

300,000 PRAY FOR PEACE AT HOLY CONGRESS

Midnight Mass Offered at Eucharistic Rite to End Chaco War.

By United Press
BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 12.—Three hundred thousand men knelt in the Plaza Mayo today and prayed in unison for peace and cessation of bloodshed among American republics.

The occasion was a midnight mass of the Eucharistic congress. In addition to those who knelt, there were 600,000 spectators massed in the plaza and in the seven streets leading to it.

The rally was for men and in the ranks were Pampas Gauchos and Indians from the Chaco jungles.

Hierarchy Takes Lead

Emphasis was placed on the efforts to arrange peace between Bolivia and Paraguay, fighting in the Chaco.

The Roman Catholic archbishops of the warring countries have taken the lead in peace work.

They were in frequent consultation with the archbishops of the ABCP powers—Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Peru.

In a speech at a dinner last night in honor of Cardinal Pacelli, papal legate, President Augustin P. Justo mentioned peace hopes when he said:

Cardinal Hopes for Peace
"May the light of Christ the King illuminate the American governments so that they will cease shedding the blood of their brothers. May your presence as the pope's legate foreshadow the realization of peace in America."

"I heartily echo the desire for peace felt by President Justo," responded the cardinal. "I firmly trust that the Eucharistic congress before it ends will bring the gift of peace to the whole American continent."

Progress in the effort to advance peace was understood to be slow and to be meeting with the same obstacles as were encountered by the League of Nations.

NOTED SURGEON AGAIN WILL TRY LUNG REMOVAL

His First Effort Only One Ever Successful; Patient Confident.

By United Press
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—Dr. Everts A. Graham, noted surgeon, will attempt to duplicate his feat of removing a lung—successful on only one previous occasion—when J. Gordon Maillot, prominent Houston (Tex.) insurance man, undergoes the operation in Barnes hospital here Monday.

The first successful removal of a lung was achieved by Dr. Graham last year when a Pittsburgh physician underwent the operation.

Mr. Maillot, who will enter the hospital tomorrow, expressed confidence in Dr. Graham. "I have so much confidence in Dr. Graham that I don't care how many times the operation has been performed," Mr. Maillot said. "I am very cheerful about it."

Mr. Maillot said he agreed to the operation when his ailment was diagnosed as a tumorous growth in the lung.

Last year, when the first complete removal of a lung was successful, Dr. Graham reported: "The operation opens a way to save many persons who otherwise would die."

The original operation was for the removal of a part of the lung affected by cancer. The cancer, however, extended considerably deeper than the diagnosis indicated and it was decided to remove the entire lung.

Seven ribs were removed to permit a collapse of the section of the chest to fill the cavity. Six months after the operation the patient reported that he had gained sixteen pounds and virtually was cured completely.
