Prep. College Quintets to Open Season Within Few Days.

Hardwood floors and backboards in local and state high school and college gymnasiums this week are the scene of final preliminary drill as Hoosierland's favorite sport, basketball, is on the verge of beginning its long winter program.

Most of the quintets will be in action within the next week.

Tech high school will inaugurate its schedule against Frankfort high school here Saturday night. Broad Ripple will face Westfield on Shortridge high school's floor, also Saturday night.

Redskins Open Tomorrow

The Shortridge Blue Devils are to journey to Greentree Dec. 8 for their season opener, while Manual will start tomorrow night against New Palestine in the south side gym. Cathedral will start off the cage season at Brownsburg Friday night. Crispus Attucks will meet Logansport here Dec. 8.

Two Hoosier college quintets this week will be defending titles. Butler last winter was Missouri Valley Conference champion, while Earlham claimed state honors as the only undefeated quintet in Indiana.

Central Normal, Indiana Central, Anderson, and Oakland City have opened their seasons. Anderson losing one game to the Oaks and Central Normal, and dropping a pair to the Greyhounds.

Irish to Play Monday

Oakland City will meet Indiana State Teachers in Terre Haute Friday night, and N. A. G. U. will play Indiana Central Saturday night.

Notre Dame's quintet, without the services of several men on the football squad, will open Monday night against Kalamazoo at South Bend, and Earlham, Franklin, Butler, Manchester, Ball State, De Pauw and Indiana also will open next week.

Indiana and Purdue both will play several games before the holidays, but neither will face Big Ten competition until after New Year's.

SUSPENSION SUSTAINED

I. H. S. A. A. Control Board Upholds Ban Against Wakarusa.

Suspension of Wakarusa high school from the Indiana High School Athletic Association was upheld today by the association board of control.

A petition for reinstatement of the school, suspended on charges that Walter Weldy, a student, played baseball with the school while scholastically ineligible, was considered by the board at Bloomington Saturday.

Tiger Coach

Raymond E. Neal

SEVEN straight shutouts were scored by the De Pauw university eleven this year. It was a remarkable record and gained the Tigers national attention. A touchdown which Rutgers scored against Princeton Saturday gave De Pauw the distinction of being the only unscathed team in the nation.

Raymond E. Neal, coach, is the idol of the campus at Greentree. During his service there the Tigers never have been defeated by a Hoosier school. The Tigers rolled up 136 points this year to none for opponents. Teams defeated were: Ball State, Earlham, Manchester, Hanover, Franklin, Evansville and Wabash, all by more than one touchdown.

Bierman Signs New Contract

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 28.—The undefeated record established by the University of Minnesota football team brought a most in salary for coach Bernie Bierman, it was learned yesterday. He has signed a new contract for the 1934 season. Bierman accepted a cut in pay last spring, when other faculty members were reduced in salary. The old figures have been restored.

U.P. Names East Team

Seven Schools Land Men on Honorary Grid Squad.

BY HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Seven colleges are represented on the annual United Press all-eastern football team. Four schools—Pittsburgh, Army, Fordham and Columbia—each placed two players, with Holy Cross, Princeton and Navy, contributing the other three.

The United Press team was chosen in collaboration with coaches, scouts and sports writers who saw all of the eastern eleven in action.

The team:
Player Position School
Joe Skladany L. E. Pittsburgh
Charles Ceppl L. E. Princeton
Harvey J. L. G. Army
John J. L. G. Fordham
David Zabriskie R. G. Navy
Charles Harvey R. G. Holy Cross
Anthony Matal R. G. Columbia
Cliff Montgomery C. B. Columbia
Jack Budder R. H. Army
Ed Danowski R. H. Fordham
Isadore Weinstein F. B. E. Pittsburgh

A coach couldn't ask for better ends than "Muggsy" Skladany and "Red" Matal. Both are big and fast, unfatigable blockers and tacklers and fine pass receivers.

The same goes for the tackles. "Buz" Harvey, despite his 225 pounds, is fast, and he is a sound place-kicker. A tipoff on Ceppl's class is that he played in the Capital Art Lane, a really fine tackle, Ceppl, more than any other individual, made Princeton's fine season possible.

It would be a half-baked quarter back, indeed, who would choose to pound the center of a line that boasted Jablonsky and Zabriskie at the guards, and Del Isola at center. The United Press All-Eastern backfield has everything. In Montgomery the team has a quarter back who is not only smart and resourceful, but one who can carry the ball with the best. Buckler and Danowski are serious candidates for all-American honors.

Weinstein is an ideal full back. When Pitt needed three or four yards the ball was given to Izzy and he got it. In addition, he is a whale of a backer-up, a strong blocker, and keen on snagging enemy passes.

State Prep Grid Teams Wind Up Bill Thursday

High school football will pass out of the Indiana 1933 picture Thursday with a series of important Turkey day struggles featuring the final day allowed for prep school grid competition. Rule of the Indiana high school athletic association prohibits football play after Dec. 1, and any other championship talk will come from comparisons alone.

Holding the spotlight, Thursday will be the two encounters involving Clinton's undefeated team and Washington of East Chicago at Clinton, and Whiting and Central of South Bend, who will battle for the Northern Indiana high school conference title at South Bend.

The northern Indiana picture is a jumbled one. Whiting is champion of the western division, and Central of South Bend champion of the eastern division, the titles being determined on a percentage basis. They meet Thursday to determine the title of the entire conference.

Important in their localities will be the clash between La Porte and Bicknell, an intersectional engagement at Bicknell, Wiley and Garfield at La Porte, and Central and Bosse at Evansville.

