

INDIANAPOLIS GOLFER'S

HOLE-IN-ONE

PRIZE CONTEST

Many very substantial rewards, in addition to honor, await the golfer first making a hole-in-one on a local course during the remainder of July. Indianapolis merchants have offered very generous prizes. Read each ad on this page to see what is offered. Every one of these prizes go to the winner of this Hole-in-One Contest. Read the rules.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. You must be a local amateur and play a regulation 18-hole round, with one or more opponents over a regular public or private golf course listed below, during the remainder of July.
2. If you make a hole-in-one, mark the particular hole on your score card, date and get the signatures of at least two witnesses. At the end of the round have your card attested by the club secretary or the official in charge of the course. Then bring your card to Dick Miller, Golf Editor of The Indianapolis Times. When the result of the contest has been published, you will be given an order on the different stores whose ads appear on this page for your prizes.

List of Courses Entered in the Contest

Hillcrest, Broadmoor, Coffin, Country Club, Highland, Meridian Hills, Pleasant Run, Riverside, Speedway, South Grove, Sarah Shank, Woodstock, Willowbrook.
