

Vacations Take Many From City

Indiana Lakes and More
Distant Points Have Quotas.

BY BEATRICE BURGAN
Times Woman's Page Editor

WE contemplate vacations and short trips with greater calm as we relish a weather respite scarcely short of being perfect. We attend to the packing details with less languor, and we don't get in such a huff when we're crossed in our proceedings.

Miss Burgan

Mrs. William F. L. Lander, Jr., with her two children left this week for Hyanisport, Mass., to visit her father, Walter L. Lander, Jr. Mr. Lander will join his family later in the season.

Miss Katharine Brown and Mrs. Ma-lott White are on their way to Valley Ranch, N. M. After Mrs. Sylvester Johnson's return from Colorado she will leave to visit her sister, Mrs. Noble Dean, Harbor Springs, Mich. The three Johnson children and Mrs. Johnson will accompany her.

Mrs. Elsa Pantzer Haerle is entertaining her sister, Miss Margaret Pantzer, New York, who has come to be with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh O. Pantzer, Miss Gertrud Escher, who has been visiting Mrs. Haerle's aunt, Mrs. Louis Burkhardt, is attending the fair in Chicago before she sails for her home at Zurich, Switzerland, on Sept. 5. From Chicago she will go to Boston for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jameson are touring in California. Next week Wilbur D. Peat will be back in town after a vacation at Palisades Park, Mich., but Mrs. Peat and their two children will remain until the close of the season.

Frantz Family at Ranch

The Rev. and Mrs. George Arthur Frantz and daughter, Miss Elinor Frantz, are enjoying a vacation on a ranch near Estes Park, Colo.

Mrs. Daniel B. Luten and daughter Mary left Tuesday for Grand Haven, Mich., where they will remain for the remainder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Stickney and daughter, Miss Elinor Stickney, and Mrs. Fred Thomas are home after a vacation at Ephraim, Wis., where Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hahn arrived this week. Miss Martha Julian Coleman has been visiting a former classmate at Wells college, Miss Josephine Blake, at Schooley's Mountain, N. J.

Go to Lake Wawasee

Mrs. Rudolph Haerle with her children and her sister, Miss Helen Shepard and their mother, Mrs. Shepard, set out for Lake Wawasee Wednesday and expect Mr. Haerle to join them for the week-end. The Albert P. Smiths and son Charles joined the Lake Tippecanoe colony on Tuesday.

Richard K. Fowler, former student at the summer session of Culver Military Academy, went to the weekly academy dance Wednesday with J. William Wright Jr., and Maurice Moore as his guests. They visited Paul Krauss III at the lake for a few days.

A Day's Menu

Breakfast—

Chilled apple sauce, cereal cooked with raisins, cream, cinnamon toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—

Corn soufflé, tomato and celery salad, pumpernickel, plum granita, vanilla cookies.

Dinner—

Vegetable plate, rice custard pudding with cream, milk, coffee.

DENTAL SPECIALS

All Work Guaranteed 100% EXTRACTION No Pain Method Gas as Low as $1.50

Complete of All Teeth Plates Repaired Made like new for $1.50

PAINTS DENTISTS FILLING LOW as $1.50 BRIDGES LOW as $5.00

DR. FRIEDLAND 2nd Floor Lenox Bldg.

Beach Attire Shows Exotic Motif

These beach ensembles were created by Mainbocher, one in blue and white striped cotton, the other in a gay linen print. The suit at right has a knee-length coat to match.

William D. Pyle Takes Bride in Rite at Home

A wedding ceremony at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hedrick, 615 East Fifty-third street, was solemnized this afternoon for Miss Catherine Hedrick and William D. Pyle Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Pyle.

The Rev. Thomas R. White, Pendleton, read the service. Mrs. Charles W. Cook Jr., sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore Eleanor blue crepe with navy blue accessories.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore ecru lace with brown accessories. Both wore coronas of Talsman roses. Charles Cook was best man.

The couple left on a wedding trip and will be at home after Aug. 15 at 2111 North Delaware street. The bride attended Butler university, where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Paris Displays Evening Gowns of Demure Cut

By United Press

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Modest, demure, high-necked and long-sleeved dinner and evening gowns with small collars featuring Maggy Rouff's display of winter fashions today. No bare skin was in evidence, but the gowns were as tight-fitting and slithery as snakeskins.

Other Rouff models were more daring—slinky satins and gold and silver laces so tight that they must be slit to the knee like the old slit skirts to enable the wearer to walk. Coats were shown with round muffs like beach balls.

A novelty by Creed was wooden buttonholes with hooks of wood looping through them. Both Creed and Chanel make coats of steamer rugs.

