TEST LEGALITY OF AMENDMENTS TO UTILITY LAW

Federal Court Restrains Board From Enforcing Rate Slash.

Validity of the 1933 amendments to the state utility law may be tested in a federal suit which got under way Saturday with the issuing of an interlocutory order against the public service commission.

A three-judge federal court here issued the order which restrains the commission from enforcing a rate cut at Rockport. Albert Ward was named special master in chancery to hear the evidence in the case.

Herbert Patrick, deputy attorney-general, asked the court to consider validity of the new Indiana statute which forbids the commission to consider going value, good will and natural resources in the rate base.

Judges on the bench when the order was issued were Louis Fitzhugh of the United States court of appeals, Chicago; Robert C. Baltzell, Indianapolis, and Thomas W. Slick, South Bend.

VOTERS' REGISTRATION TO OPEN HERE FEB. 15

Attorneys Waive Petition for Rehearing Before Supreme Court.

Registration of Marion county voters definitely will begin Feb. 15, according to Glenn E. Ralston, county clerk, with the last obstacle concerning legality of the 1933 registration law removed.

Waiving of a petition for a rehearing by the Indiana supreme court, whose recent opinion held the law valid, cleared the way for a rapid setting-up of registration machinery.

Attorneys who questioned the validity of the new law, but who finally waived their petition, are Martin M. Hugg, Emsley W. Johnson, William Bosson, L. Russell Nugent and Charles B. Clarke, county attorney.

AFRICAN NATIVES FIGHT

Eight Killed in Tribal Dispute Over Religion.

By United Press

NAIROBI, British East Africa, Jan. 29.—Eight native Christian converts were killed and many injured in a tribal dispute over religion, settled today only by intervention of authorities.

Two villages were burned after a dispute between the Christians and members of a new sect who claimed to have a "Messiah" of their own who could raise men from the dead.

WORTH HALF MILLION, SUES FOR SUPPORT

She's worth half a million, but that didn't deter Mrs. Houston Dunn, Philadelphia social registerite, from going to domestic relations court to demand that her husband contribute to her support. She said it was her mate's duty to provide for his seven children, two of whom, Elizabeth and Newbold, are here shown with her.

Haste Makes Waste

Mistaking of City Trash Container for Mail Box Is No Fun for Retrieving Letter Carriers.

SIDEWALK gymnastics performed by local mail carriers caused Postmaster Adolph Seidensticker today to make a frantic appeal to city officials for aid.

Because a city wastepaper container is located about ten feet from the postoffice on the Pennsylvania street side of the postoffice building, two mail carriers were forced to put on a street show last week that convulsed their audience with laughter.

In the past week, a half dozen persons have mistaken the paper container for the mail box and have dropped their packages in the city's receptacle rather than in Uncle Sam's box.

Two courteous carriers walked from the east door of the postoffice to start their morning delivery and spied an aged lady donning a neatly wrapped parcel to the city. They rushed up and informed her that she had chosen the wrong box in which to mail the package.

"Oh, pshaw! Would one of you gentlemen recover my package for me?" she asked.

One of the carriers took off his mail sack and reached through the lid of the waste paper container. After a minute of rustling paper around inside he took his arm out.

"I can't quite reach it," he said dejectedly. "I'll have to go in after it."

The other carrier removed his mail sack to come to his companions aid. After one mail man climbed head first through the lid of the container, the other grabbed his companion's feet and tried to pull him out.

Getting the carrier's shoulders past the opening proved to be a strenuous feat. The gasping puller gave one violent jerk and out came his sputtering companion along with the package and several greasy papers which were clinging to his gray uniform.

The retrieved package was duly presented to the grateful old lady and the two mail carriers hurried away from the scene of their performance much the worse for wear and tear.

Mr. Seidensticker requested the board of works today to move the waste paper container from the mail box to avoid any future confusion.

MEXICO ROCKED BY SERIES OF EARTH SHOCKS

Most Severe Quakes Since 1909 Cause Extensive Material Loss.

By United Press

ACAPULCO, Mexico, Jan. 29.—Nearly every city of southwest Mexico, from Acapulco to Vera Cruz, was shaken by a series of terrific earth shocks which began yesterday and continued until today.

Ninety per cent of the buildings in this seaport, popular with American tourists, were damaged by the succession of tremors. The monetary loss will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

More than twenty persons were injured in Iguala, in the state of Guerrero. A number were injured in Acapulco. Terror increased at nightfall, when, with the subterranean rumblings continuing, the city was thrown into darkness by a shut-down of power. The electric company ordered the electricity turned off, fearing conflagration.

The earthquake was the most severe since 1909. The most serious damage appeared to have been done in the neighboring towns of Sabana, Laventa, and Piedra La Cuesta, where all public services were completely demoralized.

First aid stations were established here on various plazas, where the injured were treated.

It was feared that mining villages near Iguala may have suffered extensively, and the authorities were attempting to reach them today.

At Vera Cruz the shocks were severe enough to alarm the population, but no serious damage was done.

"I keep fit—in these days of recovery—"

"—if I don't someone else will have my job"

HOW? Well, I learned years ago that work . . . wear and tear . . . takes something out of men and women—particularly those who work indoors.

"Good food and fresh air at night are most valuable, but I found that the so-called simple tired feeling—'let down' some call it—comes from overtaxing one's strength."

"I tore down those precious red-blood-cells faster than my good body could rebuild. A friend told me the story of that grand medicine S.S.S. Now at 4 P. M. I am fit to still 'carry on.'"

One of the really sad things in life is the pushing aside or "shelving" of the weak . . . someone is always ready for your job. Why not reason sensibly that when you begin to "let-down" then it is time . . . before it is too late . . . to build back your vitality?

Of course, if you suspect an organic trouble, consult a physician or surgeon. But if you feel weak . . . lack a keen appetite . . . or if your skin is pale . . . try S.S.S. as a part of your regular daily diet. Take it just before meals. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon notice a pick-up in your appetite . . . your color and skin should improve with increased strength and energy.

S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic but a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood to enable you to "carry on" without exhaustion as you should naturally.

If your condition suggests a tonic of this kind, we recommend S.S.S. because its value has been proven by generations, as well as by modern scientific appraisal.

S.S.S. is truly a blood and body tonic. It is sold by all drug stores in two convenient sizes . . . the larger is more economical.

There is no substitute for S.S.S.

Secure S.S.S. from your own druggist . . . with few exceptions druggists are ethical and conscientious, and will not suggest a substitute. No medicine has the same formula as this time-tested Blood Tonic . . . nor does any other concern gather the same roots with their own trained collectors and extract the active medicinal principles, unchanged, in their original fresh state—this is the secret of S.S.S. . . . there is no substitute. Thousands of people have a low red-blood-cell count and don't recognize it. S.S.S. is useful in promoting a keen appetite and restoring deficient red-blood-cells and their hemo-glo-bin content which are so necessary for sound health. © The S.S.S. Co.
