

COUNTY VOTERS ARE LISTED BY ELECTION BOARD

Registration Compiled by Workers in Office of County Clerk.

Machinery installed by Marion county election commissioners to supply each party organization with the huge lists of registered voters as required by the new law is functioning perfectly, Glenn B. Ralston, county clerk and board member said today.

Just as soon as deputy checked lists, they are taken to the compiling room located on the fourth floor of the courthouse to be made a part of a permanent record.

Two addressograph machines recently purchased by the county and augmented by several others rented, have been operated twenty-four hours a day for more than a month, Mr. Ralston said. Women operate the keyboards in the day time with men making up two night shifts of eight hours each.

Voters are listed by the street addresses. After the name and address is imprinted on a metal plate, the plate is filed in a small drawer in large fireproof cabinets.

In case of error or change of address, the machine can blur the original stamping and make the plate ready for the new imprint.
Mr. Ralston says one plate can be used as many as seven times.

To print the lists the drawers filled with plates are placed on an automatic machine that prints off the plates as they are fed through the machine and dropped back into the drawer to be filed again.

HAYES IS 'INSOLENT,' CHARGES BROOKHART

Former Senator Challenges Legion Head's Statements.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Smith W. Brookhart, former Iowa senator, today charged Edward A. Hayes, national commander of the American Legion, with "insolence" and offered to school him in "regimentation."

Brookhart quoted the legion commander recently as saying:

"Smith W. Brookhart has represented the regeneration of American farming under the cooperative system. Such statements coming from a corner soap-boxer would be unimportant. Uttered by special adviser to the AAA they become dangerous and should be investigated as sedition."

Brookhart today replied: "As a member of the American Legion I challenge your right as its commander to put a false construction upon the acts of any member for political purposes. I challenge your insolent and automatic assumption as more dangerous and seditious than any public policy I have ever advocated."

FILM NOTABLES DEFEND BROWN IN LOVE SUIT

Stars Take Stand to Help Director Deny Story of Movie Extra.

By United Press

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—A glistening array of film notables fired a final broadside for the defense as trial of Marjorie Gay's $100,000 breach of promise suit against Harry Joe Brown neared the jury today.

Only final arguments of counsel were awaited after Arlene Judge Skeets Gallagher, Mrs. Hal Roach and others contributed their bit of testimony to aid the director's claims that he was not engaged to Miss Gay when he eloped with Sally Eilers last summer.

Miss Gay's counsel scored, however, by presenting as a surprise rebuttal witness, Betty Pagel, former secretary to Brown, who described "almost daily" telephone conversations with the blonde "bit player."

"Mr. Brown," Miss Pagel related,
"had me call Miss Gay for him almost every day during the period before he went to Europe."

It was on this European trip that Brown fell in love with Miss Eilers and later jilted her, Miss Gay alleges.

When the director left Los Angeles, Miss Gay accompanied him to the station, Miss Pagel said.

"Miss Gay put her arms about his neck and she cried and said, 'Oh Joe, I hate to see you go,'" the witness narrated. "It's the first time we've been separated," and Mr.
Brown said, "Don't cry, dear, I'll be back in three weeks."

Chic in gray and white, Miss Judge was the first called.

"I saw Mr. Brown and Miss Eilers together six times at parties last summer," she testified. "I never saw him with Marjorie Gay."

Mrs. Roach in a brief appearance on the stand corroborated this testimony. Gallagher then was introduced.

"Joe Brown brought Miss Eilers to our house when our baby was christened," the comedian said. "At two or three parties last summer I also met him. He always was with Sally Eilers last summer."

3 WAY ECONOMY IN Rollator refrigeration

- FOOD SAVINGS
- LONG LIFE SERVICE
- CHEAPER OPERATION

"Yes, Ruth, there is a temptation at first to buy expensive, showy things and do without practical household helps. But take my advice and let the luxuries wait. Buy things that save you energy and money. My Norge, for instance, helps me save money to buy other things, and there is nothing that I enjoy more."

Many owners have testified that they are saving up to $11 a month with their Norge. Preserving the freshness of quantity food purchases permits saving in food costs. The exclusive Norge Rollator cooling mechanism effects marked savings in operating costs. The sturdy, long-life construction of the Norge assures more years of service.
That's three-way economy. See the Norge.
