

INDIGNATIONS CITY'S REACTION OVER DILLINGER

Officials Suffer Criticism of Business Women and Men.

Street corners buzzed today with comments on the Dillinger escape. The general feeling vacillated from amusement that a desperate criminal had been allowed to "split" in his jail cell, to expressions of derision and charges that "somebody's palm had been greased heavily."

Expressions obtained from a number of shoppers and business women huddled along the downtown streets brought the following opinions:

"The escape shows extreme carelessness on the part of officials who became too familiar with known criminals."—A. F. Austin, Mooney-Mueller-Ward Drug Company.

"It seems to me that the entire escape originated within the jail Dillinger just had too much money."—Miss Katharine Drybread, 8 Argyle apartments.

"Well, he's gone, isn't he? No one seems to know how."—A. E. Clashman, 106 West North street.

"He shouldn't have been allowed to have had a knife and pieces of wood in his cell. Then he couldn't have had a toy gun." Miss Jeanette Tharp, 1271 West North street.

Dick Collins, manager of A. G. Spalding and Bros. asked "if there's any truth in the statement that Dillinger is now planning to take over the marines?"

Then, growing serious, he said, "They were dealing with a criminal with a lot of money. The weapon gun never has been produced. I suppose Dillinger told them if they'd let him whittle, he'd clean up all the scraps of wood, and keep the cell neat?"

"If they would take away all human contact in dealing with a criminal like Dillinger—send food to him on an automatic food conveyor—there'd be no chance for an escape."

"Ridiculous! That's how I feel about this escape," said Mrs. Eva Hughes, 439 West New York street. "There's been a lot of carelessness—I don't know on whose part, but it's evident."

"Anybody that could get away with a wooden pistol is entitled to stay out," commented Abe Schwartz, Indiana Theater News and Magazine shop.

"I don't think the officials have been careful enough. They should have rushed Dillinger to trial long before this," was the opinion of Walter H. Rauth, Booneville, in Indianapolis to attend a meeting of the directors of the Indiana Farm Bureau Co-operative Association.

CALLS ALL-BRAN NATIONAL NATURAL LAXATIVE

Delicious Cereal Checked His Constipation

Here is an unsolicited letter from Mr. Daniels:

"For many years I have been habitually constipated, and have used all sorts of laxatives. So, in fairness to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I heartily claim it to be a most wonderful remedy for constipation."

"Need I tell you that I have long since ceased using laxatives? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the National Natural Laxative. If it were used by every family in the United States for breakfast, we would have a much healthier race of people."—Mr. John Daniels, 1090 Third St., North Bergen, N. J.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this food much pleasanter than risking pills and drugs? Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
