

ILLINOIS VOTE TOMORROW TO TEST NEW DEAL

Interest Keen, Heavy Vote
Forecast: Election
Worker Slain.

By United Press
CHICAGO, April 9.—Illinois voters will ballot tomorrow in a primary election which may produce the first indications at the polls of how the public looks upon the national recovery program and the Democratic administration which it swept into power eighteen months ago.

Except for several local contests of spirited rivalry, the principal fights will be to select candidates for the state's twenty-seven seats in the presidential year upheaval, when this normal Republican state sent nineteen Democrats to the house, the Democrats showed their best strength in history. If they can hold this showing, the balloting will be looked upon as an endorsement for the present administration.

Complicating the selection of the Illinois primary as a wind-straw was the fact that Democratic candidates are not widely opposed. Sitting members, however, have pledged their continued support to the Roosevelt program and their opponents have not expressed any great opposition to it.

National Issues Soft Pedaled
Even the Republicans have soft-pedaled national issues in their private fights. There has been some "radicalism" charges against the Democrats. They have conducted extensive campaigns, however, on local issues, with their strongest campaigns coming in Cook county and Chicago, where in November they will have to pit their strength against the powerful Nash-Kelly machine.

A pre-election slaying of a political worker in the notorious "bloody twentieth" ward in Chicago cost an independent Democratic candidate the final night's services of Joseph Rierno, 31, in his campaign for Democratic nomination in the seventeenth state senatorial district.

The primary saw the first indications of a split in the Republican ranks by which, apparently, it was hoped to win back so-called liberals to the party fold. A complete slate of progressive Republicans was entered against the regulars. The progressives' aims were best revealed in their use of a letter from Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes against the nomination campaign of Congressman James Simpson, Jr., in the exclusive Tenth congressional district.

Ickes Figures in Fight
The progressives sought to attach a "fox hunting," "Insult school of thought" label on Mr. Simpson in behalf of Ralph E. Church. Mr. Simpson called Mr. Church and the progressives "Socialists."

Optimistic party leaders predicted that nearly 2,000,000 voters will participate in the primary. In the 1932 primary with a hot three-man contest for governor the Democrats polled a total vote of 816,733 to 1,815,245 for the Republicans. Any similar showing in the election would be considered an indication that former Republicans who jumped into the Democratic ranks were to stay.

Previous to the 1932 primary, Democratic primary totals have been approximately 300,000, with more than half of that from Cook county. In 1932 Cook county contributed 500,000 primary votes to 300,000 downstate.

GROSS INCOME TAX
APPEAL TO BE ASKED
City Cafe Owners to Hear Plea of State Retailers Head.

Repeat of the state gross income tax because of its effect on the retail business, and proposal of a tax program which may be substituted, will be advocated by L. F. Shuttleworth, executive secretary of the Associated Retailers of Indiana, at a meeting tonight of Indianapolis chapter of the Indiana State Restaurant Association in the Lockerbie.

Matters relative to the code of restaurant operators and creation of a national code authority for the industry will be discussed. Representatives of several state supply houses will speak.

SIMILARITY OF NAMES
MAY CONFUSE VOTERS
Political Maneuvering Seen in Listing Senate Candidates.

Persons familiar with politics, who have been discussing the difficulty voters will encounter handling a huge ballot containing hundreds of names, smiled today at the perplexing similarity of names of two candidates for one office, labeled by some as clever political maneuvering.

Joseph P. O'Mahony, 2617 North Alabama street, former newspaper man, filed for the Republican state senator nomination, while Joseph F. O'Mahony, 1715 North Delaware street, restaurant proprietor, filed for the same office on the Democratic ticket.

TRAVELERS PICK SLATE
S. D. McClain, Marion, Elected President of Society.

S. D. McClain, Marion, was elected president of the Travelers Protective Association of Indiana at the closing session of the state convention yesterday at the Claypool.

Other officers elected are George Boyle, Indianapolis, first vice-president, J. C. Elliott, Ft. Wayne, second vice-president, James Keys, Frankfort, third vice-president, and O. F. Stevens, South Bend, secretary-treasurer.

LIONS TO SEE AIR FILM
"Flying American" to Be Shown at Meeting Wednesday.

Members of the Indianapolis Lion's Club will be entertained at a meeting Wednesday night, April 10, by a motion picture, "Flying American." Al Evans has arranged for the showing.

