

THREE BANDIT SUSPECTS HELD TO COUNTY JURY

Detectives Claim Two Men, Woman Admit Part in Robberies.

Arraigned before Municipal Judge Dewey E. Myers this morning, two men and a woman, held in connection with recent holdups, waived examination and were bound over to the grand jury.

The fourth man, Albert Birch, 2002 North Capitol avenue, has been held since Sunday on Vagrancy charges and will appear in court Friday.

William Saunders, 21, of 121 East Twenty-first street, charged with conspiracy, auto banditry and robbery, was bound to the grand jury under $5,000 bond.

Placed Under $2,000 Bond

Held on similar charges, Guy Marlette, 1716 North Meridian, and Mrs. Julia Rodocker Knox, 1734 North Meridian street, likewise waived examination and were bound to the grand jury under $2,000 bonds.

Detectives said they had obtained statements from each of the four, and that Saunders had admitted a previous petit larceny conviction.

Ten holdups here and two in Kansas City are said by detectives to have been admitted by Saunders, who implicated Birch in several of the robberies.

Denies Getting $2,500

Marlette and Mrs. Knox confessed to working with Saunders in the holdup of the restaurant of John Rodocker, Mrs. Knox's father, at 618 East Walnut street, detectives said.

Although $2,500 was reported taken from Harry Schubert, who occupied desk space in the restaurant to cash pay checks of factory workers, Saunders said he obtained only $1,300, detectives said.

Saunders and Mrs. Knox charge that Marlette planned the restaurant holdup and arranged for Saunders to escape in Marlette's car, parked nearby, while Mrs. Knox and Marlette were herded into the basement with customers and restaurant employees.

Robberies Listed

Saunders was arrested yesterday in an alleged attempt to hold up the Williams hotel, Washington street and Senate avenue. Other holdups admitted by Saunders, according to detectives, were at:

Standard grocery, 709 East Fifty-fourth street, Sept. 3; E. M. Dopp pharmacy, 4620 East Michigan street, Sept. 4; Piggy-Wiggly grocery, Forty-second street and College avenue; Kroger grocery, 2304 Central avenue, Sept. 10; Massey pharmacy, 2401 East Tenth street, Oct. 21; City fruit store, 2122 College avenue, Oct. 26; Lee pharmacy 1058 Fairfield avenue, Oct. 26.

Single-handed, Saunders said he held up the Meeker hotel and obtained $80 on Oct. 24.

POLITICS BLAMED BY REMY IN CRIME TALK

Universal Club Speaker Pleads for Unhindered Police Force.

No hope exists for a cessation of Indiana's crime wave until there is a separation of politics from police affairs, William H. Remy, former Marion county prosecutor, said at the Universal Club luncheon in the Columbia Club yesterday.

"We select too many policemen because they have been able to carry precincts, and we never are going to catch criminals with such men," Mr. Remy declared.

PEAT TO LECTURE AT HERRON ART INSTITUTE

Paintings to Be Analyzed by Director in Address Next Week.

Paintings by Leonardo Da Vinci, El Greco, Whistler and Cezanne will be analyzed in a lecture by Wilbur Peat at the John Herron Art Institute, at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

"The Painter's Point of View," is the title of Mr. Peat's talk which will be illustrated. The approach of the artists to their work, as well as their relationships to the public, will form the basis of the discussion to follow the talk.

PARKED AUTOS ROBBED

Thieves Get Coat and Clarinet From Car at Fairground.

An overcoat and a clarinet, valued at $75, were stolen from an automobile owned by J. Edward Meier, R. 10, Box 241, while he was parked at the state fairground early today.

Also stolen from a car parked at the fairground today were two raincoats and 1,000 paper plates valued at $10, from a car owned by S. R. Sweeney, 421 East Washington street.

Love for Dog Brings Death to Two at Lake

Man, Wife Fatally Burned Trying to Rescue Pet From Fire.

Love for a pet dog caused the death yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Creston Paine at Lake Wawasee, according to messages received in Indianapolis by Mrs. Paine's mother, Mrs. Llewellyn Tevis, 3210 Ruckle street.

The bodies of the couple were found in flames in a marsh near a golf course at Lake Wawasee. Beneath them were the charred bodies of their pet dog and an opossum. They were discovered by William W. Irwin, golf course manager,

VIGILANTE SYSTEM OUTLINED TO CURB CRIME OUTBREAKS

This diagram shows the system worked out by Al Feeney, director of public safety, to call hundreds of minute men into duty within a few minutes notice in case of a bandit chase. The sheriff of each county is to be in charge of a vigilante composed of volunteers and American Legion members who will function under this plan.

MONDAY NAMED TAX DEADLINE

75 Per Cent of County Levy Is Due, Says Sexton, County Treasurer.

With Monday the deadline for paying the fall installment of taxes, collections today were less than 25 per cent, County Treasurer Timothy P. Sexton said today, warning of a last minute rush.

Up to today, only $2,267,284 had been collected, the average fall installment collection being about $11,000,000. Several additional windows have been provided to speed handling of the inevitable long lines of last minute taxpayers.

Arm Citizens to Halt Crime Wave, Advises Shanghai Vigilante Veteran

City Man Recalls Ringing of All Phones to Spread Alarm.

BY BASIL GALLAGHER
Times Staff Writer

Pith-helmeted and dressed in tropical garb, an Englishman and an American stood at the bar in the canteen of the Shanghai special police in the Chinese city.

