employees, but now finds operations greatly disturbed by interference of outside organizations and agitators.

The statement adds "the governing committee of the Board of Trade heartily commends management of the mills for its stand to maintain its constitutional rights in conducting its business and for its resistance to interference by paid agitators and outside organizations."

It commended "loyal employees for protecting their own interests and right to work," and deprecated action of labor agitators in efforts to force professional unionism on unwilling employees or employers.

Girl Employees Warned

A statement to girl employees of the Real Silk mill, signed E. M. B. A., and instructing them what to do in event they should be molested by strikers, was issued under date of April 28. It states:

"Several girls who are under the influence of the strikers have been threatening some of our employees. If any girl or girls attack you or even threaten you, run into the first store, home or filling station, ask to use the phone. 'Dial O' and when the operator answers, ask for police station."

"Tell them that you have been attacked by some strikers and they will immediately have a squad car of police there within one minute's time. The above is only if you are threatened."

"If the strikers actually lay hands on you, then you should hold on to them and yell for help. Bystanders will come and help you out and then the thing to do is to hold them until you call for the police. They won't do much damage to any one because they realize the seriousness of such offenses. If two or three girls are arrested, it will stop the whole business."

Think 'Rough Stuff' Over

"Be sure to look carefully at the person so that you can identify them or if they happen to be in a car or if there is a car following you, call down the license number, we can locate the driver of the car and he in turn will have to tell who was in the car."

"We feel it is one of the functions of the E. M. B. A. to protect our people and this information is being given to you merely to help you, should any situation arise. Frankly, we think that most of the rough stuff is over because the strikers realize that the company will stop at nothing to protect its employees."

General strike disorder throughout the city marked the announcement of the government's compromise with officials of the Real Silk hosiery mills yesterday. Several sluggings and throwing of missiles

CHILD MOVIES ARE LAUDED BY CIVIC LEADERS

First of Show Series Will Open at Indiana Next Saturday.

Enthusiastic approval of the plan to establish a children's theater at the Indiana on Saturday mornings, as suggested in an editorial in Thursday's Times, already has been voiced by local persons. Although plans are only in a formative stage, M. D. Cohn, manager of the Indiana, has received statements commending the project from prominent city leaders. The first presentation will be next Saturday at 9 a. m.

"The idea of a downtown children's theater is a very worthwhile enterprise," Governor Paul V. McNutt said. "If careful thought is given to selecting the proper programs for children, the project should receive city-wide support from the citizens of Indianapolis."

Mayor Reginald Sullivan is pleased with the idea of enlarging the neighborhood idea of presenting a special show for children.

"I heartily endorse the Indiana Theater's project," he said.

Favored by Judge

Judge John Geckler of juvenile court, considers the plan a good one.

"I am in favor of the idea," he said. "It will be presented at a time not to interfere with school work, will be a diversion for the children, and very helpful."

"Pictures should be selected for children, and I am in hearty accord with the idea and willing to cooperate in any manner," said Dr. F. S. C. Wicks of All Souls church.

Other prominent leaders in Indianapolis approving of the plan are Dr. John G. Genson of the Methodist hospital, Mrs. Elsie Demmerly of the Indorsers' League, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bogart Schofield of the Civic theater.

Mrs. Harold Robinson of the Youth's Movie Association, through whose interest the movement was inaugurated in neighborhood theaters, expressed satisfaction that the scope of the movement would be enlarged.

Plan Is Indorsed

"The Youth's Movie Association has been experimenting during the last few weeks with a series of carefully selected motion picture programs for children in two neighborhood theaters," Mrs. Robinson explained.

"It has given parents an opportunity of supporting a movement which will insist upon the distinction between adult and children's entertainment. Until there is a widespread acceptance of this idea, no really significant results can be accomplished. Therefore, this association heartily indorses the plan about to be inaugurated at the Indiana."
