

FESS SWAMPED BY DONAHEY IN OHIO LANDSLIDE

Bitterest of Roosevelt's Critics Routed by Democrat.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—Senator Simon D. Fess (Rep.), one of the bitterest of congressional opponents of the New Deal, was swamped in the Democratic landslide. His Democratic opponent, former Governor Vic Donahey, won a large and increasing plurality. The vote for 4,007 of the state's 8,559 precincts gave Donahey a lead of 155,460. The vote, Donahey, 518,592; Fess, 363,032. Martin L. Davey, Democrat, was swept into the Governorship by a margin of more than 57,963 votes. Returns from 7,980 of the state's 8,559 precincts showed Davey, 1,015,521; Clarence J. Brown (Rep.), 957,558.

Landslide in Illinois

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Illinois voters approved the Democratic New Deal yesterday with an avalanche of ballots which increased the state's Democratic representation in congress by at least three seats and carried virtually the entire state ticket to office. The Democratic victory was achieved on a clearly drawn issue of national administration policies. The outpouring of voters, 2,600,000 of them, was the greatest in an off-year election in Illinois history. Democratic candidates for representative-at-large, about whom the fiercest battle raged, won hands down over Republican opponents. Democratic candidates for congress displaced at least three of the state's eight incumbent Republicans, while possibly losing one district in which a Democrat now sits. Results in three districts, including the Tenth, home of Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, were in doubt. Tabulations early today assured the Democrats of twenty-one seats to six Republicans.

New Dealers Triumph

SEVER, Colo., Nov. 7.—Democrats swept to an overwhelming victory in Colorado, losing only one important state office, returns indicated early today. Governor Edwin C. Johnson (Dem.), apparently re-elected by a margin perhaps reaching 40,000 votes, and the state's four Democratic congressmen were swept into office by heavy majorities. Republicans conceded defeat in every contest except that for state treasurer, in which the Republican candidate held a margin of about 2,000 votes. The count for governor in 631 of the state's 1,509 precincts gave: Johnson, 93,208; Nate C. Warren, (Rep.), 67,881.

Wyoming Democrats Win

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 7.—Democrats swept the Wyoming election without the loss of a single important office. Returns from more than half the state's 660 precincts indicated early today. With the count complete from 384 precincts the vote stood: For Senator—Joseph C. O'Mahoney, (Dem.), 22,409; Vincent Carter, (Rep.), 17,776. For Representative in Congress—Paul R. Grever, (Dem.), 22,012; Charles Winter, (Rep.), 15,469. For Governor—Leslie Miller, (Dem.), 18,427; A. M. Clark (Rep.), 13,198. Repeat forces appeared to be carrying by about 3 to 1 the proposal to repeal the state constitutional amendment which held the state legally dry.

Cutting Gains on Chavez

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 7.—The political dynasty of Senator Bronson Cutting swayed but refused to topple today as Republican strongholds in New Mexico reported votes which narrowed the gap between Cutting, seeking re-election, and his Democratic opponent, Representative Dennis Chavez. An early tabulation showed Senator Cutting was trailing Mr. Chavez by only 468 votes, although the Democrat's majority in previous returns had reached the 2,000 mark. The count in 375 of the state's 738 precincts gave: Cutting, 43,942; Chavez, 44,410. Carl Hatch, Democratic senatorial incumbent, was assured of election over R. C. Dillon, his Republican opponent for the short term. All other Democratic candidates likewise piled up large majorities. With slightly more than half the precincts of the state still to be reported, outcome of the Cutting-Chavez race was highly uncertain. Both parties claimed victory, but most political observers believed late reports would bring victory to the progressive Cutting. Clyde Tingley, Democrat, was a sure winner over Jaffa Miller, Republican, in the gubernatorial race, and Maurice Miera, Republican, was defeated by John J. Dempsey, Democrat, in the race in congress.

Pittman Is Re-elected

RENO, Nev., Nov. 7.—Richard Korman, former Reno banker and a Democrat, today was elected governor of Nevada. His Republican opponent, Morley Griswold, conceded defeat on the basis of reports from 201 of the state's 245 precincts which gave Korman 7,992 and Griswold 5,370. Key Pittman, (Dem.), veteran silver advocate in the senate, defeated his opponent in the senatorial race in which the tabulations gave Pittman 9,869 and Malone 5,197.