TRAVEL SMOOTH PATH Logan Masons Favored by Fortune

This is the fourteenth of a series of histories of Marion County Masonic blue lodges which has been appearing each Monday in The Times. Next week the history of Oriental lodge will be published.

LATE in 1887, the minutes fall to record the exact date, a small group of Master Masons met in the old Odd Fellow building on Virginia avenue for the purpose of founding a new blue lodge, an organization which was to become Logan lodge, No. 575, Free and Accepted Masons.

Dispensation for formation of Logan lodge was granted by Mortimer Nye, then grand master of the grand lodge of Indiana, on Jan. 27, 1888, with Mr. Anderson as worshipful master, Hiram D. Harris, senior warden, and William E. Jeffries, junior warden.

Signers of the petition for dispensation, who also, because of the unusual speed with which charter was granted, constitute the entire list of charter members, were Mr. Anderson, Mr. Harris, Mr. Jeffries, Mr. Clinton, Hiram Seibert, Ralph E. Kennington, William H. Tucker, George F. Phillips, Richard S. Colter, Austin Rowe, Richard Williams, Joseph L. Fisher, Robert H. Bigger, Leander A. Fulmer, John A. Porter, William N. Wishard, Aurelius J. Joyce, Peter Roulter, Robert H. McCintock, Edwin L. Williams, Charles N. Rooker and Edward T. Bramham.

The primary saw the first indications of a split in the Republican ranks by which, apparently, it was hoped to win back so-called liberals to the party fold. A complete slate of progressive Republicans was entered against the regulars. The progressives' aims were best revealed in their use of a letter from Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes against the nomination campaign of Congressman James Simpson, Jr., in the exclusive Tenth congressional district.

Ickes Figures in Fight
The progressives sought to attach a "fox hunting," "Insult school of thought" label on Mr. Simpson in behalf of Ralph E. Church. Mr. Simpson called Mr. Church and the progressives "Socialists."

Optimistic party leaders predicted that nearly 2,000,000 voters will participate in the primary. In the 1932 primary with a hot three-man contest for governor the Democrats polled a total vote of 816,733 to 1,815,245 for the Republicans. Any similar showing in the election would be considered an indication that former Republicans who jumped into the Democratic ranks were to stay.

Previous to the 1932 primary, Democratic primary totals have been approximately 300,000, with more than half of that from Cook county. In 1932 Cook county contributed 500,000 primary votes to 300,000 downstate.

GROSS INCOME TAX
APPEAL TO BE ASKED
City Cafe Owners to Hear Plea of State Retailers Head.

Repeat of the state gross income tax because of its effect on the retail business, and proposal of a tax program which may be substituted, will be advocated by L. F. Shuttleworth, executive secretary of the Associated Retailers of Indiana, at a meeting tonight of Indianapolis chapter of the Indiana State Restaurant Association in the Lockerbie.

Matters relative to the code of restaurant operators and creation of a national code authority for the industry will be discussed. Representatives of several state supply houses will speak.

SIMILARITY OF NAMES
MAY CONFUSE VOTERS
Political Maneuvering Seen in Listing Senate Candidates.

Persons familiar with politics, who have been discussing the difficulty voters will encounter handling a huge ballot containing hundreds of names, smiled today at the perplexing similarity of names of two candidates for one office, labeled by some as clever political maneuvering.

Joseph P. O'Mahony, 2617 North Alabama street, former newspaper man, filed for the Republican state senator nomination, while Joseph F. O'Mahony, 1715 North Delaware street, restaurant proprietor, filed for the same office on the Democratic ticket.

TRAVELERS PICK SLATE
S. D. McClain, Marion, Elected President of Society.

S. D. McClain, Marion, was elected president of the Travelers Protective Association of Indiana at the closing session of the state convention yesterday at the Claypool.

Other officers elected are George Boyle, Indianapolis, first vice-president, J. C. Elliott, Ft. Wayne, second vice-president, James Keys, Frankfort, third vice-president, and O. F. Stevens, South Bend, secretary-treasurer.

LIONS TO SEE AIR FILM
"Flying American" to Be Shown at Meeting Wednesday.

Members of the Indianapolis Lion's Club will be entertained at a meeting Wednesday night, April 10, by a motion picture, "Flying American." Al Evans has arranged for the showing.

Upper (left to right)—Fred E. Manker, Elmer Schakel, Paul D. Chapman and Charles E. Lucas.
Lower (left to right)—John Schley, John E. Worley and Christopher C. Ritter.

