

—Let's Go Fishing—
ANGLERS FLOCK TO STORES AS SEASON NEARS

Call of Tackle Box Heard by Scores of Fishermen.

BY GEORGE DENNY
(Punch Hitting for Lefty Lee)

Fishermen, the most optimistic people in the world, are beginning to perk up and take notice again. It doesn't take much to awaken the old urge. The first robin, the first warm day, a brisk March wind, in fact any hint of spring, and the fever is on them.

What if there is still snow on the north slopes? Then to one you've been slowing up as you cross Fall creek or White river to see if the water is clear.

These are the days when your fishing partner, an otherwise sane and responsible citizen, loiters in front of sporting goods store windows. You recognize and respect that far-away gleam in his eye. Don't disturb his reverie. He's thinking of the big small-mouth (that long, anyhow) that broke the leader last fall in the pool above the bridge in Cicero creek.

Time for Tackle
He's wondering if that tough old battler is still there. He is renewing his solemn vow never to trust an old and frayed leader. He is resolving to get out the tackle box this very night and oil the reels and test the lines and scrutinize the rods for cracks in the varnish and defects in the guides and silk windings.

He is thinking that he had better step into the store right now and get a few leaders. Can't tell, maybe next Sunday will be warm and clear so that he can slip up to the pool for a few hours.

There may be ice around the edges, and it's a bit early for artificial bates, but a fat minnow cast into the head of the pool and allowed to drift down between those two big boulders might interest that bass. Better take some night-crawlers, too.

So he steps into the store to get the leaders and you take his place at the window. It's a tempting display. The usual lot of new gadgets this year, shiny lures that look like sure killers.

"Won't Be Long"
That five-ounce, nine-foot rod reminds you that you really must give fly fishing a try. You've been meaning to for several seasons, and now that times are better, a modest investment in the necessary equipment might be arranged.

It's hard to see how anything could be more sport than a three-pounder on your light casting rod, but a number of your friends have been experimenting with the fly tackle and are enthusiastic.

So you go in the store, just look around, of course, and your friend who has picked out his leaders, pounces on you with a glad cry. "It won't be long now," he announces, and before you finish making plans for the season, it is long past the lunch hour.

You know how it is? You're darn right you do, or you are no fisherman.

ALIENISTS' REPORT IS DUE IN MATHERS CASE

Doctors to Report Findings in Sanity Study This Week.

Dr. E. Rogers Smith and Dr. Murray De Armond, alienists named by Criminal Judge Frank P. Baker to make a sanity examination of Theodore Mathers, 19, alleged slayer in the $10 murder of the Rev. Gaylord V. Saunders, former Wabash Methodist minister, will submit a report of their findings in criminal court Friday, Judge Baker announced today.

Mathers, Mrs. Neoma Saunders, the slain minister's widow, and Miss Roe, 19, business college student, are charged with murder in connection with the death of the minister. Mr. Saunders was found shot to death in his parked automobile at Fortieth and Meridian streets in January.

Paul Revere was a cartoonist, successful engraver, goldsmith, bell and cannon founder, and soldier.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

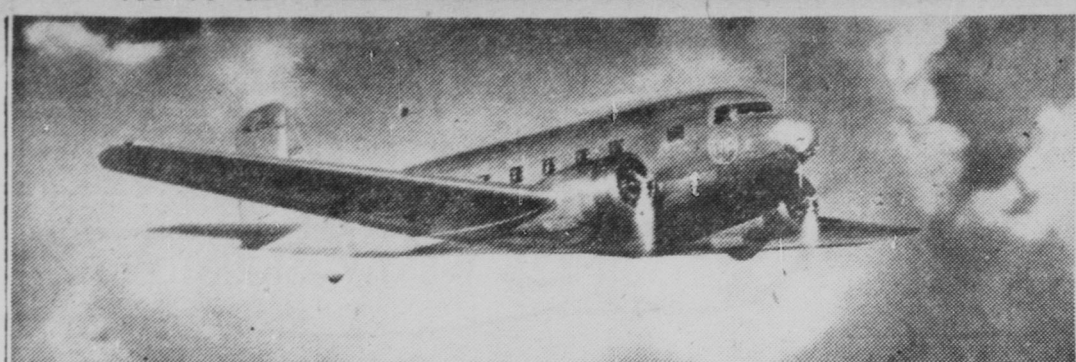

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.—Advertisement.

IS THERE ANYTHING WORSE THAN A BACKACHE?
A continuous backache takes all the joy out of living. If accompanied by irregular urination and a tired, nervous feeling, backache may be caused by kidney or bladder trouble. Durex Pills will help you as they helped Mrs. Lillian Noble, Greenwood, Pa. She says: "Durex Pills will help one suffering from a backache caused by kidney trouble. I have taken two boxes of Durex and my backache is almost gone. I would pay gladly twice as much as you ask for Durex, if necessary, because it is a wonderful medicine."

