

LUTZ DECLINES INVITATION TO NUDIST CAMP

Attorney-General Believes Exposing of Human Body Illegal.

Attorney General Philip Lutz Jr. still thinks nudism is illegal in Indiana, and he has no desire at all to visit a nudist camp.

The attorney-general made this amply plain today in a letter addressed to George H. Oliver, Warsaw, Ind., who is operating a nudist camp at Lake Webster, near Warsaw. Mr. Oliver had written inviting Mr. Lutz to visit the Lake Webster camp.

Mr. Lutz pointed out that he had instituted an injunction proceeding against a nudist camp in Newton county and added that nothing had developed since then to make him change his point of view.

"While we are glad to have you present your side of the controversy, we would not want you to construe this as favorable to operation of a nudist colony in your county," wrote Mr. Lutz.

"I believe the laws of this state prohibit exhibition of the human body in the nude where several people congregate as in a nudist colony and, if the courts will sustain me, I will call upon prosecuting attorneys and judges to aid in prohibiting nudist colonies until the legislature meets and legalizes their establishment and operation."

Mr. Lutz recently refused a similar invitation from Mrs. Alois Knapp, Chicago, promoter of a nudist camp at Roselawn, Newton county. A third camp exists at Lake-o-Wood, near Valparaiso.

JUDGE BAKER TO TALK

INSULL RETURN, DERBY ON VIEW IN TIMES REEL

Recent Events Are Shown On Screen, Described by McNamee.

The arrival in America of Samuel Insull, former utilities magnate, and his departure for Chicago to face charges of fraud growing out of the collapse of his industrial empire, is to be seen in the current issue of The Times Universal Newsreel. Graham McNamee, noted radio announcer and the screen's talking reporter, describes this and other events in the reel.

Arriving aboard the American export liner Exilona, the former financial wizard is greeted by a crowd of reporters and cameramen. He declines to be interviewed and appears unconcerned over the possibility of standing trial in Federal court.

Other events in the reel include scenes at Churchill Downs, Ky., as Cavalcade wins the sixtieth Kentucky Derby before a record crowd of 60,000; views in Leningrad, Russia, as 100,000 athletes compete in

Beware OF BLISTERS

Blister often lead to deadly streptococci infection, loss of limb, and worse. Be safe! SEAL-TEX bandage is waterproof, impervious, flexible, yet allows healing air circulation. SEAL-TEX sticks only to itself not to hair, skin or cloth—no painful pulling—removes like a glove! At all drug counters, 10c, 25c and 50c packages.