D. Sommers & Co. store at Washington street and Capitol avenue, from there Logan moved in 1902 to the Labor temple on Pearl street, between Meridian and Illinois streets. With the other bodies now occupying that building, Logan moved in 1909 to its quarters at the present Masonic temple, North and Illinois streets.

The course of the life of Logan lodge has pursued such an even tenor that it is most difficult to select individual events as notable in the history of an organization which has not been harassed in any manner. However, Logan's custom of making an annual pilgrimage to the Masonic home at Franklin, is worthy of mention. Early each fall the lodge members go in a group to the institution. There a program is offered by the lodge for the entertainment of both the old and the young who make their home there.

LOGAN achieved a membership of 1,000 in 1921 during the administration of Grover C. Ott as worshipful master. An all-time high was reached in 1925, when the roster included 1,035 active members in good standing. Today the membership is 906.

By special dispensation of the grand lodge of Indiana, Logan conferred all three degrees on a candidate in one day during the late months of 1917, when the United States was at war, and a petitioner of the lodge, who was already in the army, was destined to leave for duty in France almost immediately. Older members of the group still recall the event as one which was almost as difficult for them as it was for the candidate.

An organization within Logan lodge is the Acacia Club, which extends aid to the dependents of members upon their death. President of the society is John Worley, foreman of The Times' engraving department.

Logan boasts what is probably the best past masters' attendance of any lodge in the Indianapolis jurisdiction.

He Who Gives Knows
Grandmother of Slain Lindbergh Baby Writes Gripping, Pointed Poem.

By United Press
NEW YORK, April 9.—Friends of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow saw today in her brief poem, "Hostage," published in the current issue of the Atlantic Monthly, a veiled reference to the anguish of the Lindbergh family over the kidnaping of her infant grandson, Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

The verse, one of three by Mrs. Morrow in the magazine, was believed to have been the grandmother's first public reference to the tragedy. It read:

"He who has given
A hostage knows
All ways of dying
Terror shows:
He feels the cord
About his throat.
The knife blade striking
Through his coat,
Against his breast
Bright bullets spit:
He falls forgotten
In a pit.
Slowly he starves;
Swiftly a wave
Carries his body
To the grave.
All this is naught
To waking him
He dreams the hostage
Safe again."

City Man Shot, 27, of 3128 North Illinois street, suffered accidental gunshot injuries Saturday when a target rifle was discharged. The accident occurred on White river, eight miles north of the city. Ross suffered injuries to his left hand.

BANDITS ROB STORE AND FILLING STATION
Holdup Men Get $16 at Gas Station, $20 at Grocery.

Police today were searching for bandits who held up and robbed the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company store at 2172 Madison avenue, and a Standard Oil filling station at Twenty-second and Meridian streets.

A bandit obtained $16 from Raymond Smith, 20, of 630 Congress avenue, in the filling station. The grocery, managed by Clifford McCampbell, 34, was robbed of $20. Eight dollars of the loot belonged to the manager of the A. & P. store.

Thalia Massie Recovering
GENOA, Italy, April 9.—Mrs. Thalia Fortescue Massie, recovering from an attempt at suicide, looked forward impatiently today to leaving bed and walking in the garden of the hospital to which she was taken from the liner Roma.

Consumer Councils Added to Indiana NRA Regime
Experimental Groups Will Co-Ordinate Link With AAA.

A limited number of experimental consumer councils are being set up in Indiana as part of the NRA state organization, it was announced in a telegram received Saturday by Fred Hoke, state NRA compliance director, from Fred C. Walker, executive director of the National Emergency Council.

The councils will be co-ordinating agencies aiding the national recovery administration and the agricultural adjustment administration in handling consumers' problems, particularly those relating to prices.

"Organization of the councils is part of the administration's plan for representation of consumer interests as well as those of capital and labor in NRA," Mr. Hoke said.

Members of the councils will be chosen by Washington authorities and will serve without pay. Each council will consist of seven or eight members with an effort being made to select representatives actively interested in consumer problems.

3 CRUSHED BY AVALANCHE ON MOUNTAIN ROAD

New York Highway Board
Probes Storm King
Trail Tragedy.

By United Press
WEST POINT, N. Y., April 9.—The state highway commission started an investigation today into the origin of an avalanche that thundered down the precipitous slope of Storm King mountain and smashed against three automobiles on the congested Storm King highway, killing three persons and injuring three others.

