350 SPORTSMEN
 PARTICIPATE IN TURKEY SHOOT

Good Scores Are Posted at Outing of Riverwood
 Aquatic Club.

BY LEFTY LEE.
 Times Fishing Editor

Three hundred fifty sportsmen attended the Riverwood Aquatic Club's turkey shoot at the club range, northeast of Noblesville, Saturday. Despite a high wind some wonderful scores were posted in both the trap and rifle events. The club was elated over the turnout and wish to thank the sharpshooters who were responsible for its success. The winners of each match was rewarded with a nice plump turkey, to adorn his Thanksgiving table. The winners in the trapshooting are:

Match 1, Ernest Heller, 10 out of 11; 2, St. Clair, 9 out of 10; 3, Wise, 10 possible; 4, Burt, 7 out of 10; 5, Langley, 11 out of 14; 6, Robert Dyer, 7 out of 10; 7, Ernest Heller, 13 out of 15; 8, Robert Dyer, 9 out of 10; 9, Langley, 8 out of 10; 10, Dillingham, 10 possible; 11, Werner, 9 out of 10; 12, Widner, 13 out of 14; 13, Hornie, 7 out of 10, and 14, Myers, 13 out of 16.

Rifle match winners are: Match 1, Antonio, Anderson; 2, Antonio, Anderson; 3, Fort, Pendleton; 4, Boggs, Noblesville; 5, Fort, Pendleton; 6, Fort, Pendleton; 7, Cullen, Indianapolis, and 8, Caraway, Indianapolis.

W. C. Irwin, state manager of the Monarch Life Insurance Company, and Earl Burkhardt never will try to tell Bob how to do it again. Bob is Irwin's husky pointer that is one of the family at his house and his latest feat makes him more of a favorite than ever. Irwin and Burkhardt were hunting west of Kokomo when Bob flushed a covey of quail and the nimrods downed three of the birds, killing two and wounding the third. To both hunters it appeared that the wounded bird fell and hid in some cover to the right and then tried their best to send Bob in after it. The dog refused to go and tried several times to make for plowed field about sixty feet to the left. Finally the nimrods gave him his head and he raced over to this field and clawed along a furrow about two and one-half feet and came out with Mr. Quail. Irwin had nine quail for his bag and Burkhardt eleven, to make their trip a complete success.

Conservation students are positive that wildfowl shooting soon will be a sport of the past unless the bag limit again is lowered and better law enforcement methods are put into effect. Their contention that a limit of eight birds a day is ample seems reasonable. Baiting with grain and live decoys also comes in for their wrath especially along the eastern seaboard. Their estimate is that from fifteen to twenty thousand ducks and geese are penned up along the Atlantic coast as decoys to call flocks of the wild birds to the muzzles of the hunters' guns. When the feeding ground is baited with grain, the batteries of guns are concealed so near to the baited spot that it is almost an impossibility to miss when the birds drop down to feed. A shorter season also is advocated.

Unlawful shooting annually results in death to hundreds of thousands of birds that never appear in the returns. It embraces the sale of game on the wing in commercial clubs; the bootlegging of game in California, at Havre de Grace, Md., and the parcel post business in dead game along the Atlantic coast and elsewhere. There is no check whatever on the overshooting of game and its concealment by hunters who are organized to get away with it. The total loss of birds under this head surely is great. Sportsmen's clubs are guilty in an indirect way, as they buy the birds from these bootleggers for banquets and dinners sponsored by them.

Here is a list of simple truths that no hunter can afford to miss. They also should be given serious attention if you wish to continue to enjoy the sport. Only the most ignorant now will deny the appalling scarcity of game. The last thirteen years of game destruction have wrought vast local extinctions. Even the game's worst enemies now admit this with alarm. The old defenders of game now can not save it against crazy opposition. Nor can the federal government do it alone. Some of the old exploiters of game must come to its relief or all will be lost. Two million sportsmen and the Manufacturers' Institute could save the situation. No one save the manufacturers now can reach and influence two million sportsmen. If they will not do it—then the game, and sport, and the guns all are doomed. Five hundred thousand sporting guns were hung up in 1932. America's taxayers never will be taxed to provide game for sportsmen to kill. Each sportsman should pay at least $1 a year more, solely for better law enforcement. At present quick acting measures are imperative. It is impossible for Americans to improve the breeding grounds of Canada. The money raised from an increased license fee should be used for better warden service.

