Perfect Picker Pete Nearly Corralled
Heustis and Warner Name 14 Winners

IT was a close shave for Perfect Picker Pete of Pickersville in The Times I Told You So League on grid game forecasts as of Nov. 25. Two Times fan experts drew so close to the elusive Pete that it's a cinch he was on the point of drawing his career to an end. Larry Heustis, 1828 College avenue, Michigan 17, picked fourteen winners out of the group of sixteen games and Jack S. Warner, 1124 North Tacoma avenue, turned in the same record, fourteen and two. That's calling the turn, boys, for a percentage of .875. The Flourishing Fourteens!

Heustis fell down on Chicago-Dartmouth and Florida-Auburn, and Warner miscued on Chicago-Dartmouth and Nebraska-Iowa. He forecast the upset of Auburn by Florida. Warner also selected the official Southern California-Notre Dame decision, 19 to 0. Seven members of The Times football posse engaged in the pursuit of Perfect Picker Pete turned in thirteen winners and three misses, and twenty-eight amateur prognosticators "tore off" twelve winners against only four misses.

AMONG the fans who finished in the second high group were several real sharpshooters on actual scores. This group, seven in number, each "hit on thirteen" winners. The runners-up list is made up of Indianapolis collegiate football followers. None of the out-of-town pickers was included in the two top flights on last Saturday's games. The Thrifty Thirteens follow:

Jacob Pfeiffer, 739 Dorman street. His misses were Chicago-Dartmouth, N. Y. U.-Carnegie and Florida-Auburn. He named the actual Detroit-Michigan State score, 14 to 0.
William J. Rieck, 1101 North Tacoma avenue. He missed Ohio State-Illinois, N. Y. U.-Carnegie and Florida-Auburn.
Ava Belle Smith, 1428 North New Jersey street, missed on Detroit-Michigan State, N. Y. U.-Carnegie and Florida-Auburn.
Philip C. Lewis, 1591 Kentucky avenue, missed on Minnesota-Wisconsin, Stanford-California and Florida-Auburn.
R. B. O'Haver, 1440 Roache street, missed on Ohio State-Illinois, N. Y. U.-Carnegie and Florida-Auburn. Was close to the actual Purdue-Indiana and Army-Navy results, naming 19 to 0 and 14 to 7, respectively. Official scores were 19 to 3 and 12 to 7.
William Mullen, 526 South Missouri street. Missed Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Called the correct Detroit score.
"Under the Wire" city. Missed Southern California-Notre Dame, Nebraska-Iowa and Harvard-Yale. Forecast the Auburn upset by Florida, 13 to 6. Official score was 14 to 7.

THE Twinkling Twelves are next to be paraded before the gaze of John Public in the I Told You So fraternity of the Times Hall of Experts. Twenty-eight "scored" with twelve winners out of sixteen tries and down through this list will be found an abundance of eagle-eyed forecasters. They cracked a lot of tough "babies" despite the fact they missed out on four. The "twelves" follow:

