Ohio State Coach Names Purvis as Ace

Schmidt Picks Duane Over Gopher Star

In a copyright article written for NEA Service and The Times, coach Francis Schmidt of Ohio State university selects two all-Big Ten teams. In his first team back field Schmidt names Beynon, Illinois, quarter back; Lund, Minnesota, left half; Heekin, Ohio State, right half, and Purvis, Purdue, full back.

Schmidt comments: "Duane Purvis, Boilermaker half back, is placed at full back, and I feel positive that his selection will meet with almost unanimous approval. The Purdue star was an all-America last year, and those who name him again will not be far wrong."

"Purvis is named ahead of Stan Kostka of Minnesota on this all-Big Ten team because he was outstanding in Purdue's courageous comeback in the Big Ten after two nonconference defeats when he was bothered by an injured ankle. Purvis is the finest Purdue back since Pest Welch."

OTHER first members selected by coach Schmidt are: Ward, Michigan, and Larson, Minnesota, ends; Foster, Iowa, and Gaibrecht, Illinois tackles; Monahan, Ohio State, and Bevan Minnesota guards; Jones, Ohio State, center.

Schmidt's all-Big Ten second team lineup: Tenner, Minnesota, and Wendt, Ohio State, ends; Austin, Michigan, and Hamrick, Ohio State, tackles; Kawa, Northwestern, and Dennis, Illinois, guards; Patterson, Chicago, center; Seidel, Minnesota, quarter; Lindberg, Illinois, and Berwanger, Chicago, half backs; Kostka, Minnesota, full back.

This column conductor thinks Jim Carter, Indianapolis, running mate of Purvis at Purdue, belongs somewhere on any all-star group. Anyway, we are glad to publish coach Schmidt's Big Ten selections. He has accomplished a marvelous job at Ohio State and has built a wonder machine in his first year at the helm of the Buckeyes."

INDIANAPOLIS baseball fans will regret the passing to another club of Frank Sigafos, but the change was necessary because Frank does not happen to fit into the infield set-up required by Manager Red Killefer. Sigafos has been traded to Columbus in exchange for Mickey Heath, first baseman. Perry stadium rooters hope Sigafos regains the batting prowess he displayed in 1933, but only when he is pastime for the Red Birds against clubs other than Indianapolis.

Sigafos is a credit to baseball and always has been a high class member of the profession. He has many friends among players, managers, owners and fans. Stirring times were produced by Sigafos at Perry stadium in 1933 when he was engaged in a batting streak that lasted through thirty-nine consecutive games, establishing a new mark for the American Association. Frank hit around .400 practically the entire campaign, but in 1934 he was not the slugging Frank of the season previous. The "old eye" may come back next year. Sigafos is making his home here this winter.

A sign of returning confidence: The Kentucky Derby next May 4 at Churchill Downs will be run for a purse of $40,000. The purse last May was $30,000 and during the boom years it was $50,000.

SOME Butler university followers are thinking of recommending a Butler "B" for coach Pete Vaughn of Wabash for stopping the De Pauw winning streak. Butler and Wabash played "nuthin' to nuthin'" and Wabash edged out De Pauw. Butler and De Pauw are not on speaking terms in football.

Butler Champs Honored at Annual Grid Banquet

Bob Newhall Delivers Main Address of Evening; Governor McNutt Attends Event Held at H. A. C.

By DICK MILLER

The powerful grip that sports games, particularly football, hold on the American citizenship and the effect it had in breaking near mutiny within the ranks of the A.E.F. soldiers in France immediately after the armistice was signed in 1918, were pictured to more than 500 fans and friends of Butler university in a banquet at the Hoosier Athletic Club last night.

The speaker was Bob Newhall, well-known radio sports announcer, who used as his authority none other than a letter from Colonel Wait C. Johnson, athletic officer of the A.E.F. and now stationed near Columbus, O.

The occasion last night was the Blue Key fraternity banquet given annually for the Butler football team and coaches and made unusually festive this year because Butler gridders with a thrilling victory last Saturday over Valparaiso, 12-7, while Wabash was defeated De Pauw, 7-6, captured the 1934 state secondary college football championship.

Coaches Are Applauded

Coaches of three 1934 Butler opponents—McPhee of Ball State, Roy Tillotson, Franklin, and Alonso Goldsberry, Wabash, were roundly cheered, particularly Goldsberry, proof, as toastmaster Hitch put it, that Butler well appreciated Wabash's victory over De Pauw.

Regrets of inability to attend were read from Raymond Neal, De Pauw; Robert Vaughan, head coach at Wabash; Carl Burt, Manchester, J. M. Christiansen, Valparaiso; Wally Marks, Indiana State; Sewell Carden, Central Normal; Jimmy Conzelman, Washington, St. Louis; Noble Kizer, Purdue; Bo McMillin, Indiana, and Al Feeney, state safety director, who is ill.

Laymon Named Captain

Kermit Bunnell, Indianapolis, recently named honorary captain of the 1934 team by squad members, and Clarence Laymon, Logansport, elected to lead the 1935 by team members at the banquet, were introduced.

Professor Henry Schatz, chairman of the faculty athletic board, read the list of varsity and freshman letter and numerical awards.

Amidst thunderous applause Paul D. (Tony) Hinkle, head grid coach, and his assistant, Wally Middleworth, who directed Butler to a first-year comeback under a "new deal," were introduced.

