

U. S. WORKERS READY TO QUIT PARTY BERTHS

Farley, Others Expected to Resign as Democratic Committeemen.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—President Roosevelt's drive to separate government affairs from the affairs of political parties gained ground of its own momentum today, with further resignations expected from the Democratic national committee.

The expectation was based on a disclosure that members of the committee who also hold federal office must give up one post or the other. The chairman and vice-chairman and five committeemen are in this class.

Postmaster-General James A. Farley is ready to retire from the chairmanship when a suitable successor is found.

The plans of the others were unknown. They are Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming, vice-chairman and director of the mint; W. A. Julian, Ohio committeeman and treasurer of the United States; W. W. Howes, South Dakota committeeman and first assistant postmaster general; Horatio Abbott, Michigan committeeman and internal revenue collector at Detroit; Dudley Doolittle, Kansas committeeman and manager of the Wichita Federal Land Bank; and Jed C. Adams, Texas committeeman and member of the board of tax appeals.

Five Senators—William G. McAdoo, California; Huey Long, Louisiana; Joseph C. Mahoney, Wyoming; Harry F. Byrd, Virginia; and Kenneth McKellar, Tennessee—also hold membership on the committee. Mr. Farley said it was "up to them" whether they resigned.

The case of Arthur Mullen, Nebraska national committeeman who has been expected to resign, was discussed by Mr. Mullen at the White House within a day or two.

Mr. Roosevelt frowns on members of the committee engaging in law cases before government departments here, but Mr. Farley revealed that he had received several hundred telegrams from Mullen supporters asking that he be allowed to remain on the committee.

Chairman William H. King planned to call the senate judiciary committee together to consider the Vandenberg bill to prohibit members of political organizations from practicing law before government departments, and Senator James F. Byrnes revealed he had administration support for his bill to prevent members of congress from going before government departments to influence action on claims, contracts and awards.

CWA EXTENSION BEYOND MAY 1 SEEMS LIKELY

Strong Sentiment Develops in Congress for Keeping Up Work Aid.

By HERBERT LITTLE Times Special Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—A movement to extend the civil works administration's employment of 4,000,000 men beyond May 1 gained rapid headway in congress today, as President Roosevelt completed work on his message asking $350,000,000 to carry on the work after Feb. 15. It may go to congress today.

Thousands of letters and telegrams are pouring in on congressmen, in addition to 9,000 a day received by Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, all citing the need for continuing CWA.

President Roosevelt, despite his desire to keep within the budget estimate of $1,166,000,000 for emergency expenditures in the next half year, has indicated he will keep his mind open and adjust his program to the needs of the situation.

Rush Appropriation Bill

His advisers have informed him that if CWA halts on May 1 after a tapering-off period starting Feb. 15, the most optimistic predictions indicate 4,000,000 persons will still be without work at that time.

Meanwhile plans were laid for quick passage of the new appropriation bill, which will carry $500,000,000 for relief in addition to the CWA funds.

Representative David Lewis (Dem., Md.) probably will sponsor the bill in the house, where it must be acted upon first, and Senators Robert F. Wagner, Robert La Follette and Edward P. Costigan will take charge of it in the senate.

The three Progressive senators have already conferred at length with Mr. Roosevelt on the subject and are understood to have the full support of the Progressive bloc for extending CWA beyond May.

Mr. Hopkins meanwhile is going ahead with plans to return CWA to a thirty-hour week, except in rural areas, when the appropriation is available. It is his hope that from one to two million workers will soon be absorbed by farm work and it is on this basis that CWA will start trying to cut about 1,000,000 off its payroll every two weeks.

75 Million Spent Weekly

CWA has been spending about $75,000,000 a week, of which the federal government provided $60,000,000. The reduction last week in hours and, in some states of worker quotas, was occasioned by the purchase of materials for which the federal government has to pay. The prospect of being again confronted with such large unpaid bills has been eliminated by requiring such purchases to be authorized here in Washington.

The unofficial estimate of 4,000,000 unemployed in May is based on an estimated 9,000,000 new jobs, including those on CWA and relief rolls. The expectation is that in addition to about 2,000,000 on farms and from $1 to two million on public works projects, a seasonal pickup in industry will add about 1,000,000 to private pay rolls.

COPS SET FOR TAG ARRESTS

Gird for Action as Judge Announces He Will End Restrainer.

Indianapolis police today were preparing to start arrests of motorists driving without 1934 license plates, following announcement by Superior Judge Joseph R. Williams that he would dissolve a temporary order restraining police from making such arrests.

The restraining order was issued shortly after New Year's day, and was directed against city and state police. The Indiana supreme court issued an order several days later setting aside enforcement of the order insofar as state police were concerned.

Judge Williams yesterday said he would grant a change of venue in the case to Hendricks circuit court for trial, and said he would dissolve the entire order today because of the high court action.
