

POLITICS HELP I. U. DEAN TO N. E. A. BERTH

McNutt Aids Win in Bitter
Fight for National Education Post.

BY DANIEL M. KIDNEY
Times Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Election of Dean Henry Lester Smith of Indiana university as president of the National Education Association was being credited here today as another victory for good old Hoosier politics and in a sense another triumph for the McNutt organization.

For Dean Smith, who had held the post of treasurer, faced the most bitter fight in a decade and had to defeat three other strong contenders.

But the best political-educators in Indiana, most of whom now are a part of the regime of Governor Paul V. McNutt, were on hand to put Dean Smith across in the best convention technique—whether political party, American Legion or educational.

The list of these leaders includes:

McMurray Leads Fight

Floyd I. McMurray, McNutt-appointed state superintendent of public instruction; Robert B. Hougham, McNutt-appointed secretary of the Indiana teachers' retirement fund; Mrs. Margaret Afflis, Delphi, Second district, Democratic vice-chairman, township trustee and one of the trusted lieutenants of Pleas Greenlee, McNutt's patronage secretary; George G. Cole, former state school superintendent appointed by McNutt to be business manager of the Terre Haute Normal school, and Lemuel A. Pittinger, who retains the presidency of Ball State Teachers' college under the McNutt regime.

Then, there also was Donald DuShane, Columbus superintendent, who rates along with Secretary C. O. Williams of the Indiana State Teachers' Association in being able to manipulate convention affairs.

Mr. Williams, who arranged Governor McNutt's various educational speaking tours, likewise was on hand.

Dean Smith, who heads the department of education at Indiana university, where Governor McNutt was dean of the law school, also is a McNutt appointee. He is a member of the commission appointed by the Governor to study curriculum in the four state schools.

Heads 1,000,000 Teachers

So the battle for Dean Smith against Joseph H. Saunders, Newport News, Va.; Orville C. Pratt, Spokane, Wash., and William H. Holmes, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., proved to be a Hoosier political field day.

Many of the Indiana leaders' votes were ex-officio and after the dean was elected the teachers passed a resolution that ex-officio votes will not count at conventions in the future.

But the present belonged to Indiana. Dean Smith is president of a group which represents 1,000,000 teachers throughout the United States, Alaska and other territories.

Some 7,000 attended the convention here.

Federal Relief Official Urges City to Go After Tourist Trade.

By United Press

KEY WEST, Fla., July 7.—Key West, once the largest city in Florida, was in the hands of a receiver today, awaiting an economic re-organization operation designed to make it the "Bermuda of Florida."

Gradual slipping away of industries and army and navy bases has diverted so much revenue from the city and county that public officials threw up their hands, calling in state and federal "liquidators."

"The thing to do is to make Key West so attractive as to revive tourist trade and bring back lost prosperity," said Julius F. Stone, federal relief administrator for Florida.

CATTLE FROM DROUGHT AREA BROUGHT HERE

Slaughtering Under Federal Supervision to Start;
Poor Get Meat.

Plans for relief to farmers in drought-stricken areas are being rushed to completion here, Dr. Clarence L. Elliott, local agricultural department head, announced today.

An extensive slaughtering program will be carried on at the Indianapolis stock yards, in which more than 5,000 head of cattle from the stricken areas will be butchered.

Government officials have been ordered to supervise the program and make preparations to can the meat, Dr. Elliott said. The meat will be used for poor relief purposes.

As the recent drought ravaged grass lands and hay crops of the middle west, much of the cattle faced starvation until the government inaugurated its relief program, he declared.

Although Indiana's hay crop suffered severely from the sun's searching rays, cattle in this section as a whole was spared, Dr. Elliott said. Most of the cattle are being shipped here from the Dakotas, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Contracts have been let with Kingan & Co. and Armour & Co. to slaughter the cattle under government supervision.

MODERN PLANT PRODUCES BEST OF ICE CREAM

Jessup & Antrim Show Advance Since Day of Hand-Power Freezing.

"The continued high temperatures of the last few weeks has kept us in a hot state of affairs," according to officials of the Jessup & Antrim Ice Cream Company, 131 North Alabama street, manufacturer of Velvet ice cream. "A well-suited and popular remedy for the heat is smooth, well-flavored, pure ice cream."

Such a cream is Velvet. Many mothers send children to stores where only Velvet ice cream is sold.

One of the most essential of all foods, and typically American, ice cream always has been considered a delicacy. In bygone days it was a rare treat, made after much toil with a hand-turned freezer. Then the plant establishments began to make it in large quantities, developing machinery to replace obsolete methods, increasing its fineness and variety of flavors.

The Jessup & Antrim plant has modern equipment, an assurance to the public that it will receive the best in a variety of ice creams.
