

BULLET LODGED IN BRAIN FAILS TO HARM GIRL

4-Year-Old Romps, Plays
Despite Wound Which Is Usually Fatal.

By United Press
TOLEDO, Oct. 2.—Little Barbara Lamont awoke with a smile in St. Vincent's hospital today, called for her breakfast and ate with a gusto that belied the fact that for eleven days a bullet has been imbedded in her brain.

The amazement of medical men grew hourly as they watched the 4-year-old girl romp and play about the hospital corridors—seemingly suffering no ill effects from the slug which struck her just above the left temple, coursed through her skull and lodged at the base of the brain.

Dr. Wade Stone, attending physician, described the case as "very rare" and expressed amazement she was living at all.

"She appears perfectly normal," he said. "We may have to operate to remove the bullet, but on the other hand it may be lodged in bone and can be left there it is for the rest of her life."

The most puzzling point is that X-ray pictures show the bullet to be lodged in the brain which controls the respiratory system. Why the slug has not paralyzed the girl's breathing muscles is a mystery.

No one knew until long after her injury that Barbara had been shot. She fell unconscious while at play.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lamont, believed the wound over her temple had been caused by a broken bottle. The girl regained consciousness in the hospital, and remembered being knocked down.

Two days later physicians X-rayed the girl's skull and found the bullet, source of which has not been determined by police.

Two 18-year-old boys were arrested for questioning last night after they were found walking in the vicinity of the Lamont home with a .22-caliber rifle and a box of shells.

WILKES BARRE, Pa., Oct. 2.—Bobbie Edwards maintained a poker face today as the state used every legal maneuver to send him to the electric chair for the slaying of Freda McKee, his sweetheart. District Attorney Thomas M. Lewis announced he had twenty-two witnesses to prove the commonwealth's contention that Edwards "premeditated the murder" in order to be free to carry on a romance with Margaret Grain, East Aurora, N. Y., music teacher.

Starting straight, the 21-year-old Lothario did not blink an eye as he was described as a "dual lover" who planned to murder Freda, an expectant mother.

CAPITAL URGED TO SPUR CITY BUILDING BOON

Mayor Asks Private Funds to Match Federal Expenditure.

Urging private capital of Indianapolis to match the government's expenditure of $5,000,000 in building and road improvements in the city, Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan today asserted that the matching of federal funds would put "thousands to work."

At a meeting last night of members of the Knights of Columbus, the mayor described the possibilities of a great building boom in the city if private capital could be awakened.

The meeting, to raise funds for the Gibault home, Terre Haute, was addressed by Brother Rupert, C. S. C., director of the home for boys. William J. Mooney Sr. and Joseph A. Naughton, members of Gibault home commission, said funds raised in the drive would liquidate the indebtedness on the home.

Formal observance of Discovery day will be celebrated by the K. of C. council Monday night with a dance to be sponsored on Oct. 12 in the council's auditorium.