The apparent causes of the unusual accident were the late winter frosts and rains loosening the more exposed portions of the sheer face of the mountain rising hundreds of feet above the road. A three-ton section tore free yesterday and tumbled down the slope so swiftly that none of the trapped motorists had time to act. Hurling boulders crushed their vehicles like eggshells.

The largest boulder, a fragment weighing more than a ton, bounded on top of a coach in which Otto Seilheimer, East Paterson, N. J., was driving his family along the famous scenic highway carved out of the peaks above the Hudson. His wife, Louise, and his son Eugene, 5, were killed almost instantly. Mr. Seilheimer suffered a broken left shoulder and his 18-month-old daughter Geraldine a possible fracture of the jaw.

Another rock tore through the roof of an automobile about 100 feet behind the Seilheimers, killing Lambert H. Shanks of Brooklyn and injuring his wife.

An almost complete escape from death was recorded by Dr. F. E. Lehman and Miss Mary Wolf, who were in the third car destroyed. A huge boulder weighing 1,000 pounds missed their heads by inches, flattening the rear half of their car.

YOUNG WOMAN DIES IN CRASH

Auto Accident Injuries Are
Fatal to North Side
Resident.

The twenty-sixth auto fatality of the year in Marion county occurred Saturday night with the death of Mrs. Marguerite (Peggy) Brown, 20, of 726 Congress avenue, at city hospital, from injuries suffered Friday in an auto wreck.

Eight persons were injured in Marion county over the week-end and a local man and an unidentified woman were killed in an auto collision on State Road 67 near Pendleton.

Last rites for Mrs. Brown will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Thirty-first Street Baptist church, with the Rev. Morris H. Coers, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Crown Hill.

Edward Dehne, of Dorman and Michigan streets, was killed last night in a collision near Pendleton. A woman, believed to have been from Ft. Wayne, was injured. Mrs. William Adams, 1429 South eastern avenue, was in the car and suffered internal injuries. The car, driven by Dehne, collided with an auto driven by Alfred Rector, Anderson.

Others injured in car accidents in the county over the week-end were Ronald Bristow, 29, of R. R. 2, possible skull fracture; Miss Elizabeth Bristow, 25, and Mrs. Leona Brown, 1603 Central avenue, lacerations; Walter Ristow, 46, of 4914 Rockville road, crushed chest; Miss Elena Meier, 21, of 1009 Central avenue; Miss Frances Woolley, 28, of 3671 North Meridian street; William Ohle, 22, 3630 North Meridian street; and C. R. Richardson, 26, of 744 East Fifty-ninth street.

TREE PLANTING URGED ON CORN BELT FARMS
May Prove More Productive Than Crops, Forester Says.

Planting trees on worn, eroded and rough lands may prove more productive than growing cultivated crops, according to W. K. Williams, forester of the United States department of agriculture.

A program of forestry for farms in the corn and wheat belts which has been worked out by Mr. Williams offers reforestation measures to many farms.

CAFE HAS SHORT LIFE
'Wooden Pistol' Club Opens and Is Closed on Same Evening.

The Wooden Pistol cafe, a night spot at 320 East Washington street, named in honor of Dillinger's escape from the Crown Point jail, was opened Saturday night and closed by police a few hours later.

One hundred and fifty guests were chased out of the place as the raiding party broke up the "grand opening" of the cafe. James Duke, 3416 Madison avenue, bartender, was arrested, charged with permitting public dancing without a permit and selling beer without a license.

'BLUEBEARD' WILL DIE
French Slayer Goes to Death on Guillotine Tomorrow.

By United Press
AIX-EN-PROVENCE, France, April 9.—Georges Serret, modern "Bluebeard," will die on the guillotine in the town hall square at dawn tomorrow.

He was convicted last October of the murder of a man and woman accomplice in his insurance frauds, whose bodies were dissolved in a bath of vitriol.

Coughlin Urges Market Control
By United Press
DETROIT, April 9.—Limitation of stock market operations by federal control was advocated by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin in his regular Sunday address, Wall Street, when he urged a "Wall Street" to be a lone hand in the control of speculation, he said.

DISPLAYED AT HOME SHOW HERE

A forerunner of the gardens to be seen about Indianapolis this summer is to be shown in the displays at the Home Complete Exposition this week. These plants, shrubs and garden arrangement won first prize in the competition. The display was arranged by Temperley's Floral Service.

STATESMANSHIP and RELIGION

By... Henry A. Wallace
The thirteenth of a series about the creed of a new and greater America.