Democrats Pile Up Lead

SEATTLE, Nov. 7.—The New Deal piled up a big lead over Republican opposition today, as Washington elected a Democratic senator and apparently re-elected six Democratic congressmen. Lewis B. Schwellenbach, former head of the University of Washington board of regents, captured a margin of 37,084 votes over Reno Odlin, Republican.

To arrive at the 1932 estimates, The Times has based its revision on the official secretary of state vote totals and rearranged them under the new ward outline.

Oregon Picks New Dealer

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—Oregon voters apparently proved that state and not New Deal issues were paramount in yesterday's election by choosing a Democratic governor and two Republican congressmen. The result of a third congressional race remained in doubt. Major-General Charles H. Martin, retired, former military governor of Panama Canal Zone, who was sent to congress from the Third Oregon district two years ago, was elected governor. Martin, a staunch New Dealer, won over Joe E. Dunne, veteran Republican state legislator. Dunne campaigned against the administration recovery plans.

Berry Is in Lead

PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 7.—Governor Thomas Berry (Dem.), apparently was headed for re-election today over William C. Allen (Rep.). Early returns showed a substantial majority in favor of repeal of the state prohibition law. The two congressional seats at state were won by Democrats.

La Follette Brothers Win

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 7.—Wisconsin's Democratic state administration, first in forty years, bowed in complete defeat today before the new Progressive party headed by the La Follette brothers. The new party, formerly a faction within Republican ranks, re-elected Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr.; returned his brother, Philip F. La Follette, to the Governor's chair in place of Governor Albert G. Schmedeman, captured all the other state offices, and increased its strength in congress in yesterday's election. Returns from 2,364 of 2,914 precincts gave, for Governor: Schmedeman (D.), 267,632; Phil La Follette (Prog.), 284,357; Howard T. Greene (R.), 132,197, and Nelson (D.), 32,572. For senator: 2,338 precincts gave John M. Callahan (D.), 165,022; Bob La Follette (Prog.), 327,835; Chapple (R.), 154,793; James Sheehan (D.), 35,196. Progressives gained at least one seat over their former representation in congress, and possibly more.

Senator King Winner

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 7.—Senator William H. King, Democratic dean of Utah legislators, and two fellow Democrats in the national house of representatives, won a sweeping victory over Republican opponents in yesterday's election. Returns, virtually complete, from 774 of Utah's 801 precincts, gave: King (Dem.), 54,689; Don B. Colton (Rep.), 44,801.

Mrs. Langer Losing

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 7.—Thomas Moodie, Democratic newspaper editor, was piling up nearly a 2 to 1 majority over Mrs. Lydia Cady Langer, wife of North Dakota's deposed Governor, in tabulations of returns today. Lynn J. Frazier, Republican senatorial incumbent, held a lead in scattered precincts over Henry Holt (Dem.), and Alfred S. Dale (F.-L.) In the congressional contests with two to be elected, William Lemke (Rep.), and Gus F. Lamb (Dem.), were leading Usher L. Burdick (Rep.), W. D. Lynch, (Dem.), and W. F. Sinclair, (Ind.).

Ritchie Boosts Lead

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—Governor Albert C. Ritchie, (Dem.), seeking his fifth term of office and an

HOUSE CONTROL BY DEMOCRATS SEEMS CERTAIN

New Dealers' Strength in Off-Year Elections Comes As Surprise.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Democratic control of the next house of representatives by a two-thirds majority was the indicated result today of congressional elections in forty-seven states. The resounding vote of confidence in New Deal house candidates was a body blow to Republican hopes of gaining sixty to seventy seats in the off-year election, which almost invariably has shown an anti-administration drift. Republicans picked up seats here and there, but a net gain of twenty-five appeared to be the maximum they could hope for when all returns were in. The average gain for "outs" in the off-year contests has been forty-nine.

