

'CLEAN HOUSE.' FIRST ORDER OF LA GUARDIA

New Mayor Calls on Police to Rid Metropolis of Racketeers.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, barely settled in his new city hall "home," gathered together his fusion cabinet today for a thorough house cleaning to remove all trace of Tammany Hall's eighteen years of occupancy. With the pledge that each aid would have a free hand in the conduct of his department, La Guardia ordered his lieutenants to "clean house and clean it thoroughly." Then he gave a lesson or two in handling the broom.

He began his first busy day in office yesterday by rushing to police headquarters where Major-General John F. O'Ryan was sworn in as police commissioner. In a terse, impromptu address he demanded that police rid the city of rackets and racketeers.

Takes Oath at Seabury's

Eight and one-half hours earlier, a moment after the New Year was ushered in, La Guardia took the oath at the home of his friend and supporter, Samuel Seabury, who as investigator of municipal corruption upset the Tammany apple cart.

"I want to see you when I'm through here. I have a job for you," he told Commissioner of Accounts Paul Blanchard while giving him the oath.

To Corporation Counsel Paul Windels he said:

"I don't care whether the law department is the biggest office in the world. I want it to be the best."

Similar greetings and admonitions were meted out to Correction Commissioner Austin H. McCormick, Dock Commissioner John McKenzie, one of the few Tammany holdovers, and Public Welfare Commissioner William Hodson.

"There's something wrong with the tax department, but I don't know what it is," he told Commissioner of Taxes and Assessments Dominick Trotta. "See if you can find out."

La Guardia planned to hold a public hearing today on a dozen or more bills, introduced from the previous administration. He likewise called a meeting of the board of estimate, a branch of the municipal assembly to pass a charter amendment giving Fire Chief John McElligott the commission.

Pleads With Aldermen

"You can't fight fires from a swivel chair or a district political club—that's why I appointed Chief McElligott on his record," La Guardia said.

Later in the day he smashed tradition by appearing before the Tammany controlled board of aldermen to plead for support in effecting his economic reforms.

"You can't build public works on aldermanic resolutions," he told them. "You must have federal loans."

His first day's work completed, the mayor donned a black fedora and a well-worn gray overcoat. As he left for his fifth avenue home he was asked if he intended to take a vacation.

"That," he said, "depends on the budget—both the city's and my own."

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists, 15c, 30c and 60c. Take one or two tablets for quick relief. Eat what you like—Advertisement.

URGES PAYMENT FOR CHRISTMAS SEALS

Tuberculosis Association
President Appeals.

Appeal to citizens of Indianapolis to send in belated checks for Christmas seals was made today by Dr. E. M. Amos, Marion County Tuberculosis Association president.

Problem of the association in 1934 will be discussed at a meeting of the association executive committee tomorrow noon in the Lincoln.

Plans for minimizing the danger of accidents and injuries to workmen on civil works administration projects in Indiana will be advanced this week, with the selection of twenty-two district safety directors. Each of them will be responsible for promoting the safety campaign in his district.

Districts have been set up by W. Pierce MacCoy, assistant state safety director. Mr. MacCoy will visit each district this week, selecting from unemployed men those who have had supervisory safety work experience.

In explaining the need for the safety promotion, Mr. MacCoy called attention to the dangers of accidents in the employment of 100,000 in hastily assembled jobs, without proper inspection.

COUNTY BOARD RETAINS ELLIS AS PRESIDENT

Re-Election Abolishes Long Standing Precedent of Commissioners.

A precedent established many years ago was broken yesterday by the re-election of Thomas H. Ellis as president of the board of Marion county commissioners.

Heretofore a new president has been elected each year, Ernest K. Marker, another member of the board, was believed slated for the post.

Mr. Ellis was renominated after Commissioner Dow W. Vorhies had been sworn in to begin a second three-year term. Mr. Vorhies, a Democrat, is commissioner from the Third district.

New Treasurer Takes Oath

William E. Clauer took office as county treasurer. He succeeds Timothy P. Sexton, and will serve a two-year term. Mr. Sexton was defeated for renomination in 1932 by Mr. Clauer.

Mr. Vorhies and Mr. Clauer, who held open house, gave short addresses in which they thanked Democratic voters for the support given them and lauded President Roosevelt for his efforts in "ending the depression."

Institution Heads Stay

The commissioners announced the reappointment of all county institution heads, including Dr. A. O. Ruse, Clermont, superintendent of the county infirmary; Harry Barrett, superintendent of the hospital for the insane at Julietta; Mrs. Anna Pickard, superintendent of the juvenile detention home, and Mrs. Susie Millikan, superintendent of the colored orphan's home.

Charles B. Clark was renominated county attorney; Veri Pierson, commissioners' court bailiff; Clarence Meister, superintendent of the county garage, and Maurice Reilly, courthouse custodian.

CIVIC BODY OPPOSES CLOSING AUDUBON LINE

Irrigation Association Would Set Aside Public Service Ruling.

Efforts will be made by the Irrigation Civic Association to set aside the public service commission ruling authorizing abandonment of the Audubon spur line operated by Indianapolis Railways.

In contrast to the evidence presented at the commission hearing that only thirteen persons use the line, part of the East Washington street service, the association, through its attorney, Leo X. Smith, will attempt to show that 399 persons use the line daily.

Mr. Smith claims that the service originally was intended to serve South Irvington and not the old Irvington street station of the Pennsylvania railroad. The attorney suggests that a feeder bus be installed for that section.

Baltimore Club to Meet

The Indianapolis Baltimore Club will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Clovie Williams, 402 East New York street.