CHAPTER XIII
The Religion of the Future
I AM afraid that Calvin would be forced to conclude that the soul of Protestantism had left the church and gone into capitalism and that there it had become distorted by strange theories from the field of economics and biology. Searching for intensity of belief, Calvin might find it among capitalists, Fascists or Communists, all of whom are his spiritual descendants. Seeing all of this, Calvin would doubtless not weep but would observe, "Lord, thou hast foreordained all of this for the enhancement of thine ultimate glory."

The truly dismaying thing, of course, is the lukewarmness, the wishy-washy goody-goodness, the infantile irrelevancy of the church itself. Millions of people still bring joy to their individual souls by attending a church service.

I know that there are millions of Catholics and high church Episcopalians alone who obtain extraordinary comfort from the celebration in due form of the Holy Eucharist, the very thing which John Knox felt was more dangerous than ten thousand armed men.

Millions of other church-going people find rest for their souls in attending church service but here all too often, there tends to arise a disputatious attitude concerning ethical matters discussed in the sermon and more appropriate to a week-day lecture course than to a Sabbath worship in the house of God.

You are all acquainted with fine, cultured, tolerant people who reserve their sharp practices and grabbing tendencies for the hard life of the business world and who are delightful and enjoyable companions in the social life of evenings and holidays. They yearn for a more satisfactory business existence, but do not know exactly how to bring it to pass.

MOST of them, unless they are only two or three generations removed from saintly ancestors, are decidedly materialistic and skeptical about the existence of God, or a future life.

They want their children to go to Sunday school and learn the Ten Commandments and the salient facts of the Bible, but they themselves are convinced of the fundamental truth of evolution, the struggle for existence and laissez faire, dog-eat-dog economics. They know that they have to "get" if they are not to be "gotten," and while they don't like this kind of business any better than you or I, they don't know of anything practical to do about it. Therefore, the most decent of the well-educated, materialistic, accept some form of "Lippmannesque" humanism as the way of making the best of a bad job.

Now, humanists are, as a rule, superficially agnostic yet resolutely practice the good life as they see it, and do the best to bring that life to pass for other people as well. Many of them get considerable pleasure out of making fun of the sacred superstitions of the preceding generation and are doubtless a healthful influence in many ways.

But they know that they have to "get" if they are not to be "gotten," and while they don't like this kind of business any better than you or I, they don't know of anything practical to do about it. Therefore, the most decent of the well-educated, materialistic, accept some form of "Lippmannesque" humanism as the way of making the best of a bad job.

Now, humanists are, as a rule, superficially agnostic yet resolutely practice the good life as they see it, and do the best to bring that life to pass for other people as well. Many of them get considerable pleasure out of making fun of the sacred superstitions of the preceding generation and are doubtless a healthful influence in many ways.

But they know that they have to "get" if they are not to be "gotten," and while they don't like this kind of business any better than you or I, they don't know of anything practical to do about it. Therefore, the most decent of the well-educated, materialistic, accept some form of "Lippmannesque" humanism as the way of making the best of a bad job.

Now, humanists are, as a rule, superficially agnostic yet resolutely practice the good life as they see it, and do the best to bring that life to pass for other people as well. Many of them get considerable pleasure out of making fun of the sacred superstitions of the preceding generation and are doubtless a healthful influence in many ways.

But they know that they have to "get" if they are not to be "gotten," and while they don't like this kind of business any better than you or I, they don't know of anything practical to do about it. Therefore, the most decent of the well-educated, materialistic, accept some form of "Lippmannesque" humanism as the way of making the best of a bad job.

Now, humanists are, as a rule, superficially agnostic yet resolutely practice the good life as they see it, and do the best to bring that life to pass for other people as well. Many of them get considerable pleasure out of making fun of the sacred superstitions of the preceding generation and are doubtless a healthful influence in many ways.

But they know that they have to "get" if they are not to be "gotten," and while they don't like this kind of business any better than you or I, they don't know of anything practical to do about it. Therefore, the most decent of the well-educated, materialistic, accept some form of "Lippmannesque" humanism as the way of making the best of a bad job.

Now, humanists are, as a rule, superficially agnostic yet resolutely practice the good life as they see it, and do the best to bring that life to pass for other people as well. Many of them get considerable pleasure out of making fun of the sacred superstitions of the preceding generation and are doubtless a healthful influence in many ways.

But they know that they have to "get" if they are not to be "gotten," and while they don't like this kind of business any better than you or I, they don't know of anything practical to do about it. Therefore, the most decent of the well-educated, materialistic, accept some form of "Lippmannesque" humanism as the way of making the best of a bad job.

