DEADLINE SET ON LABOR CODE

Employers Must Apply for Copies by Saturday, Hoke Warns.

Deadline for employers to apply for copies of labor provisions of codes for their industry is next Saturday, Fred Hoke, state NRA compliance director, announced today.

All employers have been ordered to post in a conspicuous place in their establishments a copy of wage and hour provisions of the code to which they are subject.

The purpose of this order is to inform employees of their rights under the code for the industry, and

He announced that a supply of application forms for code copies is on file in the Chamber of Commerce.

These forms should be filled out and returned to the proper code authority, or to the national recovery administration in Washington, Mr. Hoke said.
