Notre Dame Saves Hoosier Grid 'Rep'

Purdue and Indiana Tumble in Upsets

HOOSIER football prestige received a rude jolt Saturday, but there is some consolation in the feat of Notre Dame finally landing over the goal line and on the top side of the score. Northwestern was the victim and as usual, the Irish pushed their opponents all over the lot without cashing in on a quantity of points. The one victory may start them off, however, and the Southern California and Army tilts now loom as interesting scrambles and important enough to draw the customers through the turnstiles.

The hard-fighting Iowa team knocked off Purdue and knocked off most of the best game prognosticators in the land. It was an upset that carried a lot of dynamite and found football fans of Hoosierdom hanging on the ropes. Great credit is due the Hawkeyes. They out-played the brilliant Boilermaker machine and showed few signs of the furious battle waged with the powerful Michigan eleven the week before.

INDIANA fell by the wayside again and it was little Xavier of Cincinnati that put one more blemish on the record of the Crimson. It's difficult to understand the Crimson grid warriors. They held Chicago to a 7 to 7 tie on Nov. 11 and it took all that Illinois possessed to defeat Chicago Saturday. Instead of gaining confidence over their fine performance against the Maroons, Coach Billy Hayes' men tackled an inspired Xavier team and cracked up. De Pauw is tipping its hat to nobody. The Tigers are wearing the robes of royalty in their own class, undefeated, untied and unscathed upon. They were given a stiff argument by their ancient foe, Wabash, Saturday, but form won out in the long run and by a two-touchdown count.

HANOVER of the Hills warped Ball State and demonstrated once again that its decisive triumph over Wabash the week previous was no fluke. This is one Monday that Coach Hunk Anderson of Notre Dame doesn't have to listen to the wall of the wolves. On the other hand, Coach Dick Hanley of Northwestern doubtless is pleading for cold towels. His team has established a record that would drive any mentor to the queer house. It tied Stanford and Minnesota, both top flight teams, and barely was nosed out by Illinois and Iowa. Its lone victory was at the expense of Indiana and it lost on fumbles to Ohio State.

FOUR cities were represented at the roller polo meeting held Sunday at Tomlinson hall, two less than the organization officials expected. Efforts are being made to have Terre Haute enter the loop, although the talk of Cincinnati coming in seems to have ended. The directors naturally prefer a six-club circuit, but plan to start with five or four, if unsuccessful in the scheme to enlarge the league. Richmond, Ft. Wayne, Muncie and Indianapolis took part in the business meeting here yesterday. Harry C. Geisel, of Indianapolis, veteran American League umpire, was elected president of the loop. The organization will be known as the Midwest Roller Polo League. Geisel is familiar with the roller sport and used to be a follower of the swift pastime in the old days. Robert Rehmeyer, Richmond, was chosen vice president; Ralph Miller of Ft. Wayne, treasurer, and O. D. May, Indianapolis, secretary.

CHUCK KLEIN, Indianapolis, batting champion of the National League, is back from a hunting and fishing trip to Texas. He went big with rod and gun and returned with enough stories of captures to silence all of his friends who think they are champs in the outdoor league. Klein's companion in Texas was Pinkie Whitney, infielder with the Boston Nationals, a former team mate of Chuck's at Philly. Klein has started to polish up his bowling game and is a regular on the tenpin alleys. He slips up on the pins and calls his new delivery the "sneaker."

SO many upsets were chalked up in Saturday's important college grid contests that it's unlikely that Perfect Picker Pete will come out of his shell. Hundreds of Times readers turned in forecasts on sixteen Nov. 18 games and the selections were being sent through the checking department today. Names of the high prognosticators will be announced Tuesday. A basket of coupons was received, and to avoid "fumbles" all slips were re-checked. Any time The Times makes an oversight, the fan experts are requested to hustle in with a correction. It's almost impossible to check all scores submitted and complete the task without overlooking something important now and then. At any rate, the new list of I Told You So Boys will be announced tomorrow and on Wednesday will be published another group of games for the fans to "shoot at." This is the last big week of college grids.

WITH the exception of Norman Isaacs, the ten staff "experts" of The Times, went down for a crushing defeat in the "pick 'em league" last week. Isaacs was "tops over all" with eleven winners, three misses and one tie in fifteen games. He forecast the actual results of the Notre Dame-Northwestern and Xavier-Indiana games. The entire staff went down with Purdue and the scribes are shedding more tears than the Boilermakers. Nobody was smart enough to give Iowa a tumble. Five selected Notre Dame to bounce out of the wilderness, with Isaacs, Lee and Doss naming the official score, Iowa-State-Oklahoma. Not a single member of the office I-Told-You-So group forecast the Minnesota-Michigan tie, although Doss was a close with a 7 to 6 Michigan guess. Boxell and Layman named Minnesota to win. The column conductor wound up with eight winners, six misses and one tie. It was tough going and the bouquets will be passed to the new office champion, Norm Isaacs. He was the lone "expert" to foresee the surprise downfall of Indiana to Xavier.

