CITY SCHOOLS
WILL OBSERVE
SPECIAL WEEKEducation to Be Featured
With Programs From
Nov. 6 to 12.

Observance of National Education week will be celebrated in every public and high school, Nov. 6 to 12, it was announced today by the school board.

A feature of the observance will be open houses held at each school, to which parents and others interested in education will be invited.

A widespread activity, involving radio talks, sermons by ministers of prominent churches, and displays of posters in downtown stores, is included in the program.

The posters are being prepared by pupils under the direction of Miss Florence Fitch, school art director, and special musical programs will be arranged by Ralph Wright, music director.

Governor Paul V. McNutt and members of a speaker's corps organized under direction of the board, will visit schools for special programs during the week.

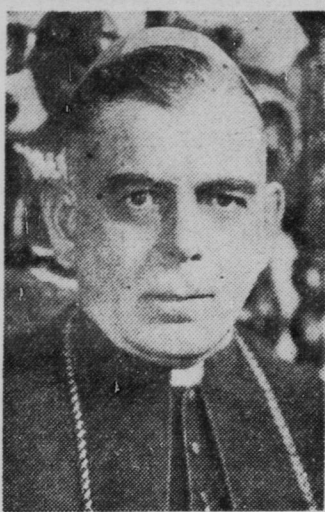

Co-operation of civic and social clubs and the Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations will aid in the observance. An edition of Public School News, official school publication, will carry complete details of educational developments, plans and purposes.

Indigestion, Jaundice

"I suffered from indigestion, never felt like eating and when I did eat, my food appeared to sour. Every little effort sapped my strength and I felt tired and depressed, constant headaches did their share, too, toward making me miserable. I had yellow jaundice," remarked Mrs. Mary C. Coon of 322 Penn Ave., Jacksonville, Ill. "I had always known of Dr. Pierce's medicines, as my mother who was a physician, used these medicines in her practice. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and I gained in weight, my appetite returned, the stomach complaint disappeared and my complexion cleared up fine." All druggists.—Advertisement.

ATTORNEY HERE
WRITES OPINION
ON $1.50 LIMITMaximum Levy Law Ruling
Given at Request of U. S. Officials.

The Indiana $1.50 law, in itself, is not an obstacle to federal loans to Indiana municipalities for public works projects, but repayment of the loans may depend on the courts.

That is the substance of an opinion by Frederick E. Matson, of Matson, Ross, McCord & Clifford, written in response to a request from the federal emergency administration of public works at Washington, and joined in by the law firm of Smith, Remster, Hornbrook & Smith.

Discussing the application of the $1.50 tax limitation to general obligation bonds hereafter issued by municipalities and taxing units, Mr. Matson points out that the question is not as to the validity of such bonds, but as to their enforceability.

Ruling Is Lengthy

Mr. Matson also notes that obligations of a municipality, commonly called revenue bonds, issued for the construction, improvement or extension of waterworks, sewage disposal plants, etc., the interest and principal of which are payable exclusively from the revenue thereof, are not affected by the $1.50 law.

The opinion, comprehensive and lengthy, explains fully the operation of the $1.50 law and "its relation to essential taxes such as levies to protect the solvency of the government unit—levies to meet payment of interest and principal on bonds issued before the $1.50 law went into effect—levies to provide running expenses of the municipality necessary in the exercise of its governmental functions.

Opinion Is Quoted

The opinion says in part: "Ordinarily, two methods are available to a bondholder to enforce the obligations of a municipal bond, (a) a suit to mandate the taxing officials to make the necessary levies (of taxes) to provide for payment of interest and maturities; and (b) after default, a suit to obtain judgment for the amount of interest and principal due. "As all municipal bonds hereafter issued are subject to this law which puts a limit on total tax levies, and does not permit levies in excess of a total of $1.50 on each one hundred dollars of taxable valuation of property, it is clear that towns, and a total of $1 in outside territory, except in case of "emergency," the method of enforcing payment of bonds by compelling the levy of taxes in many cases no longer will exist.

This is for the reason that before including such levies on bonds other tax necessities having prior right first must be provided for.

Subject to Prior Claims

All necessary levies to meet payment of interest and principal on bonds issued before the $1.50 tax law went into force must be provided for first of all. This right of prior bondholders can be strictly enforced. And there also must be included the levies to provide for running expenses of the municipality necessary in the exercise of its governmental functions.

"If, after these essential taxes are levied, there is not room left within the $1.50 limit to include a levy for interest and principal on the new bonds, the levy of running expenses is not available to enforce the levy of a tax to service bonds hereafter issued, where such levy would carry the total tax levy of the municipality above $1.50, until some court has declared an emergency to exist."

"But," the opinion further states, "the holder of a valid bond nevertheless will be able to obtain judgment for the principal and / or interest thereof in event of default, and such judgment will be enforceable."

State Official Honored

Election of Martin L. Lang, Indiana food and drug commissioner, as vice-president of the Ohio-Indiana-Kentucky Valley Food and Drug Health Association, was announced today in wire dispatches from Cincinnati, where the annual fall conference was being held.

Beware the Cough or Cold That Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion.—Advertisement.

JANGLED NERVES

GOING TO STAY
ON THAT PHONE
ALL NIGHT?

Do jangled nerves make you say things you'll regret?

How many times in the course of a week do you snap at someone? If you check very carefully you will probably find that it happens more times than you realize.

For one of the dangers of jangled nerves is that the victim so seldom knows about his own condition. It not only hurts others—but himself as well.

The more alert you are, the more high-strung and alive, the greater danger there is of jangled nerves.

Get your full amount of sleep every night. Eat regularly and sensibly. Find time for recreation. And smoke Camels—for Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on your nerves.

SIZE OF QUARTER
SIZE OF HALF DOLLAR

Put a half dollar on a sheet of paper. Draw a circle around it. Now place a real quarter in the exact center of this circle. Holding your pencil 3" above the point—do not rest your hand or wrist—see how many circles you can draw around the quarter without touching the outside circle or moving the coin. Have someone time you for 10 seconds. Average score is 3 circles.

Major William C. Brooks (Camel Smoker), famous stunt flier, completes 5 circles in 10 seconds.
