

G. O. P. UNITED UNDER PARTY'S NEW CHAIRMAN

Leaders Pull Together in Mapping Program for Next Elections.

By United Press
CHICAGO, June 9.—The refurbished G. O. P. bandwagon, mired since 1932 in party disagreements, rolled along a new and smoother route today with its three principal committees pulling together under guidance of silver-haired Henry P. Fletcher.

Almost the first act of the party's new national chairman, elected Wednesday after western insurgents had been outmaneuvered and outvoted, was to obtain a new working agreement with the congressional campaign committee.

In a short conference with Representative Chester C. Bolton of Ohio, chairman of the committee, and Senator Daniel Hastings, chairman of the similar senatorial committee, Mr. Fletcher agreed that the two committees will co-operate in the fall campaign with the national committee.

Custom has been for congressmen and senators to fight their own individual battles, with the national organization supporting a loose general campaign.

Before returning to his home in Greenville, S. C., Mr. Fletcher asserted that the next national campaign will be based on "principles rather than personalities."

"Our party recognizes," he said, "that great changes in our social and economic organization have taken place since we became a nation; that new conditions require a broad, social outlook; that the complexity of the interests of our people, living as we do under a federal system of independent states, necessitates a high degree of centralized regulation and supervision."

He said it would be a party "duty" to focus attention on "the unsound measures which have been rushed through in Washington."

$10,000 SUIT IS FILED BY SARGENT'S WIDOW

Slain Man's Wife Asks Damages From Alleged Killer.

Suit for $10,000 damages for the death of Thomas Sargent, who died several weeks ago as result of injuries received in a brawl at a downtown restaurant, was filed today in superior court 4 by the widow, Mrs. Inez S. Sargent, against Frank C. Gardner, held on murder charges. The suit was prepared by Attorney Claude H. Anderson.

BUSINESS NEWS FOR THE WEEK

BEAUTY WORK OF HIGH TYPE DONE IN CITY

Roosevelt Building Shop Has Given More Than 50,000 Permanents.

There is a certain feeling of romance in the air when Old Sol spreads his heat during the summer and one is forced to every extreme in order to find a way to keep cool. Oftentimes, especially with women, the task of holding their attractiveness is difficult. There is one thing certain, however, as far as beautiful hair is concerned, all worry is eliminated if a woman visits the modern Beaute-Artes permanent wave establishment, 601 Roosevelt building. There she can have her hair arranged in any style fitting to her individual taste.

More than two years ago, following several months of research, the management of Beaute-Artes introduced a new permanent known as the French Tonic Live Steam permanent. Since that time more than 50,000 women have proved that nowhere else can one buy a permanent that possesses such luster and holds curl until the hair grows out completely.

The management, to place this service within the reach of every woman, has offered it at the low price of $1 complete, which includes shampoo and set.

Departments Supervised
Of course, there are many reasons why Beaute-Artes is recognized as the outstanding shop of the city.

More than forty skilled operators under the capable direction of Miss Netta Frost have been selected with the shop since its opening. Each one is an expert in her work and must have a diploma before starting work in the shop.

Miss Frost has made an extensive study of beauty culture, having graduated from the Marine school in Chicago and continuing her research in New York, Cincinnati and Indianapolis schools.

Because of the wide study made by the management of Beaute-Artes it is possible for the establishment to service more than 200 permanents a day. Offering the very best of care and service that is possible to be obtained, even surpassing the service sometimes found in the most exclusive shops.

Another outstanding feature is the departmental layout of the shop. Each division has a specialist supervisor to check on the service of every customer that she is receiving the very best of care, whether it be a shampoo, finger wave or permanent.

Hair Analysis Made
Seldom found in other shops but constantly employed by Beaute-Artes is a hair analyst. This service is offered without charge to all patrons to assist them in selecting the best type permanent. The present analyst spent several years studying in Hollywood.

Should you, during the summer months, as most women will, want to get a permanent or any beauty service get the best. Take advantage of all the features offered by Beaute-Artes. Seldom will you find such quality, service and courtesy combined in one place for one dollar. Especially is this true of the solutions used and new pads on every curl.

At least every Indianapolis woman has the privilege of going to this shop without any inconvenience as no appointment is necessary. Some women have traveled hundreds of miles to patronize the largest beauty shop of its kind in the middle west.

Store Painting Urged
Leading merchants point out that it is a good business proposition to keep store fronts renewed, signs freshened and interiors redecorated with frequent new coats of paint. Many towns and cities throughout the country have started civic movements of this kind, predicting stimulation of trade if suggestions are followed.

Fetes to Mark Birth of Historic Canadian City

Trois Rivières, Famous as Trading Post, Is Now 300 Years Old.

TROIS RIVIERES, Quebec, June 9.—Two months of fetes, pageants and celebrations this summer will mark the three-hundredth anniversary of this city, the second oldest in the province of Quebec. Trois Rivières is described in history as a home of early explorers, a French and Indian trading post, the center of the first iron forges in the province, and the spot where the first high tension electrical transmission system in the British empire was completed in 1895.

This celebration is of special interest to the United States because of the early French explorers who started or ended their voyages of discovery at this city. Joliet, Father Marquette, and Cavalier de la Salle rested here before voyages to the Mississippi valley and the exploration of the American middle west and northwest.

The discoverer of the Rocky Mountains, Pierre Gaultier de Varannes, Sieur de la Verandrye, is commemorated by a stone in the garden of the Anglican church marking the lot given him by the king of France.

Governors of states whose territories were first explored by the above named Frenchmen are being invited to the tercentennial. Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and South Dakota will be represented. The guest list also will include students from universities in the area discovered by the French, and officers of historical societies.

Shells Game Boards, such as checker, parchesi, and the like, will last much longer and be cleaner if given a coat of shellac. The surface can then be wiped clean without injury to the board itself.

RAILROAD OPENS EXHIBITS AT FAIR

Chicago & Northwestern Opens Locomotive Cab to Visitors.

By Times Special
CHICAGO, June 9.—Two exhibits are being maintained by the Chicago & Northwestern Railway at A Century of Progress exposition this summer. R. Thomson, passenger traffic manager of the road, announces. Northwestern park, located south of the Travel and Transport building on Leif Erickson drive, adds motion color and effective lighting to give it novelty for 1934.

The Class H locomotive No. 3010 will spend the first two weeks of the fair as part of "Wings of a Century," but will be moved into the park to remain there throughout the summer and fall.

In addition to the special effect lamps on the locomotive, which will give an illusion of rapid motion, the entire park has been newly landscaped. Visitors are allowed to go through the cab of the locomotive, where an engineer explains the workings of this giant engine.