Track Stars Twinkle on Many College Gridirons

BY HENRY M'LEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Putting the sports shot and the track and field athletes are going in for football in a big way this season, with no less than six national or intercollegiate champions on the gridiron. . . . There's Duane Purvis of Purdue, a javelin fiend; Pete Zarembo, N. Y. U., the hammer champ; Ivan Fuqua of Indiana, our best quarter-miler; Willie Ward of Michigan, high jump champion; Glenn Hardin of L. S. U., hurdle ace, and Jack Torrance of the same school, shot-putter of repute. . . . One might add that Ralph Metcalfe, world sprint record holder, is water boy at Marquette and gets the bucket out there before the players hit the ground. . . . Another trackman using his speed is Bob MacAllister, the one-time sprinter who is now a cop. . . . He recently outran an automobile in which four thugs were escaping, shot one dead and captured another. . . . Bob says it wasn't bravery. . . . he thought the bandit's shot was the starting gun.

Man Mountain Dean, the 300-pound wrestler with the Spanish moss beard, is a chicken rancher. The captain of the Chicago Blackhawks is Chuck Gardiner, the first goalie to be so honored in a decade or two.

Max Baer, called into a Hollywood ring for an introduction the other night, punched referee Jack Dempsey on both cheeks and then kissed him and they wonder what's wrong with the fight game. . . . Our apologies to the Army team for cussing it out for the use of bear grease on their legs in the Harvard game. . . . It wasn't grease at all but a liniment of wintergreen, cloves, peppermint and such stuff to keep the legs warm. . . . Two or three minutes after it's rubbed on it evaporates. . . . Okay, Pat!

Back in the ancient days of boxing antagonists used to fight sitting down. . . . modern pugilists could take a lesson from Melanoma, the favorite box-fighter of the Emperor Tisus. Melanoma is credited with winning an Olympic championship without striking a blow. . . . He just parried punches and skipped nimbly about until his opponents collapsed of exhaustion.

MORGAN PARK VICTOR

Two Touchdowns Scored in Last Three Minutes of Game.

By Times Special
CULVER, Ind., Nov. 20.—Two touchdowns scored in the last three minutes furnished a thrilling climax to a football duel here Saturday between Culver military academy and Morgan Park military academy of Chicago. Morgan Park winning, 7 to 6. The first half ended with the ball in Culver's possession on the visitor's two-yard line.

Culver scored on a lateral pass play three minutes before the end of the game. Morgan Park got the ball on the kickoff, completed four forward passes, and ran two off tackle plays for a touchdown. The point was good on an off tackle play. Culver's try for point was blocked. Bands and students from the two academies paraded between halves.

As Stalwarts of Football Met in Important Clashes

Notre Dame scored its second victory of the year, with the season seven games old, when it beat Northwestern, 7 to 0, at Dwyer stadium, Evanston, Ill. Don Elser, sophomore full back star, is pictured above, head down on top of the heap as he made three yards for the Fighting Irish in the first quarter of the battle with the Wildcats. NEA Service supplied the photo.

The two unbeaten teams of the Big Ten, Michigan and Minnesota, were supposed to decide the Western Conference championship in their championship game at Ann Arbor Saturday, but they played to no decision. When this view was snapped, Boise, Minnesota back field plunger, was finding the going tough in the second quarter. It's an NEA Service picture.

A. A. U. Boxing Faces Change

By United Press
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—The Amateur Athletic Union buckled down to the more serious business of its forty-fifth annual convention today with floor action on amendments and proposals of many committees. The delegates were to take up discussions of ninety-six amendments to the union's constitution. Drastic changes are expected to be made in some rules, especially pertaining to boxing and the system of measurement for events governed by the union. There is a strong feeling current among the delegates that the metric system of measurement will be retained to give the United States uniformly with other countries.

The Middle Atlantic Association of the A. A. U. sponsored an amendment favoring heavier gloves for boxing bouts. The proposed change is from gloves weighing six to eight ounces to eight to ten-ounce gloves. Another amendment proposes a change in the number of rounds from three to five and making each round two minutes long instead of three.

