

Diners Like 'Catch Your Fish' Party

Event at Athletic Club Copied From Those on West Coast.

BY ELIZABETH CARR

THE fisherman couldn't get to the lakes, so the Indianapolis Athletic Club brought the fish to them.

The eagle eyes of the club sportsmen proved too much for the 200 fresh water fish imported from Lake Michigan last week to the club swimming pool for the novel "catch-your-own-fish-fry" Saturday night.

Some of the determined anglers, armed with poles, lines and bait succeeded in landing a catfish or a bass and even a carp, although they didn't prove so tasty. Many a struggle ensued, however, before the carp was landed unceremoniously in the club kitchen.

Less assured of their luck, or perhaps afraid of getting too near the water, several were content to select their dinner from the sidelines where tables were placed along the pool's edge.

No sooner did the diners select their victims, than the "retrievers," members of the club swimming team, were in the water on a merry chase for the fish.

Retrievers Busy

The pool of lively fish, with an occasional goldfish for color, the water bushes and rocks, the side-line tables and the white-coated waiters reminded one of the cosmopolitan coast clubs where westerners enjoy a fish from the hundreds brought from the nearby waters.

It was all Dick Papenuth's idea that the Indianapolis Club stage a similar party and to him goes the credit for the novel dinner.

Probably one of the proudest fishermen was Charles Brossman, after landing his nine and one-half pound catfish, and no one enjoyed his catch quite so much.

Sharing Mr. Brossman's success were Major and Mrs. W. W. Carr, Mr. and H. O. Moore, Mrs. J. T. Rother, Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frost Daggett and Mrs. Brossman.

Parties at Tables

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott were seated at a table, enjoying the evening's entertainment, and with them were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kottlemann, Mr. and Mrs. John MacLeod and Michael Duffey Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hamilton and their party seemed to be enjoying the fun. They were with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Holtgrens, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jarrett and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Fox.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stickney "looked on" and Mrs. Frederick E. Matson and her son, Frederick G. Matson, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fisher and several guests were among the diners.

Many of the diners stopped in the Venetian room to dance as guests of the Polar Bear Club, composed of swimming enthusiasts, thus climaxed their evening.

Aboard the SS. Transylvania when it sailed Saturday for Glasgow and Londonderry were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. O. Speers, Miss Grettie M. Speers and Adam D. Speers.

ROBERTA PEARSON WED AT CHURCH

Miss Roberta Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pearson, and Forrest D. Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Carroll, exchanged marriage vows Saturday at the Broadway Baptist church with the Rev. R. M. Dorrill officiating.

Miss Ruth Hutchins, harpist, and Miss Gilbert Fowler, organist, played bridal music and Mrs. Fowler sang. The matron of honor, Mrs. Frank A. Pearson, New York, wore peach lace with a jacket and a picture hat and carried Tailsman roses and delphinium.

The bride's gown of white lace was fashioned with flared skirt and was worn with a fitted jacket with a court train. She wore a two-tiered veil and carried Johanna Hill roses. Edward Pearson, brother of the bride, was best man, and Gene Fortner, Riley Fledderjohn, Harold Esamann and Gene Clinton were ushers.

The couple left on a wedding trip and will be at home July 1 at 2128 North Pennsylvania street.

Manners and Morals

BY JANE JORDAN

Are you trying to choose between two desires? Put your case before Jane Jordan who will help you decide intelligently instead of emotionally.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am a very much distressed girl of 16. I am crazy about a young man of 19. He says he is crazy about me, but if he really was, would he expect me to give in without marriage? The other day we were alone, and for the first time since I met him, he got fresh. I am so crazy about him that I could hardly say no. I am only afraid that after a few more times alone I won't say no at all. Do you think it is all right to give in to a certain extent, just so long as we don't go the limit? Or would you advise that I drop him for some one else?

SLIPPING. Answer—Our civilization is based on renunciation. It demands that much of the sex impulse be converted into other aims and that its actual biological role be deferred for many years. A large number of people believe that surrender before marriage is shocking and wicked, and the effect of this mass opinion can not be ignored.

You are by no means convinced that freedom in love is right. You are torn by a strong instinctive desire which part of you condemns. To give way to it would estrange you from yourself and generate uncomfortable feelings of guilt.

MISS CARROLL WED IN CHURCH SERVICE

The marriage of Miss Nora Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Carroll, to James Moylan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Moylan, took place Saturday morning at the Holy Cross church, the Rev. William F. Keefe officiating.

The bride's only attendant, her sister, Miss Agnes Carroll, Chicago, wore blue organza with pink accessories. The groom wore a tulle suit with a tulle veil and carried white roses, lilies-of-the-valley and gardenias.

