in some instances, twelve years, ever since the pound was erected.

The bribery attempt accusation came when Mrs. Spangler asserted that a former employee of the pound, Raymond Artis, Negro, who had been discharged by Dr. Conger, was ready to testify before the board. Dr. Conger, charged Mrs. Spangler, approached Artis and offered to re-employ him if he would not testify.

Further, Mrs. Spangler claimed, she had been approached by Dr. Conger, who, she said, offered to buy the property owned by the Spanglers, and that payment would be made in cash, if they would not testify.

Dr. Conger could not be reached by The Times for a statement.

Humor in Proceedings
Mrs. Spangler told the board that Dr. Conger had said that the deal would be made in the name of a third party, and that the property then would be donated to the city, and that the city would bear the cost.

Snatches of humor were injected into the proceedings as Mrs. Spangler objected to her husband's "soft and soothing" manner of presenting his testimony, and interrupted him repeatedly to emphasize certain points.

Donald Morris, safety board member, became interested in the charges and questioned the witnesses closely. Dr. Conger will be ordered to appear before the safety board next Tuesday.

The board members were invited by Mrs. Spangler to live in the neighborhood.

"Maybe my husband still believes in Santa Claus," she said, "but I don't."

Dr. Conger, she charged, in addition, "fanned" dogs out to a woman in the neighborhood.

"Something will be done," said Morris. "I never had any knowledge of anything like this."

It was learned in city hall that dog license fees had dropped from $5.00 to $1.00, due, in part, said officials, to a request by Dr. Conger that no drive be made for licenses.

POLITICAL FUND SCOPE WIDENED

'Associate Members' Now May Contribute to Democrats.

Scope of membership in the Hoosier Democratic Club, statehouse political fund collection agency, was extended today to include "associate members."

Regular membership is brought about through a white application and is confined to Democrats only. But "any person can become an associate member" by filling out a blue application.

Dues are the same. They have been worked out in six classifications. Class A costs $1 a month; B, $2; C, $3; D, $5; E, $8, and F, $12.

In explaining the associate membership plan, Pleas Greenlee, McNutt secretary and one of the club's organizers, said they wanted to "give every one a chance to contribute, if they so desired."

The money is to be used for Democratic campaign purposes. Club members have their dues deducted from their monthly pay checks by department heads. The popular name for the club was the "Two Per Cent Club."

Application blanks provide for name, address, age, precinct, occupation and party, except on the white cards.

Cops Insist Mussel Digger Case an Accident.

The puzzling "murder-accident" probe resulting from the death of a mussel digger on the Monon railroad tracks Sunday night, today was at a standstill with an open verdict expected to be returned by Coroner W. E. Arbuckle.

Police claimed the death of Charles Salmon, 52-year-old mussel digger, a clear-cut case of accidental death under the wheels of a Monon train, bound for Chicago.

Dr. E. R. Wilson, deputy coroner, who declared there were some puzzling aspects to the case, today said there is no new evidence. Salmon was run over at 1:55 and some persons said they had seen him alive at 1 a. m.

The body was cold, members of the train crew said, and intimated Salmon had been murdered and his body placed on the tracks.

NRA LAUNCHES NATIONAL DRIVE ON VIOLATIONS

Johnson Calls for Full Compliance to Blue Eagle Pledges.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A drive to obtain 100 per cent compliance with the blue eagle re-employment agreement was started today by the National Recovery Administration.

Administrator Hugh S. Johnson announced that a "compliance boards" are to be created in every city and town in the country to investigate complaints of noncompliance and to handle other details of the re-employment campaign.

The drive for full compliance with blue eagle pledges marked a second phase in the re-employment effort and will serve as a checkup both on violators of the agreement and those who are hesitating to inaugurate shorter working hours and increased rate of pay.

The compliance drive was announced as the NRA tackled the troublesome coal situation through new hearings on the administration-written code, and opened hearings on proposed codes for the motion picture and boot and shoe industries.

The seven-member compliance boards will be charged with duties of education, conciliation and mediation in their respective communities and will be composed of representatives of employers, employees and consumers.

The boards will hear: 1. Complaints of noncompliance. 2. Petitions for exceptions where strict compliance would result in undue hardship. 3. Petitions for permission to operate on longer hour schedule of existing union contracts, instead of the maximum hours of the blue eagle agreement.

The seventh member of the board would be the chairman who, according to Johnson's record of instructions to present NRA committee chairmen, "should enjoy the respect of the entire community, and must be free from any connections

SO IT'S WATER IN BOOZE THAT DOES YOU GOOD

And How About That Alky, Doc? Doesn't That Help, Too?

BY WILLIAM F. SULLIVAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—You fellows—and girls—who like wines and beers, just keep on drinking; it's a pleasant way to get needed water into the system.

"Some people can't take it," Dr. Gustav Egloff said in an interview today, "and that is one of the reasons we had the prohibition amendment. Because their systems could not take alcoholic beverages, they thought it was wrong morally."

Dr. Egloff, president of the Chicago Chemists Club, who is attending the sessions of the American Chemical Society, laid down a few rules for drinkers.

It's a Golden Rule
"Drinking in moderation for those who like it," he said, "is a golden rule. Some people don't like water. By and large, light wines and beer are beneficial to the body. It is an easy and pleasant way of getting needed water into the system."

"Most human beings are moderate and as a matter of fact before the prohibition amendment was enacted, imbibing of alcoholic beverages was dwindling. When the amendment is repealed, we will come back to nonpoisonous beverages, properly fermented under natural conditions, instead of having to rely on bootleggers and the criminals who surround them."

On the question of hard liquors and as to the number of drinks one can take safely, Dr. Egloff said that was an individual's own problem to decide.

That Empty Stomach
"A man who hasn't had a drink in six months, he explained, "might feel sharply the effects of a couple of drinks. The highest stimulation from alcohol comes by drinking before meals—on an empty stomach. One individual might feel a couple
