

TWO KILLED IN SHOOTING FRAY AT COAL MINE

State Troopers Rushed to Keystone Colliery to Catch Slayers.

By United Press
WILKES BARRE, Pa., May 4.—Two miners were killed and a third was wounded seriously in a shooting today at the Keystone Colliery of the Conolon Coal Company.

State troopers rushed to the anthracite mine, which is in a mountainous section.

First reports sent to state police barracks gave two versions of the slayings and shooting. One report said that a mine contractor went suddenly insane while working in a chamber underground and shot the three men. Another report was that a contractor shot the men while arguing with them in a wooded section near the mine.

State police sent out a teletype message for authorities to apprehend Anthony Philippini, 38, a mine contractor, who disappeared after the shooting. Philippini, authorities said, fled from the Keystone Colliery in a stolen automobile.

The teletype message said Philippini was "an armed fugitive" and urged caution in making an arrest.

COAL DEALERS HEAR ASSAULT ON NRA CRITICS

Purpose Is to Restore and Not Remake U. S., Says Code Member.

Critics of the NRA were scored yesterday by Gilbert W. Gambill, Terre Haute, before the Indiana Coal Merchants' Association in the Claypool.

Attacking those who criticized the NRA as "unconstitutional," he admonished the members to remember that "the Constitution was made for man and not man for the Constitution."

Mr. Gambill, a member of the Indiana coal code authority, declared that the purpose of the NRA is to "restore and not remake" the United States.

As experimentation in social and economic matters is a grave responsibility, he asserted, the Constitution must be regarded as something live and pliable which will provide congress power to remold economic structures.

"Framers of the Constitution," he said, "and members of the state legislatures that ratified it, never intended to deprive us of power to correct evils of unemployment and excess productive capacity that attended progress of the productive arts."

Milton E. Robinson, Chicago, member of the national code authority, declared that manufacturers who purchased coal, supposedly for use in their plants, and sold it to friends and employees below retail rates, were in direct disobedience to the code.

Resolutions favoring repeal of the present state gross income and sales tax were adopted.

ONE GALLON could lift a 500-ton locomotive
8 stories!

99 Million Foot-Pounds* Per Gallon

To lift 500 tons of solid steel 8 stories — there's a job calling for giant power! And giant power there is in the new powerful Sinclair H-C! A single gallon of this motor fuel actually could lift a 500-ton locomotive 8 stories — if its potential energy could be fully utilized*.

Get a tankful of the new H-C for your car today. Try it on the steepest hills. Note its smooth, knockless power. In traffic, note its quicker starts and faster pick-up. And as for mileage, we suggest that you keep an accurate record for 30 days.

Ask the Sinclair dealer for a folder which fully explains how one gallon of the new H-C could lift a 500-ton locomotive 8 stories.

*Foot-pound: The amount of work required to lift one pound one-foot. Due to friction and other losses no machine yet built can convert into useful work all the potential energy in any gasoline. Friction alone steals millions of foot-pounds of work from every gallon of gasoline you buy. To keep friction loss in your engine at a minimum be sure to use either Sinclair Opaline or Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil.