SORORITY PARTY TO FETE PLEDGES

Beta chapter, Omega Phi Tau sorority, will give a progressive dinner tonight, in honor of pledges. The dinner will be at the homes of Mrs. Lawrence Gibson, Mrs. George Dickinson, Miss Rose McCarthy and Miss Betty Schneider.

Following the dinner pledges service will be held for Misses Ethel Cook, Helen Johnson, Catherine Spell, Evelyn Stringer and Margaret Stevens.

Club Luncheon Set

August Birthday Club will meet for luncheon tomorrow at the home of Mrs. L. J. Kaler, 1066 Eugene street. Mrs. E. R. Nesbit will be a special guest.

Lady Felt Stronger and Not So Restless After She Took Cardui

"Before I took Cardui," writes Mrs. G. W. Akin, of Somerset, Ky., "I would be so weak and nervous and could not rest at night. My back would ache so much. As soon as I began taking Cardui, I would rest better and feel so much stronger, and my back would stop hurting. I highly recommend Cardui to other ladies."... Thousands of women testify that Cardui relieves periodic pains and that by continued use of it for a reasonable length of time, their strength has been renewed and general health improved. Of course, if Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. Sold at drug stores.—Advertisement.

Four Become June Brides in One Day

Three Church Services Read; Other Rites at Nicodemus Home

Marriage services were read yesterday for Miss Helen Wilkinson, daughter of Charles L. Wilkinson, and Frank Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Mann; Miss Mary Kathryn Nicodemus and Oliver W. Snyder, Miss Martha Kenyon and Joseph C. Marsh and Miss Mary M. Kersey and Merritt M. Skinner.

Broadway Evangelical church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Wilkinson and Mr. Mann at 3:30. The Rev. L. E. Smith, Rochester, read the marriage vows before a palm and fern-banked altar lighted with fourteen-branch candelabra. Mrs. Albert Hirschman played bridal airs and accompanied Mrs. P. J. Billeter. Vernon Pryor was best man and ushers were Carl Alvin McLeer, Joseph Bryan and Paul Lambert.

Willma Lloyd Harker, Vincennes, was flower girl. She wore a ruffled peach organza frock with matching hat and carried a basket of rose petals. The matron of honor, Mrs. Carl Alvin McLeer, wore pink tulle with a matching turban and carried an arm bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Jean Mann, sister of the bridegroom, in apple green; Miss Maejeanne Harker, Vincennes, in orchid, and Mrs. Glenn Barker in yellow, were bridesmaids. Four gowns were fashioned of organza and were worn with wagon-wheel hats and taffeta dresses.

Bride Chooses Satin

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore bridal satin with a Queen Elizabeth jacket of lace. Her tulle veil fell from a cap beaded in seed pearls and she carried a shower of Killarney roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

A reception followed at the Wilkinson home. The Rev. H. T. Graham read the marriage service at 4 in the afternoon at the home of the bridegroom, 588 Middle drive, Woodruff Place, which was decorated with palms, ferns and daisies.

Miss Mary Margaret Strickie, pianist, played a bridal program. A reception for fifty guests followed the service.

Mr. Snyder, son of Mrs. Greenlee Snyder, Columbus, and his bride left on a wedding trip.

Miss Florence Rathert, maid of honor, wore green organza with a picture hat and carried Columbia roses and Mrs. Henry Brochhausen, matron of honor, was gowned in pink organza and carried Butterfly roses.

The bride wore white organza with a transparent hat and carried Bride's roses and baby breath. Mr. Brochhausen was best man. The couple will be at home after July 1 in Indianapolis.

Wed in Church Rite

Miss Kenyon, daughter of Mrs. William O. Kenyon, became the bride of Mr. Marsh at the Broadway Evangelical church with the Rev. Lloyd E. Smith, officiating. Miss Mary Kenyon and Gilbert Morrison were attendants. The couple left on a wedding trip and will be at home at 3510 North Meridian street, upon their return to Indianapolis.

Miss Kersey, niece of Dr. G. A. Coble, New Augusta, was married to Mr. Skinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Skinner, Plymouth, in the New Augusta Lutheran church. The Rev. Grady Davis read the service. Miss Emma Lee Todd was pianist. The bride was attended by Miss Stella Coble, maid of honor, who wore pink lace, and Misses Jean Skinner, Plymouth, and Lucile Bettie Sue Coble, Aurora, Ill., was flower girl, and Hufferd Hoham, Plymouth, was best man, and Robert E. Huffman and Clifford Cook, ushers.