C. D. Peat, 116 Monument circle. Missed Nebraska-Iowa, Harvard-Yale, N. Y. U.-Carnegie and Florida-Auburn. Named the correct Detroit-Michigan State score, 14 to 0.
Deaton Little, 2350 English avenue. Missed Ohio State-Illinois, Chicago-Dartmouth, N. Y. U.-Carnegie and Florida-Auburn.
Bob Whaling, 3546 East Vermont street. His misses were Ohio State, Harvard, N. Y. U. and Columbia. Picked the upset of Auburn by Florida.
Warren C. Middleton, Greencastle. Missed Nebraska, Harvard, N. Y. U. and Florida.
Bob Beck, 2638 North Illinois street. Missed Detroit, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked the correct Michigan score, 13 to 0.
Robert Whitney, city. Missed Purdue, Ohio State, Chicago and Florida.
F. S. Sheppard, 2525 Shelby street. Missed Detroit, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida.
Mrs. Maurice Crider, Shelbyville. Missed Nebraska, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked the correct Michigan score.
Charles C. Hofmayer, 665 East Twenty-first street. Missed Chicago, Harvard, N. Y. U. and Florida.
Bill Meyers, 235 Parkway. Missed Nebraska, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Nearly cracked Purdue-Indiana and Columbia-Syracuse games on the snooze.
Isabel Simonsen, 2322 North Illinois street. Missed Nebraska, Harvard, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked correct Michigan-Notre Dame and Detroit-Michigan State, one point off each.
M. U. Jones, 440 Century building, Indianapolis. Missed Southern California, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked correct Ohio State-Illinois score, 7 to 6.
Bill McMurtry, 3581 Washington boulevard. Missed Ohio State, Nebraska, Harvard and Florida. Picked correct Stanford-California score, 7 to 3, and was short by mere whiskers on the other two.
Bruce Herrin, 1521 North Warren avenue. Missed Nebraska, Detroit, N. Y. U. and Florida. Was close on actual scores of Purdue and Michigan triumphs.
John McGovern, 42 North Walnut street. Missed Nebraska, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked a couple of tough ones straight on the chin, Ohio State over Illinois, 7 to 6, and Nebraska over Iowa, 7 to 6.
John Robertson, 3247 Orchard street. Missed Nebraska, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Named Southern California, 21 to 0. Actual score, 19 to 0.
Fred T. Ulrich, 5341 Broadway. Missed Detroit, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida.
W. R. Woods, 5320 East Washington street. Missed Georgia, Harvard, N. Y. U. and Florida.
Paul McDuff, 1302 Euclid avenue. Missed Southern California, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked a perfect score on Michigan, 13 to 0, and was near the actual counts on four other games.
James E. Lentz, 1240 North Tibbs avenue. Missed Ohio State, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida.
Kurt H. Oehme, 708 East Eleventh street. Missed Detroit, Georgia, Harvard and Florida.
T. McCarrick, 338 East Vermont street. Missed Southern California, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida.
Nick G. Poitelson, Bloomington. Missed Nebraska, Detroit, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked correct Georgia Tech score, 7 to 6.
Bernard Gorman, 536 East Thirty-second street. Missed Nebraska, Harvard, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked correct Michigan triumph, 13 to 0.
Richard Brooks, 2619 West Washington street. Missed Chicago, Harvard, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked correct Southern California score, 21 to 0, and was close to the actual scores of Michigan and Princeton victories.
C. L. Munger, 611 North Pennsylvania street. Missed Nebraska, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Only one point off on Michigan.
Paul Remmetter, 1228 North New Jersey street. Missed Nebraska, Chicago, N. Y. U. and Florida. Picked correct Southern California score, 19 to 0, and was close to official Princeton score, with 20 to 0. Tigers winning 28 to 6.
Wilbur F. Claver, tenth floor, Illinois building, Indianapolis. Missed Ohio State, Nebraska, Harvard and Florida. Picked correct N. Y. U. score, 7 to 0, and was only one point off on Michigan.

FAN experts finishing below twelve winners turned in choice scores here and there and an effort will be made to give them due credit tomorrow by pointing out the actual results many of them selected. No selection coupons will be published for the Thanksgiving day games, but if enough "headaches" and "shooting pains" remain on the collegiate schedule for Saturday, Dec. 2, a coupon for the knotty problems of that day will be published tomorrow. Perfect Picker Pete and Perfect Picker Patricia are still fugitives, and perhaps one more shot should be taken for a last round-up. Women experts sending in selections for Nov. 25 games failed to reach the Football Score Editor's desk until Monday, and were not counted: W. S. Ulrich, 5138 Broadway; Paul Van Sickle, 32 Whittier Place; H. V. T. Hobbs, 3460 West Sixteenth street; John E. Lynch, St. Meinrad Seminary. It's absolutely necessary to adhere to the Saturday noon deadline.

Sheriff Sumner Shoots 624 to Top Courthouse Loop

BY LEFTY LEE

Sheriff Buck Sumner was in the pocket all the way during the Courthouse League series at the Delaware alleys, last night, rolling games of 184, 213 and 227, a total of 624 that topped this league and led his team to a triple win over the Surveyor squad. Johnny Noonan helped with his 601 count. The Clerks also won three games from the Courts.

