

LINK COPELAND WITH PRISON GANG, SAY COPS

Witnesses Are Said to Have Identified Prisoner as Auto Passenger.

joined the gang of escaped convicts who headed into Ohio and later freed Dillinger.

Copeland has been definitely linked with the convicts in Ohio, according to Captain Leach, who was introduced to a brother of one of the convicts, Fred Pierpont, in Hamilton, O., as a "Mr. Charrington."

Leave Expires Friday

Copeland was brought to Indianapolis on a five-day leave of absence from the state prison. He will be taken back to Michigan City Friday, Captain Leach said. The leave expires Friday.

Copeland was brought to the statehouse today for a "nice, quiet talk" in a room at state police headquarters.

The state police head also planned to bring bank employees from Daleville and Montpelier, where holdups were perpetrated, to Indianapolis, in an attempt to identify Copeland as one of the participants.

The police guard at headquarters was augmented last night after two false police calls had sent radio patrol cars to 5300 North Pennsylvania street and a store at Shelby and Carson avenue.

Stand Guard With Rifles

The North Pennsylvania call was to the effect that a man had been shot by a woman, while the south side call was an A. D. T. alarm.

Police feared that the calls might be attempts to draw officers from police headquarters in an effort to weaken the force guarding Copeland and that an attempt would be made to free Copeland.

Throughout questioning of Copeland yesterday and today, officers with rifles stood guard over the prisoner at police headquarters.

Witnesses to the Dillinger getaway in Lima are expected to come here in an attempt to link Copeland with the escape of Dillinger.

Six witnesses of the Central National bank holdup at Greencastle failed to identify Copeland as one of the bandits.

Copeland, however, was identified by A. C. Crays, president of the Rockville bank, and his son, Roland, as one of the bandits who robbed his institution of $200.

PRISON REVOLT HALTED, STRICT GUARD IS KEPT

Move to Prevent Repetition of Pennsylvania Uprising.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—Their rebellion quelled by the menacing guns of crack motor bandit patrolmen, Sullen prisoners in the Eastern state penitentiary today were kept under strict guard as the result of the most serious disorder in the prison's history.

Wrecked machinery and fire-scarred workshops gave evidence of the violence of a disturbance late yesterday which necessitated the summoning of city policemen and a fire company to assist guards in subduing the riotous convicts.

Several shots echoed over the walls during the noisy demonstration, but prison officials said no one was injured.

JUDGE LETS MAN OUT TO HOUSE HIS BEES

Drunken Driver Gets Release to Put Away Insects.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Nov. 22.—Because his bees had not yet been put in their winter quarters, Walter Weigert, serving a sixty-day sentence in jail for drunken driving, was given a reprieve of several days.

Weigert told Judge H. M. Fellenz that he would lose fifteen hives if the bees were not housed. Weigert was released for three days and then returned to jail to serve out the remainder of his term.

BRONX CHEERS MAKE TERM IN JAIL LONGER

Intoxication Defendant Arouses Anger of Judge.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 22.—Police Judge R. E. Taggart heard evidence indicating I. A. Ryals, Aberdeen, was drunk and fined him $15. Ryals tossed back his head and issued a robust Bronx cheer. Angered, the judge added ten days in jail. Again Ryals gave the salute. The judge increased the sentence to thirty days. Ryals Bronx cheered again. The sentence went to sixty days. The jailer hauled him out of the courtroom before he could sputter himself into jail for a longer period.

DIGS UP ANCIENT PICK

Old Instrument of Soil Believed to Be 300 Years Old.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Nov. 22.—David Zavalofsky, while digging a post hole in his yard, unearthed a pick believed to be 300 years old. His home is a short distance from where the Pilgrims landed.

IS THERE ANYTHING WORSE THAN A BACKACHE?

A continuous backache takes all the joy out of living. If accompanied by irregular urination and a tired, nervous feeling, backache may be caused by kidney or bladder trouble.

Diurex Pills will help you as they helped Mrs. Lillian Noble, Greenock, Pa. She says: "Diurex will help any one suffering from a backache caused by kidney trouble. I have taken two boxes of Diurex and my backache is almost gone. I would say, gladly, twice as much as you ask if it is a wonderful medicine."

Hoaxers Loose

Housewives Here Are Victims of Racket.

INDIANAPOLIS housewives are being victimized by a new racket. Here is how it goes:

The doorbell rings. Mrs. Housewife answers and finds a young man on the threshold.

Young Man: Have you seen any guys from Notre Dame? (or Indiana, or De Pauw, or Wabash, or any other nearby college.)

Housewife: Why, no, I haven't.

Young Man: I'm from Notre Dame, see. I gotta chance to take a round-the-world cruise on one of them floating colleges. After that "The New York Times" will hire me as a reporter. It's a contest. All I gotta do is get more magazine subscriptions than the other guys. Just sign here and give a young fella a chance to travel and get a start in life on "The New York Times."

The Indianapolis Times asked "The New York Times" about the matter.

"It is a hoax, pure and simple," came the prompt response.

BONES BELIEVED PART OF MONSTER'S SPINE

One Piece Found in Texas Too Heavy For Lifting.

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 22.—Out of the shallow water along the banks of the San Jacinto river near here has come something that may date back to the time when great monsters roamed the earth.