A reception at Dr. Coble's home followed. The couple left by motor for Nashville, Tenn.

Arthur Hind's Stamps Being Sold in England

BY MRS. C. O. ROBINSON

Continuation of the spectacular sale of the late Arthur Hind's collection of stamps, which began in New York last November, is occurring in England. After the first sale of United States stamps in New York, the remainder of the collection was sold in a lot to a syndicate formed by F. M. J. Hind, Bradford, England, a nephew of Mr. Hind, and several of his friends.

This sale is considered to be the most sensational transaction in the entire history of philately. The intention of the syndicate is to spread the sale over a long period so that the stamps will be absorbed more easily and therefore bring better prices than at a forced sale.

The first auction was conducted in London on April 30, and included the stamps of Great Britain, the British colonies and British North America.

On May 7 the West Indies, including British Guiana, were sold with the exception of the rare 1-cent British Guiana which is owned by the former Mrs. Hind, now Mrs. E. Costa Scala. On May 28, Asia, British India and the Indian States were offered.

The mint block of twelve of the four Anna issues of 1854 brought $3,250, the highest price in this section. This block is half of a sheet of twenty-four with full decorated margin, very attractive with flowers in each corner. It went to A. E. De Sylva of Ceylon, who has bought some of the most important items in the sale.

On June 11 Africa, including Mauritius and the only known envelope bearing the famous postage office Mauritius, which catalogs for $27,500 off the envelope, were sold. The Australian group will be offered on July 2 and the European and other foreign collections will be sold throughout next season, to open late in September.

RAYMOND J. HINSHAW, corresponding secretary of the Indiana Stamp Club, reports two very interesting recent covers. One, here shown, is the first foreign cover sent from the Seth Parker house. It is postmarked, Port Au Prince, Haiti, and is franked with a 10 centime stamp picturing the Fort National.

The other is a first day cover of the Philippine stamps issued in honor of the tenth Far Eastern games. They were designed by a leading Filipino artist and show players on three values, 2, 6 and 16 centavos. They may be purchased at the Philatelic agency in Washington.

From O. M. Stevens, secretary of the Kokomo Indiana Stamp Club, comes the announcement that it will sponsor a cachet on July 4 in celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the day when Elwood Haynes made the first successful trial run in the first American-built automobile.

All covers should be regulation sized, stamped, addressed and sent to the club president, Rex Clingeneel, 923 North Indiana avenue, Kokomo.

As the covers are to be printed they should be sent as soon as possible. Mr. Stevens evidently is a precocious collector as the letterhead on his stationery shows two varieties of Kokomo precursors. This is a very subtle way of indicating his hobby as it is recognized by other collectors, yet to the uninitiated means merely the name of his home town.

FROM July 1 until June 30, 1935, the new migratory bird stamp will be affixed to all hunting licenses, to conform with the

HEADS DANCE

Miss Helen Frances Doerr, Sacred Heart high school alumnae will hold their annual dinner-dance tomorrow night in the hall with Miss Helen Frances Doerr, chairman.

Following her graduation tomorrow from Wellesley college, Wellesley, Mass., Miss Helen Elizabeth Borinstein will leave with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Borinstein, for Bermuda.

Mrs. Paul Biegler will return today from a visit in Cincinnati, O. Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Orblison and Miss Mary Elizabeth Johnson have returned from a two weeks' visit in Washington.

Guests at Ball Jointly Sponsored by 'First Lady' Show Favor to Chiffon

Fille Net Competed Closely Among Fabrics for Gowns; White and Pastel Colors Predominate.

BY HELEN LINDSAY

SUMMER fashions, with ruffles, sheer fabrics and white pastel colors, held the spotlight at the recent June ball at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, given by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst. The ball was for the benefit of unemployed girls, and in addition to being one of the outstanding events of the eastern social season, was proof that frills and other feminine details are accepted by modern women for evening wear.

The most popular choice of women attending the ball was white chiffon, with silk net a close second choice. Ruffles were pleated, fluted or flounced, but they appeared in quantities on many of the costumes seen.

Prints, plaids and pale pastel colors were worn, but in not nearly the numbers as were white gowns.

Pastel shades were seen in printed chiffons. Mrs. Robert McAdoo chose a dress of this fabric for her appearance. It was a pale leaf design of yellow and chartreuse, with a ruffled skirt back. With it she wore a shoulder capelet of chartreuse chiffon.