Owrie Bush tried hard to put the Prosecutors over when he rolled 574, but Gene Zwiler closed with a 243 to total 592 and lead the Union Title boys to an odd game win. Assessors also won the rubber from Treasurers. Bush has baited the umpires so long that he has to roll with the Prosecutor team during the winter months to keep in practice.

Harmeson to Quit Purdue Post to Coach at Lehigh

BY DICK MILLER

Glen Harmeson, one of the greatest half backs ever to play at Purdue, and at present varsity back field coach there, will be named head football coach at Lehigh university in Bethlehem, Pa., within the next few days. The Times was reliably informed today.

Harmeson becomes the second member of the Purdue athletic department to go east within a year. Colonel Nelson A. Kellogg relinquishing the athletic directorship at Purdue to take a similar post at Lehigh. It is through his influence that Harmeson will get the post.

Harmeson's job as varsity back field coach at Purdue will go to Jim Purvis, head freshman coach. We are told, Harmeson was running mate with "Pest" Welch in the Boilermaker back field, and after graduating he took a coaching place on the freshman staff.

When Frank Carideo, who had come to Purdue from Notre Dame, left the Lafayette school to become head coach at Missouri, Harmeson was promoted to the varsity job and in the two years he has held the post Noble Kizer, head coach, frequently has paid him high tribute.

Harmeson is an Indianapolis boy, and before going to Purdue was an all-around athletic star at Manual Training high school. He continued to show the same athletic prowess at Purdue and gained several varsity letters. He is noted for his ability to handle players.

Notre Dame Coaches Hope to Defeat Army

Anderson, Conley Optimistic as Squad Limbers Up for Game With Cadets; Irish Team Suffers Injuries in Hard Battle With Trojans.

By Times Special

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Nov. 28.—Despite a little optimism on the part of Notre Dame's coaches it looked today like the 1933 Irish gridmen will do what no other Notre Dame team in history has done, falter through a long season with six defeats, a tie, and only a brace of victories.

Assistant coach Tom Conley came back from a scouting trip to Philadelphia and after watching Army down the Navy last Saturday said he thought the Irish could spoil the Cadets' perfect record this year.

Coach Hunk Anderson also admitted he thought his boys had an outside chance to win. But all in all, the Soldiers will be favored when the old rivals meet in New York this week-end.

Notre Dame took a terrible physical beating in the Southern California game last Saturday. None of the regulars who played against the Trojans was in uniform when the squad came out for drill yesterday.

Hugh Devore, right end, and Don Elser, half back, were injured so badly they may not bet into their moleskins for the final game of the schedule.

Two of the most dependable of the regulars, their loss will weaken the Notre Dame attack and defense severely.

Rascher Faces Marvin in Armory Mat Feature

Mat fans who like their wrestling bouts attended with the frills of a massacre should get a kick out of the meeting at the Armory tonight of Andy Rascher, popular young Hoosier heavyweight, and Tom (Bad Wolf) Marvin, a rough Oklahoma who is the only grapple to hold a decision over Rascher here.

When they met two months ago Marvin handed Rascher a generous portion of roughing, and the return bout will be something of a grudge match.

Rascher several times has sought a return encounter with Marvin to clean his slate as far as the Indianapolis ring is concerned. He did get a bout several weeks ago, but Marvin failed to show up, saying he was ill. The Oklahoma posted a forfeit to guarantee his appearance tonight.

Promoter Lloyd Carter has signed Al Baffert, husky French Canadian, and Babe Caddock, New York, in one other bout, and Cowboy Jack Russell will be matched with Dick Shikat, one of the best known performers in mat society.

Baffert wrestled Rascher to a draw in last week's show at the Armory, and Russell downed Spike O'Brien.

All the grapplers on the Hercules A. C. show tonight are heavyweights. Rascher will tip the scales at 208, while Marvin may be four pounds heavier.