While searching for ferns, L. B. Abbott and Raymond Cagle found a section of bone that apparently once formed part of the vertebrae of a big creature. Near by was another piece too heavy to lift.

The find was reported to the Smithsonian Institution.

TURKS WILL USE GAS IN WAR AGAINST DOGS

Many Still Roam Despite Slaying of 150,000.

ISTANBUL, Nov. 22.—A dog's life in Istanbul is cheap—but not for the Turkish government.

Sharing the Moslem aversion to dogs, authorities here have spent millions trying to be rid of them, even paying a bounty on each dead dog's tail. Though 150,000 have been killed in the last fifteen years, bands of them still rove the streets at night. The city has now decided to try gas.

COMPANY UNION WINS FIGHT IN INDIANA PLANT

Newcastle Workers Cast 295 Ballots for Collective Bargaining.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Victory for a company union in an election of workers representatives at the Newcastle (Ind.) plant of the Ingersoll Steel and Disc Company was announced today by the national labor board.

The election was supervised by the board to settle a fight between the company's Mutual Benefit and Representation Association and the Amalgamated Association on Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

In the ballot 295 workers voted for collective bargaining through the Mutual Benefit Association and seventy supported the A. F. of L. union.

FLIGHT RECORD TO BE CHECKED

Settle's Instruments to Be Unsealed at Capital by Experts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Commander T. W. G. Settle's barograph was scheduled to be unsealed and calibrated by the bureau of standards this afternoon to see how far he and Major Chester Fordney soared in the stratosphere Monday.

Settle said the mercury in the tube indicated they had reached 59,000 feet, more than a mile in excess of the altitude attained by August Piccard.

If this is borne out, the Settle-Fordney ascension probably will be accepted as a world record by the Federation Aviation Internationale, because the ascension of three Soviet balloonists, who claimed recently to have reached 62,000 feet was not recognized. The Soviets were not associated with the federation.

Commander Settle brought his barograph and scientific instruments used in the study of the cosmic ray to Washington late yesterday from the marshes near Washington, N. J., where he brought down his stratosphere balloon Monday night.

MINISTER JOINS POLICE

Massachusetts Pastor Will Occupy Pulpit as Usual.

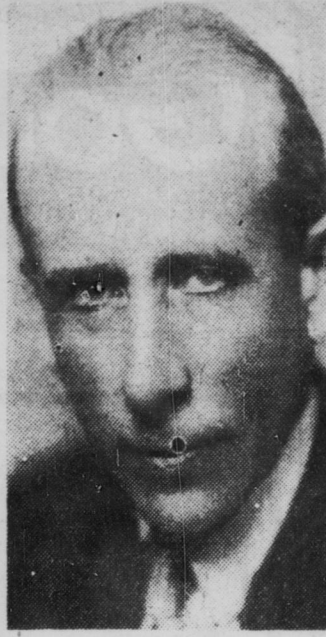

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—The Rev. Ernest A. Thorsell, minister of the Union Baptist church of South Foxboro, recently was made a member of the uniformed division of the Massachusetts state police. He expects to preach at the church as usual on Sundays.

COMING HERE AGAIN

William Hard

A vivid picture of the international economic conference in London last summer will be painted in words Friday at English's theater when William Hard, news commentator for the National Broadcasting Company, speaks on the Town Hall program.

Mr. Hard is a repeat celebrity on the Town Hall lecture. He appeared here last season.

"I shall talk on American bread and butter, focusing attention on the fact that the butter will perhaps never be quite so thick as we would like to have it here until the bread is everywhere more effectively baked and distributed," he writes of his lecture.

NRA COAL CODE BOARDS NAMED BY ROOSEVELT

Harrington and Woodward Appointed to Indiana, Illinois Section.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The NRA embarked today on its effort to enforce codes by completing organization of compliance authorities for the bituminous coal industry.

President Roosevelt appointed Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, Federal Judge George W. Anderson of Boston, and Fred G. Tryon, bureau of mines economist, as a national board of three to carry out provisions of the soft coal code.

General Johnson revealed announcement of other compliance systems would be made "very soon."

Presidential members of the eastern division coal code authority will be Wayne P. Ellis, Washington; George Anderson, New York; Walter A. Jones, Pittsburgh; Benedict Crowell, Cleveland; George B. Hardesty, Fairmount, W. Va.; Frank L. Poindexter, Cincinnati, and Fred K. Prosser, Bluefield, W. Va.

Those on the Indiana-Illinois authority will be Joseph Harrington, Chicago and Frank C. Woodward, Terre Haute. Monte Lehman, Birmingham, was appointed for the south; Arthur Vail, Denver, for the west, and Robert S. Lemon, Kansas

MUSEUM TO GET OLD TERRE HAUTE ENGINE

80-Year-Old Hand-Pumper to Be Placed With Lindbergh Plane.

By Times Special

TERRE HAUTE, Nov. 22.—Carl W. Mitman, Smithsonian Institute head curator, was here yesterday to arrange the transporting of this city's old hand-pumper fire engine to the institute, to be placed in the same room with Lindbergh's famous plane, "Spirit of St. Louis."

The old engine was brought to Terre Haute in 1855, and was used by volunteer companies until 1859 when a steam pumper replaced it, and it was sold to Jasper, Ind. It was bought back, as a relic, in 1904 by public subscription.