Normal School Head to Be Chosen by Trustees

Terre Haute Position Will Be Filled; Curriculum Changes Likely.

Selection of a new president for the Terre Haute state normal school and revolutionary changes in personnel and courses are expected to be made next Monday, it was reported at the Statehouse today.

Members of the board of trustees, which controls both the Terre Haute school and Ball State teachers' college, Muncie, will meet on Monday at the Claypool.

It has been predicted that George C. Cole, state superintendent of public instruction, may be elected president. The post has been vacant since the resignation some months ago of President Linnaeus N. Hines.

Mr. Cole is an ex-officio member of the board of trustees, as is Governor Paul V. McNutt. The latter probably will dictate the appointment and faculty members of Indiana university also have been mentioned.

A special meeting of the board was held last week at the Columbia Club. From now on, the meetings will be held at the Claypool and the new president likely will be a Democrat, it was reported.

L. A. Pittenger, who remains as president of Ball State teachers' college, is a Republican and former member of the house. His brother is superintendent of the state deaf school here.

Harry Elder, formerly of Mr. Cole's office, is registrar at the Terre Haute school. Tomorrow Mr. Cole will be there for a conference with him, it was reported at his office today.

Mr. Elder presented a survey of personnel and courses at the special board meeting last week. It showed,

Last night he returned the lamp to Mr. Guinn and demanded his money back. The pastor refused.

Then from behind the lamp the favorite carving implement of Indiana avenue leaped at the throat of the pastor and sliced his throat.

"It was a paring knife," he told officers.

Elliott was taken to police headquarters on charges of assault and battery with intent to kill and the pastor was sent to the city hospital to recover from injuries.

TWO INJURED CRITICALLY IN AUTO COLLISION

Muncie Men in Hospital as Result of Crash on East Side.

Four persons were injured, two seriously, in motorcar accidents last night and early today.

Lawrence Retchford, 39, and Arthur Greiger, 53, both of Muncie, suffered internal injuries early today when the car in which they were riding, driven by Herschel Clark, 39,民主黨, struck an auto driven by John Jarka, 41, of 2745 Cornell avenue, at Thirty-eighth street and Parker avenue.

The injured men were taken to the city hospital.

J. W. Woody, 58, of 5422 Hibben avenue, suffered leg injuries last night in the 300 block on Massachusetts avenue as he was knocked down by a car driven by Manuel Nunley, 43, of 506 East Walnut street. Mr. Woody was struck as he stepped from a curb into the pathway of Nunley's car. Mr. Woody's trousers were torn in the accident and the auto driver bought him a new pair, police said.

Mrs. Mamie Hubert, 60, of 1135 Shelly street, was struck by a street car as she crossed the intersection at Maryland and Pennsylvania streets, yesterday afternoon. She suffered cuts and bruises. She refused to go to a hospital, police said.

LAUDS WORKS PROGRAM

Greatest Forward Step, Declares Governor McNutt.

By Times Special

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 28.—The federal civil works program is the greatest forward step taken during the depression. Governor Paul V. McNutt, Indiana, said last night at the Victory dinner held by Democrats to celebrate election of Neville Miller as mayor.

Governor McNutt said he hoped

"they put billions into the civil works program, for this is the time for helpful co-operation."

From time to time bodies have been removed from the cemetery for burial elsewhere. No record of interments is believed to exist, and only a few headstones remain to provide data.

Rabbit Fever Noted

By Times Special

ANDERSON, Nov. 28.—Samuel Hook, 18, is the first Madison county rabbit fever victim of the season, and is said to be in a serious condition.

The youth was stricken a few days after he aided in cleaning a number of rabbits. As fever mounted, he suffered several convulsions.

Should Mr. Cole be given the presidency, Governor McNutt will name the new state superintendent. Grover VanDyke, assistant superintendent, has been mentioned for the Claypool.

It has been predicted that George