Mirande slits the skirts of her evening gowns and then demurely fastens on trains. One unusual train begins at the nape of the neck in a ruffle round the throat and winding down to trail on the floor.

There are many new colors. Chanel won favor with dark prune and amethyst.

Worth shows—Boots pointed at the front with side lacings half way up the leg. Skirts slit above the knee for day and evening wear. Batter cake hats with whiskbroom feathers. Ostrich muffs and capes for evening. Bag pockets on cloth coats. Circus squins on afternoon, dinner and evening gowns with large bag pockets. Russian Cossack caps. Hair ornaments of stars and moons. Silver fish scale collars and cuffs.

Contract Bridge

Today's Contract Problem

This is the 14th of Henry P. Jaeger's playing problems. East has the contract for six spades. South opens the king of diamonds. Par on the hand is for declarer to make his contract.

♠ 6 4
♥ 7 6 3
♦ 10 9 7 4 2
♣ 7 2

♠ 9 8 5 4 2
♥ A 5
♦ 8 6 4
♣ 2

♠ 10 7 3
♥ K Q J 10
♦ K Q J
♣ Q J 9 5

Solution in next issue 27

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

BY W. E. M'KENNEY

Secretary American Bridge League

THIS is the thirteenth of a series of eighteen playing problems prepared by Henry P. Jaeger.

When playing a no-trump contract, and your opponents have been able to establish their suit—and now, when you are in the lead, your opponents start to discard that suit on your good suit, make up

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR PI BETA PHI

Mrs. Allan C. Raup, president of the Indianapolis Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi sorority, announced committee chairman for next year at a meeting held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Carl J. Fletcher.

Fall activities will begin at the meeting Sept. 8. Leading the committees will be Mrs. B. C. Lewis, settlement school; Mrs. Ellis B. Hall, membership; Mrs. Truman Hoover, magazine; Mrs. S. O. Brewer, program; Mrs. Fletcher, hospitality; Miss Anna Marie Dungan, rush; Mrs. Roy Lee Smith, telephone, and Miss Sara Elizabeth Miller, music.

Out-of-town guests at the Wednesday meeting were Mrs. Julius Caldwell, Toledo, and Mrs. Harry Trimble, Greencastle.

Reporting the national convention held recently at Yellowstone national park were Mrs. Robert Wild, assistant to the grand president; Mr. Jasper P. Scott, Delta province president; Mrs. Raup, Misses Helen Gearen, Jane Crowell and Frances Strong, from the Butler university chapter.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McCammon and daughter Betty have returned from Milwaukee and Chicago, where they attended A Century of Progress exposition.

Mrs. Edward Robert McKinley, Cleveland, O., with her daughter, Elizabeth Hereth McKinley, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Hereth.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Carey and family are vacationing at Lake Shetek.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Clark are in Chicago, visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. P. Williams and Mr. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert William Todd are visiting Mrs. Todd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Clifford Barrett, at their summer home at Burt lake, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Howell and daughter, Miss Eunice Mae Howell, will leave Sunday for Los Angeles, Cal., for a visit.

Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Jackson have returned from Owensboro, Ky. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Richter have returned from Chicago and Cedar Point, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Ramsay have returned from a trip to northern lakes and a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Ramsey Jr., Kalamazoo, Mich.

Shower Will Be Tendered Bride-Elect

Miss Leila Shipman to Be Entertained at Cochrane Home.

Yellow and orchid colors will appoint the bride party and crystal shower to be given tonight by Mrs. Marvin Cochrane and Miss Margaret Mozley at the home of the former, 713 East Fifty-fourth street.

The party will honor Miss Leila Shipman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shipman, whose marriage to Wallace Pickens Daggy, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Daggy, Sterling, Kan., will take place Aug. 18.

The gifts will be arranged around a silver shoe and miniature silver slippers will be given as favors. The hostesses will be assisted by Mrs. J. L. Mozley.

Guests with Miss Shipman and her mother will be Mesdames John S. Patton, Joseph Buck H. M. Barclay, A. H. Kristufek, Kurt Ehler, George Cross, Sylvan Mouser, Roger Horn, H. B. Hubbard, Fred Hoffmark, Herbert Murnan, Fred Hamerlin, Glenn Dutenhaver, John Cook, Thomas Woodard and Mrs. W. James Tinscher, Kansas City, Mo., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rockwell; Misses Constance Roache, Virginia Boyer, Elsie Gilkison, and Betty Martindale.

A Woman's Viewpoint

BY MRS. WALTER FERGUSON

WELL, the folks had a big time up in old Central City, Colo., the other night. The third annual festival was on, and once again Robert Edmond Jones won a dramatic triumph with his production of "Othello." The Rip Van Winkle city rouses itself, yawns and listens for a while to the tread of hurrying feet.