Interesting Stories About Events in Lives of Hoosiers Written and Assembled for Quick and Easy Reading

MUNCIE, March 13—Slaying of Lloyd C. Gleason, Yorktown business man, resulting in arrest of his widow, Mrs. Dora Gleason and son, James Marvin Gleason, will be investigated by a Delaware county grand jury which will be convened tomorrow.

Body of the victim was found in his butcher shop on Feb. 26. Shots from a small caliber revolver caused death.

The son, held here on a technical charge of manslaughter, has been denied bond. The widow is at liberty under $4,000 bond. She is charged with being an accessory in the killing.

Authorities say the son has confessed the slaying, stating that his father's addiction to drink and to affairs with women, were the causes. Prosecutor Paul Leffer has announced that he will make no recommendation to the grand jury, but will place the evidence before the body for whatever action it sees fit.

Cripple Aided
SHELBYVILLE, March 13—Reports that "a dangerous character" had stopped at a farm home near here brought deputy sheriffs, who found Arlo Wagner, 21, Rushville, who is practically helpless because of a broken back incurred six years ago.

Despite his condition, the young man drives an automobile in making his rounds selling pamphlets. The car is "a home on wheels," and the cripple has worked out a plan whereby he can get into an invalid chair and lower it from the car to the ground.

Instead of making an arrest, the officers aided in finding a place for the cripple to spend the night.

Tomatoes 'Attacked'
GREENFIELD, March 13—Action seeking authority for destroying 1,807 cases of tomatoes contained in No. 10 cans, has been filed in Hancock circuit court by Milo G. Gray, prosecuting attorney.

Evidence gathered by state board of health workers is to the effect that the tomatoes contain decomposed matter and are not fit for use as food. The tomatoes were canned by the Shirley Packing Company.

Experimenter Hurt

KOKOMO, March 13—Paul Miles, 16, high school student, is minus a finger and it may be necessary to amputate others as a result of experimenting with making gunpowder, formula for which he learned in chemistry study.

The boy mixed charcoal, sulphur and potassium nitrate to form the powder and placed it in a length of gas pipe at his home. The powder exploded prematurely, lacerating his hands and inflicting deep burns.

YOUNG BANDIT IS FOILED BY ELDERLY PAIR

'Bad Man' Loses Revolver in Wrestling Match, Leaps Through Window.

A youthful "bad man" was outmaneuvered by two elderly men last night. The bandit, who forced his way into the home of George H. Coffee, of 529 East Twelfth street, lost his gun in an impromptu wrestling match and jumped out the window in headlong flight as Fred Kettler, 76, came to the aid of Mr. Coffee.

In the prescribed manner of "bold bandits," the criminal wore a handkerchief as a mask and held a revolver. He demanded, "Give me what money you've got."

Mr. Coffee handed over $10, but when the bandit asked for more, the indignant victim tackled the bad man and snatched the revolver. When Mr. Kettler, brother-in-law to Mr. Coffee, entered the scene, it was too much for the desperado. As his antagonists hastened after him, the bandit barricaded himself in the kitchen, smashed the window with a chair and jumped out.

BOSTON CLAIMS COYNE

Officials Leave for Michigan City to Get Murder Suspect.

BOSTON, March 13—Two Boston police officials leave today for Michigan City, Ind., to bring back James P. (Skeets) Coyne, 29, pudgy ex-convict charged with being the "trigger man" in the slaying of Charles (King) Solomon, Boston and New York racketeer.

Coyne has been the object of a nation-wide search since Solomon was shot in the Cotton Club here Jan. 24, 1933.

PROPOSED DILLINGER
FILM STIRS STORM OF PRESS CRITICISM

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 13—Few pictures have kicked up such a flurry of criticism among local writers as the picture Paramount is planning to make of John Dillinger, notorious Indiana desperado.

No sooner had the studio passed out announcements that the scenario would depict Dillinger both as "a hero and heavy" than the storm broke. The story was written before Dillinger broke jail at Crown Point, but by a coincidence calls for the character to escape.

The writers are denouncing the studio for "glorifying" such a criminal, and some even have suggested in their columns that the Will Hayes office intervene.

To Assure Financial Safety Insure in The Western and Southern Life

Financial statements are scrutinized with keen interest during periods of economic depression. It is therefore gratifying to present a statement revealing a condition of financial strength not excelled by any life insurance company in the United States.

The lowest point in the financial crisis which culminated in the bank holiday marked the most difficult test to which life insurance has ever been subjected. With practically all other sources of money frozen tight, business was threatened with total paralysis, while family financing tended toward a return to primitive bartering. This situation resulted in an unprecedented demand for cash and loans on outstanding life insurance policies.

In this, the most severe financial emergency in history, The Western and Southern met every policy obligation promptly and in full. This accomplishment was not only of inestimable value to our policyholders, but most convincing proof of financial stability in any crisis.