CROWDS ENJOY FINE EXHIBITS AT HOME SHOW

Model Dwelling's Equipment Wins Admiration of Visitors.

Home had a meaning all its own today and yesterday, if crowds that flocked to the annual Home Complete exposition in the Manufacturers' building at the fairground are a criterion.

Excellent weather brought droves of motorists to the exhibition. A continual round of "wish we had's" prefaced comparison of furnishings in the 1934 model home with the furnishings in the residences of the visitors.

Makers of gadgets and household time-savers found their exhibits jammed with householders seeking short cuts to home-making.

Tonight the Allied Florists, Inc., will distribute prizes to the winners of the garden competition. The home's interior was planned by Mrs. Eleanor Miller and Miss Betty Iles of L. S. Ayres & Co. Edward James, of the firm of Burns & James, architects, drew the plans.

Paintings of many artists which were hung at the recent showing of the Indian artists' exhibit are on display at the show.

The exposition will be open daily through Saturday.

CHINESE CHIEFS SPLIT ON PACT WITH JAPAN

Premier Sent for to Media's Quarrel With War Lords.

By United Press
NANCHANG, China, April 9.—Premier Wang Ching-wei was hastily summoned today to the conference of Chinese leaders at which an agreement regarding rapprochement in Sino-Japanese relations was expected to develop.

General Chiang Kai-shek, military leader of the Nationalist government, summoned the premier after heated dispute with General Huang Pu, political leader of the northern provinces.

Huang Pu reportedly offered his resignation but Chiang Kai-shek refused to accept it. Political observers considered Huang Pu decidedly pro-Japanese.

Meanwhile the situation in North China became more critical. Japan has demanded that through railway services be resumed between Peiping and Mukden and that the postal service between China and Manchukuo also be restored.

CLOTHING AND RADIOS STOLEN FROM HOMES

House Prowlers Also Get Jewelry, Pistol Cartridges.

Clothing, radios, pistol cartridges, and jewelry formed the major loot taken by house prowlers in a series of week-end burglaries.

The thefts include: William Steele, 1514 Spruce street, clothing, $22; William Stansbery, 557 West Maryland street, radio, valued at $35; Charles Walker, 1425 Shannon avenue, jewelry, $55; P. F. Goodrich, 4030 North Pennsylvania street, $25 cash, and pistol valued at $10; Ross Johnson, 48 West Thirty-sixth street, jewelry, worth $15 and $3 cash; Dr. Orville Smiley, 116 West Thirty-fifth street, pistol cartridges and ring valued at $15.

POLITICAL CARDS, GIRL SCOUT BOOKS STOLEN

Thieves Get Unique Loot in Parked Car Robberies.

Thieves are taking up Girl Scout and political cards, if police reports on thefts from parked cars are to be believed.

John Schaler, 2289 South Harland street, reported that 10,000 candidate cards and 1,000 windshield stickers were stolen from his car Saturday in the 500 block on West North street.

F. W. Schorn, 365 South Meridian street, reported the theft of clothing, supplies and Girl Scout books valued at $50 from his auto.

BOOK REQUEST GIVEN INDIANA U. LIBRARY

Medical Department Gets 50 Volumes from Dr. Heath Estate.

The library of the Indiana University School of Medicine has received a gift of fifty volumes from the medical library of the late Dr. Earl Heath, Advance.

The list includes texts of immediate value to medical students, recent editions which will be catalogued and placed in circulation at once, and many older works of historical importance which are new to the medical school library.

Legion Post to Meet
Hilton U. Brown Junior post, American Legion, will hold a luncheon meeting Tuesday noon on the seventh floor of the Board of Trade building.

SHADE CLEANING

Liquid cleaning process which cleans, re-sizes, refills and recolors window shades practically like new.

NEW SHADES

We make every kind of shade from the cheaper to the best guaranteed washable material. This, with Patterson service, NUFF SAID!

VENETIAN BLINDS

We manufacture both the residential and commercial types of blinds—Venetian Blinds in the home are extremely decorative, control light and ventilation, and add a distinctive charm of beauty and refinement.

Made to Order in Any Color Combination
LINOLEUMS
We specialize in Armstrong's linoleum and felt base floor coverings and have the newer spring patterns for your selection. Our laying service is by specialists who are equipped for high class service.

A Phone Call Brings Our Service to Your Door.
Patterson Shade Co.
Phone RI 1496 132 N. Delaware St.