Democrats retained a fighting chance early today of holding losses to less than ten, and an outside chance of actually retaining their present strength of 309. A total of 290 Democratic house members would give the White House a two-thirds majority, able under pressure to railroad through vital New Deal legislation. Republicans failed to puncture Democratic lineups in Massachusetts, Colorado, New Hampshire, New York, West Virginia, South Dakota and a scattering of other states. They picked up Democratic seats, however, in Indiana, Michigan, Delaware and Kansas on the basis of incomplete returns.

Democrats surprised by winning two Republican seats in Connecticut and three in Pennsylvania. They showed amazing strength in Illinois. Representative Fred Britten (Rep.) was one Illinois casualty. Representative Oscar De Priest (Rep.), Negro congressman, was defeated by a Democrat of his own race. In Pennsylvania Representative Louis T. McFadden, arch-critic of President Hoover whom he moved to impeach three times, lost out to a Democrat. Thus the casualty list ran. Representative J. J. Lanzetta (Dem.), who defeated Fiorella La Guardia, present New York mayor, in 1932, was defeated. Professor C. M. Bakewell, Yale professor, failed of re-election in the at-large contest in Connecticut. Mrs. Kathryn McCarthy (Dem., Kan.) was another trailing.

American record for gubernatorial service, held a slight lead today over Harry W. Nice, Baltimore, his Republican opponent. Ritchie led Nice by 14,000 votes, with 636 of the state's 1,380 precincts reporting. The vote was: Ritchie, 304,094; Nice, 29,934. George W. Radcliffe, personal friend of President Roosevelt, was the apparent winner over Joseph I. France, (Rep.). He replaces Phillips L. Goldsborough, (Rep.), who did not contest his senate seat. All of Maryland's Democratic congressional delegation appeared certain of election with the possible exception of Representative David J. Lewis, house labor committee chairman. The senate vote was: Radcliffe, 106,164; France, 68,794.

Curtley Is Winner

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—James M. Curley, veteran Democratic campaigner and "original" Roosevelt man of Massachusetts, was elected governor in yesterday's state election by a plurality expected to exceed 100,000. United States Senator David I. Walsh (Dem.) was re-elected for a fourth term by a plurality which may reach 300,000. Indications were that Walsh's vote would approximate 500,000, the largest ever polled by any candidate in Massachusetts. All but one of Massachusetts' congressmen—ten Republicans and five Democrats—appeared to have been re-elected. The apparent exception was Congressman Robert Luce (Rep.), whose defeat by Richard M. Russell (Dem.) by about 3,000 votes was indicated.

Cross Is Re-elected

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 7.—Democrats elected a United States senator, four congressmen and re-elected Governor Wilbur L. Cross on the basis of incomplete returns today. United States Senator—Maloney (Dem.), 233,285; Walcott (Rep.), 194,207, in returns from 136 of 169 towns.

Republican Is Elected

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 7.—H. Styles Bridges (R.) was elected Governor of New Hampshire by a margin of less than 10,000 votes in yesterday's balloting, virtually complete returns showed today. Returns from all but twenty-three of the 294 towns and wards gave Bridges 75,892 and John L. Sullivan (Dem.) 66,717. Congressman William L. Rogers (Dem.) was re-elected with a majority of 5,000 over Arthur B. Jenks (Rep.) and Congressman Charles W. Tobey (Rep.) was elected with a majority of 8,000 over Harry B. Metcalf (Dem.).

Jersey Elects Moore

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 7.—Democrats won a seat in the United States senate today on the basis of virtually complete returns but lost control of the state government. With only some 500 of 3,488 districts missing, Governor A. Harry Moore (Dem.) had a safe lead of 88,308 votes over Senator Hamilton F. Keen (Rep.), incumbent; 658,253 to 469,950. Harold G. Hoffman (Rep.), apparently had won the race for the governorship, leading 20,065 votes over William L. Dill (Dem.). The vote was 592,551 to 572,486.

G. O. P. Takes Michigan

DETROIT, Nov. 7.—Frank D. Fitzgerald, who had been candidate for secretary of state two years ago was the only survivor on the Republican state ticket, today led his party back
