

WALLACE URGES ADJUSTMENT IN FARM PROGRAM

Warns Grange Against Move to Lift Restrictions on Production.

By United Press

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 20.—Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, warned the national grange convention today that a powerful drive would be made in congress to remove all restrictions on agricultural production.

The hope of getting agriculture its fair share in the national income is doomed, Mr. Wallace said, if advocates of unlimited production succeed in their legislative fight.

Mr. Wallace said an adjustment rather than a reduction program, however, has become a "new necessity" and that he considered it would be a "healthy thing" to re-examine in congress this winter the "bases of the whole agricultural adjustment program."

"Sincere idealists and certain business groups interested in volume," he said, "are uniting in urging unbridled production. Resolutely they refuse to admit that surpluses by wrecking prices, can destroy farmers without contributing one iota to feeding and clothing the needy."

Asserting that agriculture "can not survive in a capitalistic society as a philanthropic enterprise" he warned that if the instinct to produce "is to be the sole basis of agriculture, then the hope of getting agriculture its fair share in the national income is doomed."

Pledges 'Decent' Homes

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, pledged the administration's aid today in providing "decent" homes for farm families and "a higher education for those who ought to have it, irrespective of their economic status."

Declaring "nothing can beat the shameful conditions" under which some American farmers live, Mr. Hopkins told the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities that the national agricultural problem could not be solved without settling the problem "of the people that have been identified with the land."

"There's not a chance in the world of those people finding a place in modern industry," he said.

New Deal plans for decentralization of industry, Mr. Hopkins continued, will afford an opportunity for poor farmers to earn part of their income "outside of the land itself."

Richberg Hits Inflation

By United Press

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 20.—Donald R. Richberg, recovery co-ordinator, reiterated here before a meeting of the southeastern development board that the government is prepared to withdraw from emergency activities as fast as private business can take over the load.

He attacked inflation as a recovery device.

Mr. Richberg, speaking last night, declared that it would be "suicidal folly" to abandon the New Deal and allow nature to take "its ruthless course."