Irish to Start Drill for Game

SOUTH BEND, Nov. 20.—Notre Dame came through the Northwestern game without serious injury to any of its players, and started training today for the Southern California game in the best mental condition since the opening of the season.

Half backs Nick Lukats and Ray Brancheau, and quarter back Tony Mazzotti were severely bruised in the 7-0 victory over Northwestern, but will be ready for action Saturday.

Holy Trinity A. C. gridmen yesterday annexed the city amateur title with a 7 to 0 victory over the Riverside Olympics in a feature game at Perry stadium.

In the earlier tilt in the stadium Spades took the Em-Roe city league championship, defeating the Brightwood team 13 to 0.

Henrichs of the Trinities intercepted a pass in the second quarter and went seventy yards for a touchdown. Bresnick place-kicked the extra point.

Meredith took a thirty-yard pass from Hoffbauer to score first for Spades, and H. Slegman intercepted a Brightwood pass in the third period and trotted thirteen yards for the second touchdown. McIntyre added the extra point with a line plunge.

Purdue Bids Big Ten Title Hopes Farewell; Notre Dame Wins One

By Dick Miller
Purdue forgot to win, Notre Dame forgot to lose and Indiana forgot to breathe. So goes the story of Indiana's big three in football engagements last Saturday.

Purdue lost to Iowa 14-6, and dropped from the Big Ten race. Notre Dame finally pushed over a touchdown to Northwestern 7-0, and Indiana took it on the chin at Cincinnati, from St. Xavier college, 6-0.

De Pauw, by defeating her traditional rival Wabash 14-0, took an outstanding place in national football being one of the two teams in the nation undefeated and unscathed upon. De Pauw is finished

It was will be a headlock artist vs. a bone-crushing "wild man" when Irish Pat O'Shocker, popular Salt Lake City mat star, clashes with Chief Chewchick, Oklahoma Indian, in the main go on the Hercules A. C. wrestling card Tuesday night at the Armory.

Action gallop is expected when the two powerful huskies come to grips. Chewchick scales 232 and O'Shocker 225. Both are rated top-notch grapplers. O'Shocker relies chiefly on his highly-touted head-drag to floor his opponents, while the redskin goes in for an extra

Down the Alleys

By Lefty Lee

The third week's play of the Alley Owners' 1,000 scratch sweepstakes, staged on the Pritchett and Uptown found the teams going stronger than ever, the Mic-Lis-McCahill quintet topping the field with a grand total of 3,334. Pure Oil was next, just four pins away, with a mark of 3,330. Other high totals were: Dutch Masters, 3,293; Berghoff Beer, 3,241; Fletcher Trust, 3,241; Beach and Fletcher Trust, 3,241; Cook's Goldblume, 3,204, and Raab Bros., 3,202.

The 3,330 rolled by the Pure Oil pastimers placed them at the top of the list for the nine games played with a mark of 9,943. Cook Goldblume is in a position to place these boys if they falter, their mark being 9,907.

Other teams among the first ten are: Main Office Fletcher Trust, 3,187; Borg and Beer, 3,180; Empire Life, 3,180; Super Lubricants, 3,139; Mic-Lis-McCahill, 3,139; Fletcher Trust, 3,139; Old Gold Cigarette, 3,139; and St. Philip's, 3,139. The Illinois and St. Philip's alleys, the teams that rolled at the Pritchett and Uptown, are the only teams to have rolled at both places during this week. The Mic-Lis-McCahill team, which rolled at the Pritchett and Uptown, is the only team to have rolled at both places during this week.

The work of the Berghoff Beer team has been the outstanding feature of the Alley Owners' meet, during the first half of the season. The team has rolled a 9,903, an average of 3,301 pins per set.

The opinion among the bowlers seems to be that the allowance of the full 100 per cent bonus has hurt the meet for the good bowlers, their claims being that the bonus is too high and that the teams are being forced to play for the bonus instead of for the game.

In a special match game at the Pritchett Recreation alleys, the Bowles Sea, Past team, team defeated the Bowles Sea Past team, 2,436 to 2,538. The girls started fast and assumed a lead of fifty pins the first game, but the men came fast from this point and won the next two games and the match when Bowles and Bowles clicked for totals of 656 and 563, for the second Johns and Meryers were the stars, having counts of 580 and 524.

With tournament time drawing near the doubles teams lined up for this class of play are urged to use the law they can work together. Next Sunday they will have their chance at the Delaware Recreation with her seven game schedule, and Princeton, the other, has two more games to go.

Hanover closed her Indiana schedule with a snappy 20-0 win over Ball State and Valparaiso won by forfeit from Gary Junior college. Both Valpo and Hanover are among the best teams in Hoosierland this fall.