Another gown which drew particular attention was worn by one of the younger women. It was of white organza with a pattern of tiny printed stars in red, yellow and green. The hemline, armholes and simple V neckline were bordered with wide pleated ruffles, and the sash was of red and blue grosgrain ribbon, worn just below the bust.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who showed her preference for pink in costumes which she wore during the winter season, again appeared in a costume in this shade. It was a pale pink summer velvet gown, patterned in dots of the same color. The gown was a Milgrim model.

Toilet Sets of Spun Aluminum

SPUN aluminum, which was introduced within the last year in attractive luncheon and refreshment accessories, is shown at the William H. Block Company in toilet sets. Powder boxes, containers for perfume bottles, and other toilet accessory containers appear in the new collection.

Silver Jewelry Appears in Hollywood

FRANCES DRAKE, one of the younger Paramount stars, recently introduced a new fashion for beach wear, when she appeared at Malibu, Hollywood's fashionable seaside colony, wearing glistening jewelry. The accessories worn by Miss Drake were of hand wrought silver. She wore a wide bracelet, and a huge shield ring. Miss Drake was dressed in a sports costume of tailored plaid linen.

New Rubinstein Products Offered

TWO new aids to summer comfort and beauty are shown in the stores in Indianapolis, which present the products of Madame Helena Rubinstein. One is Water Lily Snow lotion, a preparation which is said to cool the skin ten degrees in ten seconds. It is a liquid, which is to be used under the makeup during the daytime. It is made in two tones, peachbloom and rachel. Madame Rubinstein suggests the use of this lotion to flappers of the no-stocking fashion.

The other new product is Sunproof cream. It is absorbed quickly by the skin and is intended as a protection against the sun and summer winds. Madame Rubinstein, in presenting these two new lotions, said that the next three months might age women's skins from five to ten years, unless they are protected with creams and lotions of this kind.

Bedsread Material Used for Coats

SPORT COATS, made of the fabric used for bedsreads, in the candlewick design, are shown in the L. S. Ayres sports shop. Dresses of the same material are shown with some of the coats. The design of one is of huge blocks of candlewicking in a bright color on a white background.

National President Attends St. Mary's Alumnae Meeting

Sixty alumnae of St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, attended the annual state luncheon Saturday at the Highland Golf and Country Club. Seated with Miss Frances Kottmann, president of the Indianapolis alumnae, were Mrs. John Esgegan, Ft. Wayne, president of the national alumnae of the college; Miss Marion McCandless, executive secretary of the alumnae; Miss Edith Bauerlein, treasurer of the alumnae association; Mrs. Helena Chamberlain, one of the oldest alumnae of the school; Miss Dorothy Sheil Duran and Miss Elinor Kirby, both of Indianapolis, and Miss Kathleen O'Dowd, Ft. Wayne, who were graduated from the college June 3.

Miss McCandless talked on alumnae problems and projects, and Miss Dorothy Ann Brown reviewed events in the undergraduate life of the college during the past year.

Out-of-town guests included: Misses Mary Virginia Rosenfeld, Catherine Ann Cooney, Margaret Bergan, Virginia Guthrie, and Mary Louise Wills, all of South Bend; Miss Katherine and Miss Helen Brazzill, Hammond; Miss Virginia Rust, Ft. Wayne; Mrs. Oscar K. Bohn Jr. and Miss Mary Margaret Link, Greensburg; Miss Katherine Mulholland, Anderson; Mrs. Gordon A. Thomas, Mrs. Carl Wagner, Misses Louise Dwyer, Mary Louise and Betty Neville, Eileen McEwan, Maxine Palma and Mary Emily Decker, all of Lafayette.

Misses McCandless, Cooney and Wills were house guests of Miss Keach. Miss Rosenfeld and Miss Bergan visited Miss Kottmann. Miss Virginia Bohn and Miss O'Dowd were house guests of Miss Brown.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Sherer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Z. Sherer, and Tino J. Poggiana, son of Joseph Poggiana, will take place at 10 Wednesday morning, July 4, in St. Peter and Paul cathedral.

Miss Sherer has chosen her sister, Miss Jane Sherer, as her maid of honor, and Francis J. McCarthy will be best man.

Mrs. Charles J. Spotts will entertain Friday night at her home, 5910 Julian avenue, for the bride-elect, and Mrs. Roy K. Coats and Mrs. Wilbur McCullough will entertain Saturday at the home of Mrs. Coats.

A party June 26 will be given with Mrs. Glenn Ralston entertaining at her home, 4402 Carrollton avenue. Guests will be entertained at a linen shower and bridge party. Mrs. Arnold Morgan entertained at her home in Brooklyn Saturday afternoon, honoring Miss Sherer. Mrs. John Coats assisted the hostess.