The only real survivors of its romantic past, however, are the old buildings. They are always the same. Walter Huston, with a consummate art, resurrected Shakespeare's jealousy in Moor, but all the efforts of those who love Old Central City will not be able to make it live again.

The abandoned buildings stare coldly at visitors. The eyes of the older natives are inimical above their smiles. Teller House, famous inn, into which Ulysses S. Grant once walked over a path paved with solid silver bricks, does not truly welcome us. Why should it? We are aliens and do not belong.

Old Central City is a mummy resting in the pocket of its protesting hills.

Never was I more certain that the restoration of abandoned houses, the repainting of old murals, the jingling of glasses over old bars, nor a plethora of tourists ever can revive a town whose day is done. It is the temper of the people which creates the atmosphere that is its life blood. Change this temper and all is changed.

Perhaps this is why the ancient village out of which has come 186 million in gold to enrich the United States will not disclose to us the secret of its being. We may visit it each year—as I hope we shall—but for that, we shall be strangers and interlopers there.

Everybody looked, of course, into the room where General Grant once slept. Be sure he never would have done so with a fine large evening gown on across the hall.

Perhaps we are a more remarkable people than they who used to step through those high ceilinged rooms, but we certainly don't carry our liquor so well.

Vivid remembrances of Central City are mine. The kindness of Mrs. Ida Kruse McFarlane and her brother, the shower of nose-gays flung upon the stage after the magnificent performance of a little lame girl hobbling, laughing, down a crooked street, and under my window in the early dawn the voice of three drunks, two men and a woman quarreling over who should drive the car. They say the Lord looks after fools and children so I suppose He took care of them.

Dear Jane Jordan—I have been having dates with a fellow, but they have been arranged by my girl friend. How can I get him to ask for his own dates? He seems to like me a lot but is quite bashful. We have had enough dates for him to ask me of his own accord.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Manners and Morals

BY JANE JORDAN

Jane Jordan will answer questions about love, friendship and marriage in this column daily. Put your troubles in a letter today!

Dear Jane Jordan—I have been going with a fellow for several months. He is 21, I am 18. But, oh boy, is he jealous! Every night that I am not with him he insists up and down that I have been out with someone else. I do not do this because I am going with this fellow steady. He says he cares for me, but still he doubts my word. Most of the time I look over his doubts, but sometimes it just gets my goat. I really do care for him. If I didn't I wouldn't put up with what I do. He is one of the nicest fellows I ever met. Why does he doubt my word? I don't lie and never did. Another thing I want to ask you is about petting. I never have done this until I met this fellow. I have heard so many sides to this question that I am not sure whether it is right or wrong. Please tell me. I WONDER.

Answer—Senseless jealousy is due to an acute lack of self-confidence. When the young man doubts your word without reason he degrades you and makes you appear dishonorable. The implication is that he feels pleasantly superior by contrast.

Jealousy is an indication of the desire to dominate. When it is indulged without rational grounds, we have a right to suspect the person of an infantile striving for the center of attention. He hangs on to the nursery pattern which makes the small boy the most important person in his mother's life.

Point out the underlying motives for his jealous behavior to the young man. If he shows no wish to put aside childish methods and strive for superiority in a legitimate way, you will save yourself endless trouble by turning your interest toward some one more worthy of it.

You can't say that petting is either right or wrong. It depends on the people involved and their reactions to it. Your own good taste is the best criterion. Repeated stimulus when control is required is not the part of good sense.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am 29 years old and going with a fellow 24. We both are very fond of each other. Every one says he looks as old as I do, and no one takes me for 29. He wants to get married, but I won't on account of our ages. Don't you think I am right? He says he would like to have a child even if I was older than I am, but I think the best thing to do is just to quit him. We have been going together for some time. Please tell me what to do.

Answer—I am wondering if the age of the young man is your sole reason for rejecting him. I do not think so. If you are a violent difference in ages where people are temperamentally compatible and genuinely interested in each other.

I have a feeling that you are concealing deeper disappointments on the part of your lover's age. A young lady really in love usually can't be reached by pointing out a small inequality in years. Of course, there is some basis for your argument. It does seem to be an advantage for a man to be as old as his wife.

Dear Jane Jordan—I have been having dates with a fellow, but they have been arranged by my girl friend. How can I get him to ask for his own dates? He seems to like me a lot but is quite bashful. We have had enough dates for him to ask me of his own accord.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.

Answer—You might help him out by cordially inviting him to call after you have had a pleasant evening. If he doesn't seize the opportunity, don't press the point. It is fine to encourage a bashful boy up to a certain point, but if you are too enthusiastic, it only scares him to death and he becomes more bashful than ever.