

NONPARDONED CRIMINALS TO BE REGISTERED

Council Passes Plan to Aid Police: Walkathon Under Fire.

Registration with the police department of all nonpardoned convicts, punishment of garbage bootleggers, cessation of the walkathon, and annexation of additional territory to the city were the subjects of ordinances considered by the city council Monday night.

Aid for Police Chief Michael Morrissey during the present "reign of terror" in Indiana was the goal of an ordinance passed requiring registration of all convicts, except those pardoned or those who have completed their full sentence without parole.

Registration within twenty-four hours will be required upon conviction of any one of a number of felonies named in the ordinance. New addresses of convicted criminals also must be furnished to the police, with a complete history of each individual.

Stop "Garbage Bootleggers"
The ordinance penalizing "garbage bootleggers" will save the city thousands of dollars each year, according to Maurice Tennant, council member and sanitary district president. It also will tend to stop the scattering of garbage over alleys and streets by "unofficial" garbage collectors who are careless in their methods, it is claimed.

Ordinance for annexation of a strip of land, described in the ordinance as "one lot deep on both sides of Meridian street from Seventy-first street to Williams creek," was passed. It was proposed by the city zoning board to control any possible business that might be started in this region.

"Twenty thousand" members of the Indianapolis Council of Women, through their representatives, urged passage of the ordinance which would stop the walkathon and prevent recurrence of similar endurance contests in the city. Those representing the women's organization included Mrs. Allen T. Fleming and Mrs. I. E. Rush.

Theaters in Protest
Charles R. Metzger, representing the theater owners of Indianapolis, also requested passage of the ordinance, and was followed by Arthur Layday of the Motion Picture Operators' union, who stated that theaters are threatened with closing and the jobs of a large number of local employees likewise are in danger.

Dr. Herbert T. Wagner, physician in attendance at the walkathon, denied that health of contestants was being impaired.

An ordinance reallocating and establishing twenty-two wards in the city was introduced.

ACCUSED OF POSING AS FAKE U. S. AGENT

Man Held by Police After Asking Help in Making 'Arrest.'

Alleged to have posed to police as a federal agent, Harry F. Reynolds, who said he was a member of Company F, Eleventh Infantry, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, is held today on a charge of vagrancy, under high bond.

Lieutenant John Sheehan and squad reported meeting Reynolds at East and Washington streets. He asked them to accompany him on the arrest of a woman for possessing narcotics.

Reynolds refused to show any credentials, but finally admitted he was not a federal agent, police said. He had no credentials to prove he is a soldier. Investigation by police revealed that Reynolds registered at a hotel under the name of Harry Fry, Philadelphia.

Thieves Get Sewing Machine

To play successful contract you must watch the drop of the cards. Very often they will give you a complete reading of the opponents' hands which will enable you to make either a squeeze or an end play to produce the trick needed for your contract.

Here is a hand played in the team-of-four contest in the recent Kentucky state championship tournament at Ft. Thomas. The contest was won by the Du Ruelle Club team of Louisville, and this hand helped win the match.

West opened the six of spades. East went up with the king and declarer won the trick with the ace. He won the next two tricks in clubs, West's jack dropping.

The declarer then played the ace of diamonds, intending to finesse the second diamond. But East showed out, discarding a heart. This marked West with five diamonds. He had shown out of clubs, so the rest of his cards were either three spades and two hearts, or four spades and one heart.

COMMITTEE TO DRAFT LIQUOR CONTROL PLAN

Nonpartisan Group to Be Named by Governor: May Be Permanent.

Governor Paul V. McNutt will seek solution of the liquor control problem after repeal by the nonpartisan commission of from five to seven members, it was announced today.

The Governor already has a list of prospective personnel, including one minister, and will announce those chosen within the week, he said.

This commission will start in an advisory capacity and recommend the best method of handling liquor, but later may be made permanent and be called upon to aid in solving future problems which may arise, it was said.

Orders to carry out any rulings will come through Paul Fry, state excise director, who operates under direction of Governor McNutt.

An opinion setting forth these powers still is to be presented to the Governor by Attorney-General Philip Lutz Jr.

Governor McNutt will insist that the Democratic state platform against return of the saloon be carried out in the liquor rulings and has announced that he will approve no setup which permits liquor to be consumed in beer places.

Predicted solution is that of bottle sales in such small quantities as the so-called "Cuban pint."

HELD IN LIQUOR CASE
One Held After Raid Nets Still. Whisky, Deputies Claim.

Isaiah Smith was under arrest today on liquor and still possession charges following a raid last night by deputy sheriffs on a house at 918 Morgan street. Officers said they confiscated a fifty-gallon still about five gallons of whisky and three barrels of mash. A second man escaped.

The former convict had been sought for two months since forfeiting a $20,000 bond to appear in Chicago to answer charges of participating in the $85,000 pay roll robbery of the International Harvester Company, in 1926.

Sammons was found guilty of murder and sentenced to death in 1904. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, then reduced to 50 years in 1923. The next year he was released on parole.

In 1927 he was sent to Leavenworth federal penitentiary for whisky theft and served eighteen months. He was arrested in Kansas City a year ago.

"I am so happy—the last pimple is gone"

—because pimples tend to thrive when normal resistance is lacking, your first thought should be to build up your blood structure... the way to do this is by increasing the red blood cells and their hemoglobin content... this will permit a greater oxygen intake—from the lungs—into the blood and tissues—including the skin... nourishment will be better converted into energy and tissue repair... body cells, which fight against micro-organisms (pimple germs) will be strengthened.

Then why not try S.S.S.—the proven tonic for decades? Proved effective by extensive scientific research and by millions of happy users. You, too, may have a clear skin. Get S.S.S. at any drug store. The big 20 oz. size is more economical and is good for a two weeks' treatment.