Hinkle declared thirteen to be lucky for him because it was his thirteenth season at Butler. He was generous in his praise of the boys and the way they liked to play.

INDIANS COMPLETE TWO BIG PLAYER DEALS

Tribe Lands Bluege, Thomas and Gallivan; Washington Is Sold to Chicago White Sox

Phil Weinert and Dudley Lee Are Traded to Saints for Pitcher After Two Pastimers and Cash Are Obtained for Hoosier Slugger.

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Correspondent

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 22.—Manager Wade Killefer of the Indianapolis American Association club is one of the most active delegates at the big minor league baseball convention here and last night and today completed player deals that will make other A. A. clubs stop living.

Killefer's latest move was to trade pitcher Phil Weinert, southpaw, and shortstop Dudley Lee to St. Paul for Myles Thomas, righthander. Weinert and Lee were excess baggage on the Hoosier roster, whereas Thomas is expected to add strength to the Indianapolis mound staff.

Thomas won twelve games and lost fourteen with the Saints last season, which is a good record for a low second division team. His "earned run" record was 3.99 and he finished well up among the A. A. hurlers in this respect. Moreover, it is said he was especially effective against Indianapolis.

$20,000 Reported Involved

Manager Killefer completed another important deal last night when he sold outfielder Vernon (George) Washington to the Chicago White Sox for cash and players. The sum of cash involved is said to be $20,000.

After disposing of Washington in exchange for third baseman Billy Sullivan and pitcher Phil Gallivan, the Indianapolis pilot then swapped Sullivan for shortstop Otto Bluege of the St. Paul A. A. club. Sullivan was out on option with Milwaukee last season. Gallivan is a right-handed pitcher and is a six-footer weighing about 190. He is 26 years old.

Washington batted .367 with Indianapolis this year. The White Sox drafted him from the Hoosiers early in the fall, but the draft was canceled by Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, when Indianapolis pointed out that its big slugger was ineligible to be taken in that way.

He had not played the required years in the minors to permit the big leaguers to pick him out of the grab bag.

Sox Outbid Others

Once before the White Sox bought Washington when he was in the Texas League and lost out when the outfielder refused to report. The Sox outbid Brooklyn and Detroit last night when the Dodgers and Tigers were unable to deliver players satisfactory to Indianapolis.

Manager Killefer of the Hoosiers started his player trading early. On Tuesday he sent Frank Sigafos, reserve infielder, to Columbus in exchange for Mickey Heath, first baseman.

A drive for championship by the Chicago Cubs was expected today to be the next big development of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. The Cubs made the biggest deal of the opening day and were negotiating today in two more directions. The Cubs want action. Most of the other major league clubs can't make up their minds.

Cubs Secure Carleton

In last night's deal the Cubs obtained James O. (Tex) Carleton, right-handed pitcher, from the St. Louis Cardinals. They gave up exchange pitchers Bud Timm and Dick Ward and some cash.

The Cubs have offered pitcher Guy Bush and outfielder Babe Herman to Pittsburgh for pitcher Larry French and outfielder Freddie Lindstrom, an even swap, no cash involved.

The Pirate crew, from manager Pie Traynor up and down, has been weighing the deal for twelve hours but still was undecided about it today. They promised to give their decision to manager Charlie Grimm of the Cubs tonight.

Negotiations have been opened by the Cubs with the Boston Braves for either pitcher Ed Brant, a southpaw, or pitcher Fred Frankhouse, a right-hander.

The four foreigners probably will be entered in the Millrose A. A. games at Madison Square Garden, Feb. 2; Boston A. A., Feb. 9; New York A. C. at the Garden, Feb. 16, and the American indoor championships at the Garden, Feb. 23.

Hanover Eleven Loses Guenther

Star Center May Miss Last Two Games.

By Times Special

HANOVER, Ind., Nov. 22.—The Hanover college football team today faced its last two games of the season without services of its star center, Guenther, who suffered an ankle injury. He will be replaced by Bozner or Ritter.

The Panthers had been strong favorites to defeat the Georgetown team. The team was won by the latter team, captained by a former Butler coach, Potsy Clark. Fifty thousand doughboys who watched the game became orderly at the sport event.

22 Awarded Letters

As a closing event, Governor Paul V. McNutt arrived and pleaded he was on a spot. First, to follow such a remark, as Bob Newhall was too tough assignment, he said. Second, as a graduate of Indiana university, he was unaccustomed to attending championship football banquets. The remark was all in fun, however.

The following members of the Butler squad were awarded letters:

Yankees Nose Out Nippon Nine Again

By United Press

YANKEES, Nov. 22.—Steve Harter announced today the professional show and wrestling for the Indianapolis Athletic Club stag party Monday night in the club gym. Two bouts of four rounds each, a forty-minute limit grappling match, and a "battle royal" are on the program.

Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, will referee.

Three amateur boxing bouts and one wrestling match will precede the professional show. A dinner, beginning at 6:30, will precede the athletic program.

BOXING GYM OPEN

The English Avenue Boys' Club has installed new training equipment in the club gym, and announces that the gym is available to amateur boxers wishing to train for the city and Golden Gloves tournaments.

For information, see Johnnie Dobbs tomorrow night at the club, located at the intersection of English Avenue and Laurel street.