Purdue tossed away a couple of good chances to score in the early part of their game with Iowa and as the struggle wore on the Hawkeyes showed their superiority.

Early in the game the Boilermakers had the ball on the four-yard line and were unable to punch it over. Later they passed into the end zone for a touchdown.

Then Joe Laws dashed twenty-seven yards around end for a touchdown that was well earned with perfect blocking and later this same Joe Laws ran back a punt fifty-five yards for his second touchdown of the game.

Purdue's lone touchdown was made by Fritz Febel, who scooped up a blocked punt and ran twenty-five yards. With a 14 point lead it seemed that Iowa had little need for crossing up the opposition with a quick kick that was blocked.

Irish Break Streak
Andy Pilney, Notre Dame's sophomore star, managed to wiggle over the Northwestern line to give the Irish their first win in six games. He was going to have it this fall when he scheduled such teams as Carnegie Tech and Indiana and he pleased the Queen City fans by holding Tech 3-0 and the homecoming fans went wild as he dropped Indiana 6-0.

Xavier tried five passes, all good, and outtrussed Indiana 148 to 105 yards from scrimmage.

De Pauw Is Victor
Indiana doubtless scheduled Xavier as a blemisher game to precede the Purdue game—but it turned out to be a tough one.

Wabash battled furiously in the first half to hold De Pauw scoreless, but in the third period the Tiger passing attack began to click, and, with Bradley tossing a pair of them, to Volkman for thirty yards and to Red Pierce, who took the oval over, Bradley place-kicked the extra point.

After Ave did some fine ball totting, and Bradley passed to Elso to carry the ball to the 7-yard line. Pierce scored his second marker and Bradley again kicked the point.

Hanover's savage running attack piled up twenty points in the first half, Hay making two of the markers and Peere one. It was homecoming day for the Panthers. Coach John Van Liew's boys wind up the season at Charleston, Ill., against Eastern Illinois Teachers college.

Saturday's Frays Throw Big Ten Title in Jumble

Michigan, Minnesota Leading Contenders for Conference Crown as Race Goes Into Final Week; Buckeyes and Illini Have Outside Chance.

By Fred Bailey
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The Western Conference football championship campaign, badly jumbled by ties and upsets, entered its final week today with four teams remaining as contenders for the Big Ten title.

Upsets Saturday changed the whole complexion of the race and sent it into one of the dizziest finishes in the history of the Conference. The title dangled before Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio State and Illinois as a possible reward for victories next Saturday.

Six tie games, involving all but three members of the Conference have resulted in the twenty-three games played. Minnesota has played four tie games and Indiana and Chicago two each. Michigan, Purdue, Northwestern and Wisconsin have engaged in one tie game each.

Finish High or Low
So involved in tie games has Minnesota become that a victory over Wisconsin Saturday may bring the championship and a defeat result in the Gophers winding up the season as low as seventh place in the Conference standing. The Minnesota team has won but one of its five games, but remains undefeated. Once again Hunk Anderson's boys chance to defeat the increasingly powerful Gopher aggregation led by Pug Lund, the midwest's leading candidate for all-America.

Michigan, sharing the lead with Minnesota, plays a crippled team at Evanston. Although battered by hard games on three successive Saturdays and shaken by their tie with Minnesota Saturday, the Wolverines still were "the big, bad wolf" of the Conference.

Buckeyes, Illini Could Win
Should both Michigan and Minnesota lose, as seems improbable, either Ohio State or Illinois would have to win in the game they play against each other at Columbus to claim the title. A tie would remove both from the championship picture.

Ohio State nosed out Wisconsin, 6-0, Saturday, while Illinois was winning, 7-0, from Chicago. Purdue's Boilermakers were tumbled from a chance at the title when Iowa unexpectedly tripped them, 14-6, and broke their string of victories at twenty.

Indiana and Purdue meet Saturday at Bloomington in a game that has no bearing on the Conference championship. Chicago meets Dartmouth and Iowa plays Nebraska outside the Conference.

Prison Team Is Freed for Game

By United Press
PONTIAC, Ill., Nov. 20.—The Pontiac reformatory football team was allowed to go outside the walls of the institution yesterday to play for the benefit of an injured boy.

The team, never before allowed to leave the institution grounds, played a team composed of former Pontiac high school stars. Proceeds of the game went to George Hunt, former El Paso high school quarter back, who has been paralyzed since he was hurt in 1929 during a game between the El Paso and Pontiac high school teams.

The reformatory team won today, 7 to 0, scoring early in the first period after recovering its own opening kickoff.
