

SCORE DEAD IN STATE, IS TOLL OF HEAT WAVE

Martinsville Reports Acute Water Famine; Mercury Reaches 112.

More than a score of deaths in Indiana today was attributed to the excessive temperatures of the last five days. Water supplies are endangered and crops have suffered greatly.

A maximum official temperature of 112 was recorded in the state yesterday, with Westfield reporting that figure for the second successive day.

Lafayette reported 110, Columbus 108, South Bend 106, Rochester and Cambridge City 104, Paoli 103, Indianapolis and Evansville 102 and Vincennes 101.

Only in the extreme northeast portion of the state did the temperature fail to reach 100. Ft. Wayne and Angola reported 98 each.

The water shortage was most acute at Martinsville. Mayor Ralph Lowder appealed against sprinkling in the hope of maintaining sufficient water for household use and fire prevention.

New Albany reported a less serious water shortage. Many resort points said the lack of rainfall had created a severe fire hazard. The water line at Lake Manitou has receded twenty-six inches.

Livestock is suffering from the intense heat and lack of rainfall.

'NEW DILLINGER' KILLS POLICEMAN ON COAST

Two Suspects Are Arrested After Fatal Holdup.

By United Press
LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Policeman Russell A. Leidy, 32, was slain today by a young desperado who shouted "I'm the new Dillinger," as he fired at the officer and a holdup victim officer Leidy sought to aid.

Within thirty minutes, police arrested Paul McDonald, 24, and Harry Wilson, 20, whom they found hiding behind a house. Authorities said that the youths confessed and that McDonald named his companion as the gunman.

By United Press
THORSHAVN, Faroe Islands, July 24.—The Hamburg South America steamship Monte Rose, with 1,300 passengers and 300 in its crew, was refloated today after a day on the rocks.

It was towed to deep water by the Danish lightship Argus and divers were sent down to examine its hull.

The Tragic Anniversaries

JULY 24, 1914

Russia 'Mobilizes Partially'—in Secret; British Fleet Is Held Concentrated

Soldiers of Czarist Russia on the march.

IT'S July 24, 1914—and the gods of war are polishing their armor. . . . St. Petersburg, Morning—Russia, "defender of the Slavic peoples," learns of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia. In the afternoon the Russian general staff informs Premier Sazonov that a "partial mobilization" of troops is impossible technically and would disorganize a general mobilization, if required later.

Nevertheless, the council of ministers authorizes a partial mobilization, i. e., mobilization of troops in four districts, Kiev, Odessa, Moscow, and Kazan; and mobilization of Russia's two fleets, in the Baltic and Black seas.

London—Sir Edward Grey, British foreign minister, reads the Austrian ultimatum to the British cabinet, and the cabinet decides to "hold the fleet concentrated."

"It was under the impression produced by this warning (news of the fleet concentration)," writes Winston Churchill, then first lord of the admiralty, in his memoirs, "that the German emperor on his return to Berlin made vigorous efforts to bring Austria to reason and thus prevent war."

The British foreign office seeks to persuade Austria to extend the time of expiration of the ultimatum. So does France.

St. Petersburg, Night—Sazonov conceals the mobilization order from Russia's ally, France, by telling the French ambassador, Paleologue, that Russia has taken "no military measure." He does tell Paleologue that the ministers have decided to withdraw secretly 80,000,000 Russian roubles on deposit in German banks.

TOMORROW—Serbia mobilizes. . . . "Also doch"

BANKERS GIVE TESTIMONY IN VETERAN QUIZ

House Probers Seek Origin of Worthless Securities Sold Estates.

By United Press

MARION, Ind., July 24.—Origin of worthless securities which were sold to estates of incompetent war veterans was traced by a congressional committee here today investigating alleged maladministration by guardians.

Two witnesses were called today. They were Robert J. Spencer Jr., former president of the Grant Trust and Savings bank, which acted as guardian for some veterans in the local government hospital, and Harry Sellers, manager of the Marion Title and Loan Company, securities affiliate of the bank.

Approximately $300,000 was lost from estates of hospitalized veterans here because of the worthless securities, it is charged.

Robert J. Kiley, former cashier and treasurer of the defunct trust company, and Robert J. Spencer Sr., who preceded his son as president of the institution, testified before the committee yesterday.

Both denounced alleged dumping of worthless mortgage loans into the trust estates.

Mr. Kiley charged that the late J. W. Stephenson, president of the Grant Trust Company when it merged with the First National Bank of Marion, assumed dictatorial powers and was responsible for many of the investments.

The bank loaned the Superior Body Corporation of Marion $87,100 and held a mortgage totaling $75,000 on property with an appraised value of $8,400, Mr. Kiley testified.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Held without bail, Elmer Heuser, 35, Garfield park watchman, today awaited criminal court arraignment on a charge of first degree murder in the killing of Miss Garnet Bradley, 27, Richmond newspaper employee.

John Bush, 20, of 1117 Finley avenue, a companion of Heuser's, is held under $25,000 bond as an accessory to the alleged murder.

Miss Bradley was slain Saturday night while sitting on a park bench with George Hendrixson, 32, of 9338 Parker avenue, married bus driver.

POLICE SCHOOL TO BE STARTED AT FAIRGROUND

Feeney Wins Permission to Start Year-Round Training.

A year-round training school for Indiana state police will be established at the state fairground, it was announced today by A. G. Feeney, state safety director.

Mr. Feeney said he had broached the plan to Governor Paul V. McNutt and the Governor had approved the project. Co-operation of Lieutenant-Governor M. Clifford Townsend and the state fair board was obtained in getting use of one of the fairground buildings.

State policemen will be taken to the school in detachments for training duty and recruits will be required to spend an extensive training period there before admission to the force.

Mr. Feeney said that the building to be used has not yet been decided upon, but that several meet the department needs.

Policemen stationed at the school will be required to patrol the grounds. The numerous buildings there will afford an opportunity for training in surrounding hideouts of suspected criminals, use of tear gas and other fundamentals.

A large excavation in the grounds will be made into a pistol range and patrolmen will be required to make passing grades in marksmanship, Mr. Feeney said. Other training details will be worked out as soon as possible, the safety director asserted.
