TECH CANNON PUSHES SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

Posters Accented in Campaign Under Business Deal.

Posters, both clever and ultra-modern, are being used in the advertising of the Arsenal Cannon subscription campaign being carried on at Technical high school this month under direction of Walter Sinclair, pupil business manager of the school publication.

The posters, made by pupils of Mrs. Roberta Stewart's commercial IV class, are especially attractive, due to a novel idea of using actual copies of the Cannon, on which the posters are painted.

Pupils who made the posters are Wanda Juniper, Eloise Riley, Eugene Holland, Ellen Clark, James Shroat, Marion Wortman, Dorothy Meyers, Francis Carter, Jean Wetty, June Fischer, Charles McLaren and Raymond Poole.

RILEY PROGRAM IS SET

Anniversary of Poet to Be Marked by 6A at School 20.

Grade 6A of School 20 at 1125 Spruce street, will commemorate the eightieth anniversary of the birth of James Whitcomb Riley by a program of songs selected from the poet's work at the opening meeting of the school's Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday afternoon. Charles Sunthorn, principal of the school, will address the gathering in a welcome to parents of new pupils.

RILEY DAY IS OBSERVED AT FRESH AIR SCHOOL

And the gobblins will getcha if you don't watch out! That is what Esther Hand, center, at Little Orphan Annie, is telling her classmates at the fresh air school, 1601 East Tenth street.

The story, as told by Esther, was a part of a Riley day program presented this morning at an assembly program by the children under direction of Miss Ivy

Pearcy, teacher, and Miss Jeanette Riker, principal. The program was arranged by Miss Percy and Miss Riker, and the setting was arranged by Miss Percy and the children. Materials for the setting were furnished by the children.

Music and other entertainment were included in the program.

SCHOOL TO GIVE HONOR PROGRAM

Celebrate Memory of Poet Loved by Children.

Pupils of the James Whitcomb Riley school, 150 West Fortieth street, will give their annual program at assembly Friday in memory of the beloved children's poet after whom the school is named.

The program will be under the direction of Miss Effie Moschelle. Each child in the school will have some part in the ceremony, since all are asked to bring flowers which will be collected and placed on Riley's tomb.

The program at assembly will be presided over by Miss Margaret Riggins, a pupil. After an introduction by Miss Riggins the program will be: Sketch of Riley's life by Mariam Goldfarb; two stories of Riley's childhood by Riley Hancock and Robert Sternberger; "The Bumble Bee," by Hazel Gabbert; "Cranny," Van Darrell Abroast. Several of the poet's letters will be read by Virginia Landreth, Betty Porter and Mary Kershner; "When the Folks Get Back," by Joan Colgan; "The Raggedy Man," by Virginia Schwartz; a song by the boys' glee club; "Out to Old Aunt Mary's," by Marcia Stump; and showing of the baskets of flowers for the tomb, by Mary Helen Yates, Jean Marie Lees and Gene Clairmont. The "Prayer Perfect," by the entire school will close the program.
