

JOSEPH W. BYRNS, TENNESSEE VETERAN, TOPS LIST IN WILD SCRAMBLE FOR SPEAKERSHIP

Party Floor Leader Faces Real Battle for Coveted Post; Rayburn, Bankhead Loom as Strong Foes.

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Times Special Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The sudden death of Speaker Henry T. Rainey will precipitate a scramble for the always coveted post he leaves vacant, long regarded as the second most important position in the government out-ranked only by the presidency in potential power.

In direct nominal line of succession is the veteran Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee, party floor leader, but his right to ascend to the speakership will be challenged by other ambitious leaders who soon will begin to advance their claims on the basis of their rank and service.

Democrats will choose their candidate, who automatically will be elected Speaker unless forecasts of Republican strength are all wrong, in a party caucus before the new congress assembles in January.

The Tennesseean's outstanding rivals will be Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, whose star has risen since he piloted the securities and stock exchange regulation bills through the house, and Representative William B. Bankhead of Alabama, chairman of the powerful rules committee, which can say "yes" or "no" on legislation, and long recognized as a force among house leaders.

These men are all southerners and will encounter, at the outset, the claims for larger representation by the new Democrats from the north and east, many swept into the house by the 1932 Roosevelt landslide, who have become increasingly restive over control of key posts and committees by the southern element.

It was a revolt of the northern and western bloc which elevated Mr. Rainey to the house leadership, from which he subsequently stepped into the speakership—a man who before that had gained a reputation as a "left-wing" Democrat at little recognition by the conservative southern regime in power.

Others Eye Post
So the younger and newer contingent of Democrats undoubtedly will put forward a candidate and, whether they elect a Speaker or not, will be able to gain a greater voice in house affairs by their way into party councils in the supernumerary positions.

Representative John O'Connor of New York was a candidate for Speaker two years ago and made a bid for northern and western support, but he could not swing the Tennessee delegation in the house under the leadership of Mr. Rainey, who was behind him and never was in the running.

Others who are regarded as likely candidates are Representative William W. Arnold of Illinois, who is secretary of the Democratic caucus, and Representative John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, a younger member of fairly liberal stripe, now chairman of the Nazi investigating committee.

Mr. Byrns, formerly chairman of the appropriations committee, was a candidate for speaker two years ago, but he entered a trade with the Rainey forces, whereby he swung his strength to the veteran Illinois member and became floor leader.

Roosevelt to Stay Out
This trade froze out Representative John McDuffie of Alabama, the other candidate for Speaker. Mr. McDuffie may enter the race again, but this is not regarded as likely if Mr. Bankhead becomes a candidate. The latter stepped aside for Mr. McDuffie two years ago because of Mr. McDuffie's aid in electing John Bankhead, the congressman's brother, to the senate.

Of the potential candidates, Mr. Byrns ranks in service. He has been in the house since 1909. Mr. Rayburn came here in 1913 and Mr. Bankhead in 1917 while his father, John Bankhead, still was in the senate. Mr. Rayburn was identified with the John N. Garner regime in the house, one of the Vice-President's trusted lieutenants when he was house floor leader and Speaker.

Attempts will be made to get White House support, but it hardly is likely that the President will become involved in the speakership contest.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly alert and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only make the bowels and a mere movement down! Get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

Peoples State Is First of Indianapolis Institutions to Be Accepted.

Procedure by which home owners may obtain loans from banks for remodeling houses was outlined today by Fred Hoke, federal housing administrator.

The Peoples State bank of Indianapolis is the first bank in Indiana to receive approval for insurance under the plan. The Indiana National bank of Indianapolis since has made application.

The banks will make loans to home-owners desiring to make repairs, and will be insured through the federal government up to 20 per cent of the total volume of the loan.

"Every effort will be made to give the householder 100 cents in value for every dollar he borrows," Fred Hoke said today.

A committee now is being formed here, through the efforts of the Construction League of Indiana. This committee will be composed of representative architects, designers, contractors and material men. It will pass upon estimates received by householders on repairs to be made, advising them if the estimates are reasonable and fair.

Made Through Banks

Loans are not made by the federal government, Mr. Hoke explained, but through banks, loan companies and building and loan associations. Many inquiries already have been received, both at Mr. Hoke's office and by local banks.

To facilitate the securing of loans Mr. Hoke has outlined the procedure necessary.

First, the applicant must call a reliable architect or builder, who will make an appraisal of the cost of the proposed improvement. Application then is made at a bank or building and loan association which has received the approval of the federal government.

This application should state the cost and nature of the improvement desired, with the name of the contractor or architect, and complete information which will enable the bank to check the applicant's character, credit rating and reputation.

Following this information, the bank will make an investigation, advising the applicant if the appraisal made by the contractor or architect is too high.

Loans for Three Years

Loans will be made for a maximum period of three years, under ordinary circumstances, or for five years, if the housing administration considers such a time limit advisable. The loan must be paid back at the rate of one-third each year, on a three-year loan.

A service charge up to $5 for each $100 each year will be made. In the event of a three-year loan being paid off in two years, the borrower is refunded one year's service charge.

Applicants seeking loans must have an income equal to five times the amount of the annual payment. On a loan of $600, the income of the borrower must be at least $1,000.

NATURAL GAS WELL IS FOUND

Heavy Output Is Assured for Sunnyside County Hospital.

A powerful natural gas well with an output of from 100,000 to 200,000 cubic feet daily now is in operation at the Marion county tuberculosis hospital at Sunnyside.

Bert Kinnaman, Fortville driller, struck gas Saturday after drilling 916 feet. Drilling began some weeks ago after Dr. William McQueen, hospital superintendent, learned that gas existed on the premises.

Desiring of replacing coal cooking stoves at the hospital with gas, Dr. McQueen conferred with the county commissioners and with Mr. Kinnaman, who contracted to drill with the provision that if no results were obtained, he would receive no pay. The contract also provided that if gas should be found, it must be a well producing at least 7,000 cubic feet daily.

LIGHTNING HITS RADIO ANTENNA, STARTING FIRE

Apartment Is Damaged by Flames; Occupant Dazed.

A freak bolt of lightning traveling down lead-in wires from a radio antenna started a fire of several hundred dollars damage in the apartment of Arthur M. Schumacher, 3630 North Meridian street, apartment 20, early yesterday.

Mr. Schumacher apparently was stunned by the bolt and did not awaken until the curtains in his bedroom were in flames. Plaster in the living and bedrooms was torn from the walls, panels in the in-door bed were split and a couch was damaged.

Across the corridor, Mr. Schumacher saw curtains in the apartment of Miss Frances B. Regester, statehouse employee, blazing. His and other apartment residents broke down the door and put out the fire. Miss Regester was out of the city.

The lightning melted the radio lead-in wire almost to the second floor, leaving a deep marking on the bricks on the north side of the building.
