

HOSIERY MILL LOSES EAGLE, CLOSES DOORS

Tennessee Town Divided on
NRA Action; Union Head
Kidnaped.

HARRIMAN, Tenn., June 28.—A star department of justice agent was on his way to this mill town today to investigate the kidnaping of a union official, newest flareup in the bitter controversy between the Harriman hosiery mill and the NRA.

Fred Held, vice-president of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers, was taken off a train by a mob near Harriman yesterday and released several hours later. He was threatened with death if he returns here.

Police Chief Creed Mabry said the kidnapers were employees who lost their jobs when the mill closed Monday because the NRA would not restore its Blue Eagle.

Star Agent on Way

William A. Rorer, one of the federal agents who captured George (Machine Gun) Kelly, was ordered here from Nashville.

Chattanooga, Mr. Held told a harrowing story of his experiences. During a wild automobile ride a gun was pressed in his side.

"If Hugh Johnson comes down here," one of the men told him, "we'll do the same to him that we're going to do to you."

A United Press correspondent toured Harriman today and found the town of 6,000 divided into two bitter groups, one pro NRA, the other anti-NRA.

Officials Are Determined

Officials of the Harriman Hosiery Company seemed determined to keep the mill closed rather than rehire fifty striking workers as the NRA demands. Their Blue Eagle was withdrawn, on the allegation that they violated the collective bargaining provision of the recovery act. Without a Blue Eagle, their customers evaporated.

The mill is Harriman's biggest industry and elimination of its payroll was a frightful blow to local business. Because of financial, family and social connection of the mill's officials, the town's leading citizens are on its side. This includes most of the merchants.

In the Blue Eagle camp are union labor, low wage workers, and ardent Democrats.

John Roland, 26, a nonunion man and the father of a baby, felt badly.

"Don't Know How I'll Live"

"I don't know how I'm going to live," he said. "I'm in debt for groceries and I owe house rent. I don't believe the government has been fair."

The correspondent found a man and woman standing inside the screen door of their department store.

"The mill closing has already ruined us," said the woman. "We have worked seventeen years at this store and look—there isn't a person in it."

Daily Dozen for Baby

Broken-Bones Infant Given Exercises in Attempt to Relax Legs From Bent Position.

DAILY exercises are being given Caroline Ruby Mercer, month-and-a-half-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Mercer, 1245 West New York street, born with more than fifty bones broken.

Each day the mother straightens the baby's legs in careful exercises, in an attempt to relax them from the bent position which they have maintained since removal from a wooden frame-work a week ago.

The broken legs were the most serious of more than fifty fractures which were revealed by X-rays taken three days after Caroline's birth at Methodist hospital. They have healed, but remain in a drawn-up position.

If the exercises Mrs. Mercer is giving the baby each day do not correct this, physicians in

SECRETARY WEEPS AS NOLAN URGES PRISON FOR BLACKMAILERS

Miss Mildred Gallagher, pretty secretary to Val Nolan, United States district attorney here, has emotions like anybody else.

It was too much for her yesterday when Mr. Nolan was demanding, in an impassioned speech, the maximum penalty of twenty years for Carlos McNeill and James Woods, Paragon, youthful and nattily dressed extortionists, who left college only last year.

She broke into tears and sobbed audibly, covering her face with her handkerchief, as Mr. Nolan waxed eloquent. She continued to sob while the boys were sentenced to five years each.

"Now, Miss Gallagher," Mr. Nolan chided facetiously when court was adjourned, "remember, you are an employee of the prosecutor's office and we can't have you siding in with the defense that way."

BANK OFFICIALS FAIL TO ENJOIN $2,000,000 SUIT

Federal Court Action by Trust Indenture Group
Will Continue.

An attempt by stockholders of the old Fletcher American National bank to enjoin in Marion county superior court the pressing of an action instituted in federal court, by trustees of a trust indenture, to collect $2,000,000 from the bank's directors, failed today.

The injunction was denied by Chalmers Schlosser, judge pro tem., despite pleas of the stockholders' attorneys that the federal action was a "friendly" one, designed to harass a $5,000,000 action against the same directors in the superior court.

The actions grew out of the relationship between the defunct bank and its affiliated corporations.

THAT TIRED "OFFICE" LOOK—

—and then he Smoked a Camel!

NEED ENERGY?

Here's the latest word from Science on increasing Vim and Energy..quickly!

Today we call attention again to important facts which were presented to smokers in a recent item in this paper.

Perhaps you overlooked it. We repeat: You can release new vigor, when tired, by smoking a Camel.

This comes from the "energizing effect" in

Camels as recently confirmed and described by a famous New York scientific laboratory. Everyone gets fatigued...crossed...down in the dumps...when his energy is used up. But the way to turn on more energy has now been pointed out, by actual Camel smokers who tell of their own experiences. And by up-to-date research made in the laboratories of science. And so—"get a lift with a Camel!" Any time you want to enjoy yourself or restore yourself. Steady smoking need not concern Camel smokers, since the finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS in Camels never get on your nerves.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.