It was a hot summer evening in 1927 and the two volunteer policemen, refreshing themselves after a hard day of helping to suppress Communist riots, were about to go home.

Suddenly the shrill scream of a

Nice Riot

Mitchells Go Out for the Evening—Land in Jail.

THE Mitchell boys were out for an evening last night and as a result three of them and a friend were arrested following two riot calls early today at the Walkathon in the Manufacturers' building at the state fairground.

Under arrest on charges of inciting a riot, resisting an officer and possession of liquor are Guy Mitchell, 21, of 1355 Marlow avenue; Randall Mitchell, 20, of 1129 East Michigan street; Guy Mitchell, 19, of 242 North Highland avenue, and Paul Wildhauser, 19, of 510 Dorman street.

The arrests were made by a squad of state police under Lieutenant Hinkle after the state police and deputy sheriffs answered riot calls shortly after 3 a. m. and 5 a. m.

CALLS to city police headquarters were unavailing with Captain Jess McMurry scoffing at appeals for help.

"Why can't you go to the Walkathon because there's a court order against us interfering with it. Why don't you try the sheriff's office or the state police?" Captain McMurry answered.

Captain McMurry referred to Chief Mike Morrissey's unsuccessful efforts to stop the Walkathon in which the chief, the police and safety board were restrained from acting on the contention that the fairground is state property and hence city police have no jurisdiction.

Walkathon officials said the trouble grew out of drinking by the arrested quartet, one of whom, Guy Mitchell, was slugged and had to be treated at city hospital.

YOUNG MITCHELL declared today at police headquarters that twenty stitches were taken in a scalp wound as the result of several blows on the head with an iron pipe in the hands of a Walkathon employee.

Mitchell asserted the trouble grew out of altercation in which Jackson Mitchell engaged with another Walkathon spectator. The cases will be heard Thursday afternoon in municipal court four.

Insist on the Genuine

Before the reorganization of the special police in Shanghai, about 1925," said Mr. Forster, "crime, especially holdups and kidnappings, ran rampant. Large bands of marauding coolies, recently released from more than a hundred Chinese armies, swarmed into the city and began a series of desperate deeds.

"The citizenry, fully aroused, determined that something drastic must be done quickly. The result was the perfection of the Shanghai special police system which had become almost obsolete in the years following the Boer war.

"Business men joined the special police to protect their homes and property and that of their neighbors. The esprit de corps was splendid," said Mr. Forster.

"If such an organization were formed in Indianapolis it would pay for itself a hundredfold. While the original cost for uniforms and other equipment would be high, the formation of a permanent army of civilian vigilantes, undoubtedly would bring insurance rates way down and eventually keep bandits and other criminals out of the city entirely.

"In addition to the very effective method of ringing all the telephones in Shanghai for one minute to broadcast an alarm of trouble, was the method of a permanent army of civilian vigilantes, undoubtedly would bring insurance rates way down and eventually keep bandits and other criminals out of the city entirely.

"As soon as police arrived on the scene, all traffic and all pedestrians in the vicinity were ordered to halt. The police then had authority to search every vehicle and every person who might be regarded as suspicious."

DRAMA SERIES TO OPEN WITH BROADWAY HIT

'Dinner at Eight' to Play Here on Legitimate Theater Circuit.

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN
Times Theater Critic

Indianapolis today was guaranteed a splendid legitimate road show season when Arthur M. Oberfelder, well known Denver (Colo.) showman announced the completion of a legitimate circuit.

The fear of a lean legitimate season at English's was dispelled when Mr. Oberfelder announced his season at English's would open Sunday night, Nov. 12, with "Dinner at Eight," and continue through Friday with matinees Wednesday and Friday.

James Kirkwood will star in "Dinner at Eight," which has a cast of twenty-six. Miss Jessica Newcomb opens on Sunday, Nov. 19, in "The Double Door," a Broadway success. Violet Heming will be starred in "There's Always Juliet," Sunday, Nov. 26.

Shows will be presented on tour at $1 top at night, with many 75 and 50-cent seats. The matinees at English's on Wednesday will have a top price of 75 cents. Other seats will be at 35 and 50 cents.

"I am convinced," Mr. Oberfelder said as he concluded arrangements with Vincent Burke, manager of English's, "that the legitimate stage has tremendous values along cultural lines. I am going to give the people of this city $3 road show productions at prices they can afford to pay."

Mr. Oberfelder is an experienced showman, and his experience in Denver, Kansas City, and other cities is proof that he knows his business. Assisting Mr. Oberfelder is John McWee, also a well-known theatrical showman.

MASQUERADERS CROWD STREETS

Downtown Area Thronged by Celebrants on Halloween.

Halloween was celebrated in Indianapolis last night with all the fervor appropriate for such an observance. Grotesquely costumed figures swarmed through downtown streets leading into Monument Circle, roped off by police for the evening's festivities. The steps to the monument were crowded with spectators and participants.

Several thousand persons attended the Legion ball in Tomlinson hall under auspices of Robinson post. The dance was preceded by a parade of several musical organizations, led by the uniformed Twelfth district American Legion drum corps.

Approximately 7,000 attended the masquerade party held at the state fairgrounds in connection with the Walkathon contest. Fourteen couples participating in the contest entertained the crowd.

Parties also were held in private homes, clubs, ballrooms and roadhouses.
