Following an illness of three weeks, Thomas P. Coburn, 44, president of the Coburn Motor Company, died at 6 yesterday morning in his home, 3060 North Meridian street.

Mr. Coburn was a prominent Chevrolet dealer in the state and his connection with automotive business extended back into early manhood.

Last rites will be held in Newcastle tomorrow morning at 10:30. Burial will be in Newcastle. Mr. Coburn was born in Kentucky. He was a member of the Masonic Blue lodge in Arkansas City, Ark. Murat temple, the Columbia Club and the B. P. O. E.

As a young man, he was engaged in the lumber business in the south.

Services Held for Dr. Young

The psychiatric work of Dr. Mary H. Young was lauded by Dr. William Lowe Bryan, Indiana university president, at the funeral services held yesterday for Dr. Young in the Fletcher & Buchanan mortuary. The body will be taken to Canton, O., today for burial.

"The work of Dr. Young and that of her husband before her was characterized by the studying of individual cases in clinics, rather than mere philosophizing about psychology," Dr. Bryan said.

Dr. Bryan traced the career of Dr. Young from the time she first became connected with Indiana university.

Dr. Young, who was killed in an automobile accident Friday near Martinsville, was director of the Herman H. Young Foundation.

"German Christian" church movement.

PACKING PLANTS MAY CLOSE AS STRIKE RESULT

Chicago Stockyards Scene of Disorder as Pickets Threaten Trouble.

By United Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Striking stock handlers brought operations at the world's largest livestock center to a sudden halt this afternoon.

Work at the gigantic Chicago packing plants proceeded temporarily, but will be brought to a standstill soon unless the dispute is quickly settled.

The scene at the union stockyards was one of terrific confusion as a handful of men sought to unload hundreds of truckloads of cattle, pigs and sheep that arrived at the yards overnight.

Pickets jammed the streets surrounding the packing plants, urging all workers to walk out. Police patrolled the area, fearful of disorder. Several sluggings were reported.

U. S. GOLD BUYING STILL AT STANDSTILL

Price Unchanged at $33.76 for Sixth Consecutive Day.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The government's gold buying program continued at a standstill today as treasury officials resumed consideration of the government's $727,000,000 Dec. 15 maturity.

The domestic buying rate for gold was kept at $33.76 an ounce for the sixth successive day. This led to further firmness in the American dollar abroad, since the recent bidding up of gold has caused a corresponding decline in the American dollar.

Decision of the administration to "go slow" on its gold buying program followed criticism of the program by many economists and business groups last week and the recent weakness in United States.

No matter how closely a pet is watched it will at some time decide to go for a stroll all alone. And many times they go too far and can't find their way back.
It is only natural for some one to put a wandering pet under their protection with the hope of being able to locate its owner.

When most people find dogs or other pets they immediately turn to the Lost and Found column because they are sure of locating the owner there.

If you have a pet that occasionally goes wandering you can eliminate considerable worry by merely phoning
a lost ad to The Times.
