

Costumes to Be Worn at Two Events

Artists' Ball and Circus of Civic Theater Set for April.

INGENUITY of society will be put to test by two costume balls in April. Followers of the Indiana Artists' Club are choosing their favorite characters in paintings whose costumes they are attempting to copy.

Civic theater friends are recalling the last circus they attended in order to choose striking costumes for the Civic circus dance April 7.

Mrs. Irving Fauve, general chairman of the Civic ball at the Athenaeum, is looking over the theater membership in preparation for committee appointments.

What should we expect at a circus dance? Lots of clowns cavorting about with painted faces, dancers with flying tarlatan skirts, barkers in boots and checkered vests, animal trainers with snapping whips, trapeze artists in pink tights. This is going to be fun—dressing up in some absurd costume and painting our faces to achieve that "circus look."

Flour Show Promised
Mrs. Fauve promises a floor show with circus ideas.

Damen J. Lyman with Miss Josephine Binninger and George Calvert are assuming responsibilities for the artists ball at the Severin room on April 21.

"We don't try to make any money," Mrs. Lyman explains. "Our tickets are reasonable, and we use every bit of money to make the decorations something to remember."

Elmer Taffinger, Bird Baldwin and Ralph Craig are putting their heads together to work out the decorative scheme. The decorations promise to be amusing. Every artist with an eccentricity should come to the ball prepared to see himself "put on the spot," because that's exactly what the decoration artists are planning to submit them to.

Prepare for Art Event

W. Heikam is gathering prizes. C. Warner Williams who left Indianapolis to continue his sculpture studies in Chicago sent word that he is donating one of his pieces as a prize.

Annually the ball arouses the imagination of John Herron Art school students, who spend weeks in creating their costumes. The last two balls have had specific themes. One was Chinese and another mythological. The custom bids to become a tradition.

Patrons of art in Indianapolis and the state as well as artists will be guests at the ball.

Ayres Will Give Shows of Fashions

Five Events Scheduled at Store Next Week, Starting Monday.

BY HELEN LINDSAY
SPRING fashions will hold the spot light in spectacular form next week at L. S. Ayres, with a fashion show scheduled for each day of the week except Saturday, when a tea will be given in the Collegienne shop for candidates for queen of the Butler university relays.

On Monday the McCall pattern fashion show will be given at 2:30 in the auditorium, with garments made from McCall patterns. Tuesday these same costumes will be modelled informally on the second floor of the store, in the fabric department.

Ayres' spring fashion show will be given Wednesday on the third floor of the store, where a runway will be constructed, and all the new styles for spring will be seen.

The downstairs store will have an exhibit of moderately priced clothing at 2:30 Thursday.

Pupils of Louise Powell will model Friday at 3:45 for spring fashions for children.

Chef Offers Wine List

In the latest issue of the Columbia Club's paper, Chef Van Benton has prepared a list of suggested menus, with accompanying wines. He has been with the Columbia Club for eight years. Prior to that time he was connected with the Hotel Savoy, London; the Des Indes hotel, Holland; the Hotel Alexandria, Los Angeles, and the Sherman House, Chicago.

His list of suggested menus, with accompanying wines, follows: Hors d'Oeuvres — Moselle, Hock, White Burgundy.

Bluepoints on Half Shell — Sauterne, Hock or champagne.

Celery hearts, mixed olives, clear green turtle soup — Sherry, Montilado.

Fillet of Pompano, Saute Fauville — White wine, Rhine or Moselle.

Veal sweetbreads, fresh mushrooms, Toulouse — Bordeaux, Red Burgundy, Punch Imperial.

Roast capon, Rouenaise, new green peas — Sparkling wine, claret, Burgundy, port.

Salade, Season — Claret, champagne.

Served With Ice Cream

Tutti frutti ice cream, assorted cake — Sweet Catawba, sherry, port, Madeira and Hungarian wines.

Roquefort cheese, toasted bents — Cafe Noir, brandy, liquors.

An interesting detail of Chef Van Benton's suggestion is a catalogue of the wines used for health purposes. Champagne is suggested for the stomach; port for the blood; claret for the liver; Tokay for the ender system; whisky for strength; brandy for faintness; rum for cold; sherry for weakness; gin for the kidneys, and white wines for fatness.

The importance of wines since the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, even has influenced the color of and flavoring of lipsticks. Luten Lelong's new lipstick is flavored with various wines, and is made under the names of well known wines.

Non-Peeling Nail Polish

H. P. Wasson's is showing a new nail polish, which is said to be non-peeling. It is a brand which formerly was not for sale in toilet goods departments, but was used exclusively in beauty shops. For Wasson's it is made under the name of "Franchette," and comes in five shades — Spanish rose, dark geranium, dark French, dark Spanish and dark cherry.

Founders' Day to Be Marked by Pi Beta Phi

Plans for the sixty-seventh annual founders' day luncheon and dance will be presented to members of the Indianapolis Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi at a meeting Saturday, March 10, at the Butler university chapter house, 345 Blue Ridge road.