Chuck Bennett, former star at Linton and Indiana university, is coach of the La Porte team. Gerstmeier has the Terre Haute title in the bag, but the Wiley-Garfield rivalry is two decades old. Likewise, Reitz holds the Evansville city title, but the rivalry between Central and Bosse is an old one.

Clinton, with a record of nine straight victories this fall, will test its strength with the best of the north against Washington.

Whiting slipped over a 7-0 win on Washington of East Chicago, the only loss for Frank Cash's team, while Washington handed a 6-2 defeat to Central of South Bend, which has ties with Michigan City and Elkhart against its record. If South Bend defeats Whiting Thursday, supremacy in the north becomes debatable.

Northern Indiana coaches, scribes and fans alike have declared Washington one of the best in that section, and they have announced themselves as ready to make a bow to Clinton if it can turn back the Cashmen.

Grid Receipts Show Increase

By United Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Football attendance at intercollegiate games in the United States showed a healthy increase this season, according to a United Press survey in every section of the country.

In the east, both Harvard and Fordham showed increases. Midwestern teams had a prosperous season. Northwestern, with 240,000 for eight games, showed an increase of 15,000. Michigan and Ohio State, the largest in conference history.

In the far west, Southern California drew 380,000 to its five best games, a slight gain over 1932. U. C. L. A. had 110,000 for five games, a several thousand increase.

Stanford estimated a 15 per cent increase. St. Mary's expects to have played before a total of 800,000 before the season ends.

In the south, Georgia's attendance totals are nearly double those of 1932. Georgia Tech had a slight increase for four games.

SIMMONS WINS FEDERAL PARK JCBS BATTLE

Men Discharged by State, Hired by U. S., to 'Get Ax.'

BY DANIEL M. KIDNEY
Times Staff Writer
Victory in a six-month battle over federal patronage in Indiana conservation camps was reported won by Democratic state administration leaders today.

Virgil M. Simmons, conservation commissioner, announced that the more than a dozen men discharged from his department during the reorganization and immediately given federal jobs, all will be replaced in Indiana next Friday.

The list includes many of long service in state parks under former Republican regimes and the directorship of Richard Lieber. Considerable embarrassment was caused by their federal employment last June.

Brown Is Leader
It was said to have been brought about through appointment of Paul V. Brown, former assistant to Mr. Lieber, who had charge of the state parks, to a federal post.

When Mr. Brown, a prominent Republican, left the state employ under the Democratic reorganization, he was made district officer of the national parks service.

As soon as Mr. Simmons discharged one of the "old regime" men from the state parks service, he immediately was given employment by Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown had charge of the federal administration in state parks in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Ohio, Kentucky, Wisconsin and Tennessee.

Many of the discharged men whom he employed went right to work on the federal pay roll in the state parks where they had been employed.

Gets "Horse Laugh"
Mr. Simmons, who rates high for political acumen, received a long-drawn horse laugh from his cohorts in the Democratic ranks. He made a trip to Washington and enlisted the aid of Senator Frederick Van Nuys.

It was learned that the federal employment would last six months and then the old corps would be re-employed or replacements made upon state recommendations and nominations.

The time is up Friday and Mr. Simmons has his new list ready. Mr. Brown explained that appointments are made upon "qualifications" and that political connections are not listed. He added that the men on Mr. Simmons' new list "are qualified." It is reported that all are "deserving Democrats."

Contract Bridge

Today's Contract Problem
South plays the following hand at four hearts. He can make five, even though West opens with a spade and forces South to ruff a spade every time West gets in. It looks as though South must lose one club and two diamonds. How can he make five hearts?

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

WHAT is the most favorable trump distribution to hold five trump yourself and have your partner hold three, or to hold four and find your partner with four?

The four-four distribution is by far the best because, when you and your partner each hold four cards of a suit, this suit has no value for discards as a side suit. If it is not trump it will win only its high card tricks.

With a four-four distribution, generally, three rounds will pick up all outstanding trump and you then have a trump left in each hand so that you may get a ruff both ways.

With a five-three distribution, however, it still takes three rounds to pick up the outstanding trump and now you have trump in only one hand.

THEREFORE, if your bidding indicates that you hold a four and a five-card major suit, your partner should support your four-card suit if he holds four of that suit and only three in the other. Losing tricks can then be discarded on the two long cards in your five-card suit.

Such is the case in today's hand. North's jump to three hearts over

West's diamond bid shows a very fine hand. When South then goes to three spades, showing a second suit (after partner has asked, by his three-heart bid, for a bid of either four hearts or three no trump), this becomes a slam try. North knows by the bidding that South holds more hearts than spades, and, holding his hearts himself, it is natural that he should figure his partner for five hearts and four spades.

However, in jumping to five spades over West's bid of four clubs he is very optimistic, because there are only two outstanding hearts and both of them may be in the West hand, in which case West can open a heart, which East immediately will ruff and quickly defeat the contract.

However, when the hand was played, several tables arrived at a slam contract, but only one table played it at six spades, and that was the only table to make it, due to the fact that a losing diamond could be discarded on the long heart in dummy.

All North and South had to grant was a club trick—the other club being ruffed in dummy.

Impersonator to Be Tried on Federal Charge in South.

Earl Chappell, alleged impersonator of federal officers, will be turned over to the district attorney at Tampa, Fla., to stand trial on the federal charge, it was learned this afternoon.

Chappell is alleged to have attempted to obtain money from C. A. Whelden in Lakeland, Fla., to release him on a "liquor charge." He also is wanted in Louisiana on an impersonation charge. Chappell is held under an $8,000 bond for the two charges.
