Twelve Years at Trade Piles Up 6,000 "Old Boots."

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—They talk of the horse and wagon as a thing of the past, but read this: Six tons of horseshoes were hauled from the blacksmith shop of Thomas Mawhinney in the East Liberty district, to the melting pot of a south side mill.

The shoes, Mawhinney said, were used by him in his trade during the last twelve years. The six tons—about 6,000 shoes—is enough to equip 750 horses for one year, Mawhinney said.

OUTLAW NO. 1 GETS ADVICE

MURDER OF SIX ATTRIBUTED TO GANGSTER CHIEF

Leonard Scarnici Held With Four Other Men by New York Police.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The list of crimes attributed to five men caught in the most spectacular criminal roundup in years, mounted rapidly today, to Leonard Scarnici, 27, the leader, police sought to pin the label of paid killer. They blamed him for at least a half dozen murders.

The five were charged with the holdup of a branch of the Bank of Manhattan, and Scarnici and Anthony Reina, 23, and Charles Shore, 37, were charged with the holdup of the Bank of Rensselaer, N. Y., in which a policeman was killed. Two bandits were put on "the spot" and police believed Scarnici was the trigger man.

Police held circumstantial evidence connecting Scarnici and Reina with the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell, Jr., Albany, scion of the O'Connell New York state political empire. They made ballistic tests of a machine gun alleged to be Scarnici's to determine if it was the one that killed Vincent Coll, gang leader and merciless killer, who was slain in a telephone booth. Police believe Coll was eliminated by a paid killer.

The other men held are Philip Zeigler, 32, and Fred Planti, 27. In a raid upon a Mt. Kisco (N. Y.) house, police apprehended Scarnici's wife, Eleanor, and Mrs. Anthony Reina.

HORSESHEOER HAS PLANE

Makes Trip in an Hour Which Otherwise Would Require 4 Days

By United Press

MISSOULA, Mont., Sept. 22.—Funny little horses of baked clay have been discovered among broken pottery unearthed by government archaeologists in excavations downtown in this old city.

The horse figures are among the earliest efforts of American natives to represent in art the strange animals white men brought from Europe. Horses ridden by Cortez and his followers were the first in the new world since geologic ages, when wild horses in various stages of evolution roamed the country and vanished.

How mysterious the anatomy of the horse seemed to the amazed Aztecs is well shown in the statues. Although one horse has a rider on him, and another a pack on his back, the two look more like dogs.

The Aztecs called the Spanish horses "mazatl" or deer. In the only Indian version known to describe the conquest of Mexico City, a document preserved in Aztec by the Spanish Monk Sahagun the natives speak of supplying food for Cortez's deer.
