

MRS. SAUNDERS TO GET SPECIAL DIET IN PRISON

Murder Suspect Will Be Given Aid by Jail Physician.

Mrs. Neoma Saunders, who is alleged to have confessed plotting the $10 murder of her husband, the Rev. Gaylord Saunders of Wabash, today completed arrangements for a special diet in the Marion county jail.

Attendants at the prison said that the woman's physical condition has been poor since her arrest. Through her attorney, Victor R. Jose Jr., arrangements were made for the special diet and attendance by the jail physician regularly.

"If Mrs. Saunders' condition becomes worse," said Mr. Jose, "we will call in a private physician. Meanwhile, she is to have the sort of food necessary for a tubercular person."

Herbert E. Wilson, prosecuting attorney, announced yesterday that he will seek first degree murder indictments against Mrs. Saunders, "Ted" Mathers and Masi Roe, alleged accomplices, in the murder of Mr. Saunders, found in an automobile at Fortieth and Meridian streets last Friday morning. The minister is believed to have been shot by Mathers somewhere in the northeast section of the city and then driven to Fortieth and Meridian streets, where the car was abandoned.

Yesterday the Marion county grand jury studied evidence in the case.

Mrs. Mabel Balke and Ross Curtis, both of Wabash, charged with being accessories after the fact in the gruesome murder, who confided their activities in the tragedy to Wabash county, will be indicted here, it was indicated, although they can be indicted in Wabash county, it was pointed out.

Hearing on murder charges against Mrs. Saunders, Mathers and Roe was continued yesterday in municipal court until Feb. 15, pending the action of the grand jury.

Code Representatives Will Confer in March

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Administrator Hugh S. Johnson is planning to summon representatives of more than two hundred code authorities to a conference in March for the first general overhauling of the NRA code structure.

The summons will go forth in the midst of what General Johnson predicts will become a movement to repeal the national industrial recovery act. It is under hot but scattered fire on Capitol Hill. The best brains of the administration are engaged in shaping the conference agenda.

Weaknesses have developed in various codes. There are trouble spots and what General Johnson calls "complexities." The objective of the March meeting is to harmonize codes and fix upon general principles in their administration.

NRA officials explain that no actual change in codes will be made. It is evidently the purpose of the March conference to decide where and how codes should be changed but the alterations, if any, will come later. Changes would be made by the same procedure that the codes themselves were drafted, through a series of public hearings with all interested factions represented.
